Several GRUBBS were early settlers in OHIO. In 1797 a Jacob Grubb + George Skidmore settled on the west bank of Scioto near present-day Columbus. Zanesfield area was settled largely by Quakers of N.C. + VA; here they organized Goshen Monthly Meeting in a log house; runaway Negroes trying to escape slavery found a safe refuge here in 1840/50. Also to come to Zane Twp. were other Culpeper, Va. settlers, including tanner Daniel Garwood, the Methodist Inskip brothers, + Quaker blacksmith - preacher Antrim. Levi Inskip's son Lycurgis married Viola Grubbs. A Wm. A Skidmore, b. 1778 Bedford Co., Va., died 1854 in Logan Co's Perry Twp.; he was son of Joshua Skidmore + Shady Grubbs married in Campbell, Va. 1796; they had 5 children born in Va ~~but~~ who married in Logan Co, Oh. Joshua + Shady's 7th child, Elizabeth Skidmore mar. Chris Grubbs, (son of Wm. Grubb of Va.) b. 2/19/1804 in Culpeper Va. This Chris Sr. was J.P. + known both in Logan + Union Co Oh. as "Old Squire Kiffey Grubb," ardent Abolitionist + Universalist; his wife Elizabeth was Free Will Bapt. Chris + Elizabeth's last 2 of 6 sons were Chris jr + Benjamin Grubb. This Benjamin of Middleburg also enlisted in the Civil War, in Co. C, 17th Oh. Vol. on 25 Aug. 1861, + fought at Shiloh, + with Gen. Sherman in the Atlanta campaign. He was discharged July 1865 as Sgt-Major; married 1st Mary Norvall in 1866: issue 2 - Sarah + Clark. He may have had a sister and/or aunt named Atlanta. Marrying 2nd Hester Good, this Benjamin Grubb left Union Co, Oh. 1882 for a Ks. farm near Topeka, but sold it after 17 years + returned to Oh. to live in Lewisburg, Champaign Co.

Our Benj. C. Grubbs' widow, 43 year old Cynthia Ann Gregg Grubb, in 1863 applied for a widow's military pension as she had 6 minors under 16 to raise - Josephine, John W., Cynthia A., Mattie, Florence, and Benj. F. pension amounted to $8.- per month. In 1868 this increased to $14.- per month for the 3 minors still with her. Civil War records show that upon her marriage to John Fleming on Oct. 29, 1868 at Marysville, Oh. she surrendered this pension to her 34 year old son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger (husband of Amanda Grubb), also a Civil War soldier in the 96th Oh. Infantry who had agreed to serve as guardian of Benj. C.'s 3 minors who were entitled to their father's pension. Their mother, Cynthia Ann, now Mrs. John Fleming, removed to Greenwood Co., Ks. where she died 4 Feb., 1892 in the home of her daughter Florence Matilda Smith of Eureka. Her oldest son William H. "Billy" Grubb (b. 8 Oct. 184 also lived in Greenwood Co, Utopia, from 1885. his only war disability was a finger shot off his right hand. William H. "Billy" Grubb + his wife Martha "Mattie" Green Grubb were my great-grandparents. Grandma Mattie L. Grubb died in May 1938 when I was 14; She lived 1 block North of us in the 1100 block of Oak St., Eureka, Ks. She died in the Eureka home of her daughter, Maud Bell Donaldson. Great-Aunt Maud lived to be 100 (d. 1991), + was the family matriarch who tied us to Grubb stories of the past.

* NOTE: various records - county histories, etc. - show some inconsistences in the Grubb-Grubbs listing of numerous issue.

RE. BENJAMIN C. GRUBB (1817-63)
OF OHIO.

Researched notes from the files of
Gladys Dodd
9153 Yarrow Street • 1414
Westminster, CO 80021

9/11/2009

In 1986 in my GRUBB chronicles I noted — "The parents of Benjamin C. Grubb [1817-63] are not known at this writing. In addition to Benj. C. there were 6 other Grubb-Grubbs family heads living in Union Co. & adjacent Logan Co., Oh. census of 1840, 1850, 1860. Relationship is likely but not proved" — p. 6 of DODD ROOTS: Dodd, Johnson, Green, Grubb, Goldsberry" — distributed in whole or in part to family members.

Since then I've made a more careful study of the GRUBB name in Ohio census, histories of Logan, Union & Champaign counties of Oh., & military records. Ergo, I've ruled out some conjectures in the earlier chronicle:—
1. Benj. C. Grubb's father is not Rev. War soldier Peter Grubb of Lancaster, Pa. who was in Wash. Co, Oh. 1803; he died 1830 in Oh.(2 His parents were not Mary & Andrew Grubb, 1819 deacon of Logan Co. Tharp's Run Bapt. Church in Jeff. Twp.;
also here resided Daniel Grubb (b. 1780/90) at farm survey #6447, s. of Zanesfield.

I now believe Benj. C.'s father may have been a Logan Co. Grubb, for in 1840 a Benj. Grubb age 20/30 lived here with wife 20/30 & 1 female child under 5. Our Benj. C. was known to live in Zane Twp. in 1840 as his first daughter Mary Eliza was born in Zane Twp. - Feb. 1840. Four other Grubb heads of households lived in Logan Co 1840 — Daniel & Jesse in Jeff Twp; Christopher in Perry; & William & Levi in Zane. One Grubb - Abraham - lived in adjacent Union Co; also in Union Co. was a William Gregg of Marysville. he was our Cynthia Ann Gregg's ~~[illegible]~~ father; she married Benj. C. Grubb in Marysville, 23 Je., 1837. Most of their children were born in nearby Jerome Twp.,
Union Co. - including my great-grandfather William H. "Billy" Grubb, b. 8 Oct. 1844.
According to mustering officers record, our Benj. C., age 43, enlisted in CO. E, 30th Oh. Infantry on 13 Aug. 1862 - in the same company wherein his 17 year old son Wm. H. "Billy" had earlier enlisted 19 Aug. 1861. The Adjutant General's Office reports show father & son engaged in battles of South Mountain & Antietam in Maryland, Sept. 1862. Benj. C. died 9 May, 1863 in the line of duty during the seige of Vicksburg, Miss. at a Young Points, La. hospital.
In 1986 I went to Vicksburg, located his grave marker in the National Military Cemetery & photographed it. It is located Sec. D, # 1743.

Also living in Zane Twp. in Logan Co. 1840 in addition to our Benj. C. was another Grubb 60/70 with 2 unnamed sons 20/30, plus 2 children 15/20. This William Grubb's occupation is reported as Agric. & Mfg. Our Benj. C. of the same Twp & year was also in Mfg. A Logan Co. history tells us that land owned by a William & Levi Grubb was sold by them to lay out the village of Middleburg in 1832. William was proprietor of a local tavern [inn]. The Twp's leading industry was maple sugar processing; however a chair factory operated in this 1840's village. (Did Benj. C. learn his trade "chair maker" here?) 39 Grubbs have been buried in Logan Co's Zane Twp. from 1848 on.
I believe our Benj. C. may have been son of this William Grubb (1778-1848) born in VA. 20 Aug. 1778, who came to Oh. 1806. Sons born to him include Chris (b. 2/19/1804, Culpeper, Va.) Abraham, Levi, & Benjamin (b. 1817, Oh.).

married Margaret Hollingshead, of the town of Pemberton, Shelby Co., O., and William, who married in Iowa; John Goodlove was born in Clarke Co., O., Nov. 2, 1825, and married Margaret E. Staples, who was born July 1, 1831. She was the daughter of Captain William F. Staples, who was lost at sea in 1838. The death of John Goodlove occurred at Quincy, in Logan Co., in 1856, and he was buried in the cemetery at that place. His widow married D. H. McKinnon, then of Logan Co., O., now of Clay Co., Ill. On this family line comes Dr. William M. Goodlove, born Oct. 15, 1846, in Clarke Co., O., near Springfield, and also near Pleasant Hill Church, where all the deceased relatives of the late John Goodlove are interred. At the age of 15 years, Dr. William M. Goodlove enlisted as a soldier in the 57th O. V. I., and served to the close of the war in the 15th Army Corps, under Gen. John A. Logan, "Sherman's Army," and was discharged at Little Rock, Ark. In the fall of 1865 Dr. Goodlove entered the University of Ann Arbor, Michigan, took a regular course of education at that institution, and in 1868 entered the Medical College of Ohio, at Cincinnati, and took a progressive course, graduating in 1868, and commencing the practice of medicine in the town of Montra, Shelby Co., O. He became a member of the State Medical Society during its session at Toledo, in 1874, and also of the National Medical Society, held at Detroit, Mich., in the same year. On May 23, 1869, Doctor William M. Goodlove married Miss Mary L. LeFevre, daughter of Elias and Henrietta LeFevre, of Shelby Co., O. She was the sister of Gen. Benjamin LeFevre, member of Congress from the 5th Congressional District of Ohio; Jan. 1, 1876, he removed to Rushsylvania and commenced the practice of medicine at that place, and, as might be expected from his diplomas, his library and his experience, his field of labor enlarges, his practice extends. In preparing himself for his profession, he has patronized leading seats of learning in each department. Cool and deliberate in method, close in application, and determined in purpose, he moves to the music of progress. His family are Charles Willis, born March 7, in St. Henry's, Mercer Co., O.; Benjamin Franklin, born March 22, 1871, in Lewistown, Logan Co.; Laura Hellen, born Dec. 20, 1873, and died Sept. 2, 1878, and was buried in the cemetery at Rushsylvania; Covert, born Nov. 28, 1879, in Rushsylvania, Logan Co., O.

JACOB GRABIEL, farmer; P. O., Rushsylvania. John Grabiel, who was the father of John Grabiel and the grandfather of John and Jacob Grabiel, came from Shenandoah Co., Va., in 1814. John Grabiel, the father of Jacob Grabiel, was born in Shenandoah Co., Va., in 1786, and married Mary Haas; daughter of John Haas, of that county, and in 1812 left Virginia and came to Licking Co., O. Jacob Grabiel, the third son of John Grabiel, was born Jan. 12, 1820, in Licking Co. On the 14th day of February, 1855, Jacob married Mary Jane Westlake, daughter of Zephaniah Westlake, and Isabella, his wife, of Union Co., O. Zephaniah was the third son of Samuel and Elizabeth Westlake, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Reid, who was born in New Jersey, of Irish parentage. Mary Jane, now Mrs. Grabiel, was born Aug. 31, 1831, in Union Co., O. Samuel was the son of George and Mercy Westlake, whose maiden name was Welland; born in England. George and Mercy Westlake were the great-grandparents of the aforementioned Westlakes. Isabella Westlake, daughter of William and Mary Gregg, born in Kentucky, June 3, 1818, and whose maiden name was Mary Goldsberry; married Zephaniah Westlake, Nov. 12, 1829. Mrs. Gregg was the daughter of John and Sally Goldsberry (Miss Sally Potts, of Philadelphia, Pa.). In 1846 Jacob Grabiel came, in company with his brother John, to Logan Co., and purchased, in partnership, the lands where they now reside, and for three years boarded with George Ansley, when they made arrangements to keep "bachelor's hall" together, which felicitous plan they followed for two years, Jacob acting in the capacity of cook, until, satisfied with this stupid programme, married and set up in life on a higher plane, and has the following family: Ellwood Lawrence, born March 5, 1856, and married Nannie Early Jan. 21, 1879; Gilbert C., born March 22, 1858, now in Kansas; Zephaniah Orland, born April 20, 1860; Reuben Ellsworth, born July 13, 1863; Joseph Gordon, born Feb. 26, 1866; Virgil Leon, born April 16, 1868; Calvin Jeffers, born Oct. 17, 1871. THE SANTEE BRANCH

by

Claude M. Oliver, 405 E. State, Pendleton, IN 46064

The original spelling of the name in England was GOLDSBOROUGH. After migrating to the United States, and settling in Maryland, the name was changed to GOLDSBERRY.

From Maryland, many migrated to Ross County, Ohio (Chillicothe is the County Seat). This is where this Goldsberry Family History is centered.

home and then began the study of medicine in the office of his half-brother, Dr. Joel B. Taylor, at Broadway, in Union county, at the same time becoming engaged as a clerk in a drug store at that place, and was thus engaged for nine years, at the end of which time he decided to take up veterinary surgery, the profession to which his father had devoted his life, and with that end in view entered the Ontario Veterinary College at Toronto, and after a course of two years' study there entered the Grand Rapids Veterinary College, at Grand Rapids, Michigan, from which he was graduated in 1904, with the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Surgery. Thus admirably qualified for the practice of his profession, Doctor Taylor opened an office at North Lewisburg in that same year and has ever since been engaged in practice there, his professional duties taking him through three counties, his field of operations extending into the neighboring counties of Logan and Union, as well as widely throughout Champaign county, where he has an extensive practice.

In 1901, Dr. T. L. Taylor was united in marriage to Arie Harrington, a daughter of Lorenzo Harrington and wife, and to this union two children have been born, Bernard and Ruth. Doctor and Mrs. Taylor have a pleasant home at North Lewisburg and take a proper part in the general social activities of their home town, helpful in promoting all good causes thereabout. The Doctor is a Republican in his political affiliations and fraternally, is affiliated with the local lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons, in the affairs of which order he takes a warm interest.

Benjamin Grubbs, a substantial retired farmer and honored veteran of the Civil War, now living at North Lewisburg, where he has resided since 1899, is a native of Ohio and has resided in this state all his life, with the exception of a period during the eighties and nineties when he was engaged in farming in Kansas. He was born on a pioneer farm near East Liberty, in the neighboring county of Logan, June 30, 1838, son of Christopher Sr and Elizabeth (Skidmore) Grubbs, both of whom were born at Culpeper Court House, Virginia, and who had come to Ohio with their respective parents in the days of their youth, the families settling in this part of the state, the Grubbses in Logan county and the Skidmores in Union county.

Christopher Sr. Grubbs was born at Culpeper on February 19, 1804, and was but a child when his parents, William Grubbs and wife, also Virginians, the former born on August 20, 1778, and the latter, November 21, 1778, came to this state in 1806 and settled at Middleburg, in Logan county, where William Grubbs opened a tavern and where he and his wife spent the remainder of their lives, influential pioneers of that community. William Grubbs and wife were the parents of nine children, the others being as follow: Mary, born in February, 1807; Abraham, December 22, 1809; Atlanta, November 2, 1810; Evelyn, July 10, 1812; Levi; Benjamin, May 1, 1817; William, February 19, 1820, and Rebecca J., May 29, 1822. Christopher Jr J.P. Grubbs grew up on a farm and after his marriage to Elizabeth Skidmore established his home on a farm in the immediate vicinity of East Liberty, in Logan county, but later moved to the adjoining county of Union and there he and his wife spent the remainder of their lives, influential and useful residents of the community in which they lived, the latter dying at the age of forty-eight and the former at the age of fifty-eight. Christopher Grubbs for years served as justice of the peace in and for his home township and was familiarly known far and near as "Old Squire Kiffey Grubbs." He was an ardent Abolitionist and was a strong influence throughout this part of the state in behalf of the abolition movement during the days when that movement began to have serious agitation throughout the North. By religious persuasion he was a Universalist. His wife was a member of the Free Will Baptist church. They were the parents of ten children, of whom the subject of this sketch was the sixth in order of birth, the others being as follow: William S., a farmer, whose last days were spent in Logan county, this state; Atwell, a farmer, who lived in Union and Logan counties; Lydia Ann, deceased; Atlanta, who died in Kansas; James Madison, who is living at East Liberty, at the age of eighty-one years; Thomas S., a farmer and a veteran of the Civil War, he having served as a member of Company C, Seventeenth Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, who died at North Lewisburg; Evelyn, who died in Logan county; Oliver H., a farmer, living at Holton, Kansas, and Christopher, a farmer, of Pottersburg, this state.

Benjamin Grubbs s/o was reared on the home farm, receiving his schooling in the primitive subscription schools of his home neighborhood in Union county and early became engaged in farming on his own account, being thus engaged when the Civil War broke out. Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, the first three-year regiment, under Col. J. M. Connell, and after thirty days at Camp Dennison went to the front, the regiment spending the following winter at Wild Cat Gap and at Somerset, Kentucky, in the spring of 1862 proceeding to Nashville and then to Pittsburg Landing to help General Grant, and was in every battle of the Middle department, under Generals Rosecrans and Thomas. At first the Seventeenth Ohio was equipped with the old Harper's Ferry muskets and it was some time after it entered the service before it was properly armed. Among the notable engagements participated in by Mr. Grubbs were the battles of Stone's River, Shiloh, Missionary Ridge, Jonesboro, the Atlanta campaign, and he was with Sherman on the march to the sea and thence to Washington, D. C., where he took part in the Grand Review at the close of the war and received his discharge in July, 1865, being mustered out with the rank of sergeant-major. During all that period of service he was absent from the regiment on sick leave but thirty days.

Upon the completion of his military service Mr. Grubbs returned home and resumed the pursuits of peace on the farm. He married in 1866 and continued farming in Union county until 1882, when he disposed of his interests there and moved to Kansas, buying a farm in Jackson county, N. of Topeka that state, and remaining there for seventeen years, or until 1899, when he sold his Kansas farm and returned to Ohio, locating at North Lewisburg, where he ever since has made his home, now living comfortably retired. & in Champaign Co. O

Mr. Grubbs has been twice married. As noted above, it was in 1866 that he was united in marriage to Mary Norvall, of Union county, who died in 1880. To that union one child was born, a daughter, Frances A., who died at the age of seven years. On August 27, 1882, Mr. Grubbs married, secondly, Hester Good, who was born at North Lewisburg, this county, May 25, 1843, daughter of Dr. Thomas and Elizabeth (Moore) Good, the former a native of Virginia and the latter of Pennsylvania. Dr. Thomas Good was for years one of the best-known physicians in the northeastern part of this county and had a wide practice throughout the North Lewisburg neighborhood. He and his wife were the parents of four children, those besides Mrs. Grubbs being Sarah, Clark and Emma. After the death of Doctor Good his widow married Jesse Reems and to that union two children were born, Harris and Lydia. To Benjamin and Hester (Good) Grubbs one child has been born, a son, Clark C. Grubbs, of Dayton, Ohio, a traveling salesman for Bolding & Company, who married Imo Waymire and has three children, Paul, William S. and Mary Hester. Benjamin Grubbs and wife are earnest members of the Methodist church and have ever given proper attention to local good works, helpful in all movements having to do with the advancement of the best interests of their home town and of the county at large.

JOSEPH C. BUCKWALTER.

Joseph C. Buckwalter, head of the Buckwalter Hardware Company at North Lewisburg and one of the most enterprising and progressive young merchants of that thriving village, is a native of the state of West Virginia, but has been a resident of Ohio since the days of his infancy, and of Champaign county for the past ten years or more. He was born on a farm in Hampshire county, West Virginia, July 23, 1881, son of D. W. and Ellen L. Buckwalter, both natives of that same state, who came to Ohio in 1882 and located in Greene county. D. W. Buckwalter was a farmer and upon moving to Greene county established his home on a farm there and there spent the remainder of his life.

Reared on the home farm in Greene county, Joseph C. Buckwalter received his schooling in the public schools of that county and after completing his studies became engaged in farming and was thus engaged for several years, at the end of which time he left the farm and became a bookkeeper for a mercantile firm at Ottawa, in Putnam county. Shortly afterward he was transferred to a store owned by that same firm in Xenia and after a sometime further service as a bookkeeper there he went to Dayton, where he was similarly engaged for four years, at the end of which time his services were engaged by the Standard Oil Company and he was sent back to Ottawa, where he was employed in the interests of that company for six months. He then came to Champaign county and from 1906 to 1910 was employed with a hardware firm at Mechanicsburg. It was in 1910 that Mr. Buckwalter located at North Lewisburg, where he formed a partnership with G. E. Jordan and engaged in the hardware business there under the firm style of Buckwalter & Jordan. In 1914 Mr. Jordan retired from the firm and Mr. Buckwalter formed a company and incorporated the same as the Buckwalter Hardware Company and under that corporate title has since continued to carry on the hardware business at North Lewisburg and has done very well, the business annually assuming greater proportions. Mr. Buckwalter's store occupies two floors of a building twenty by seventy-five feet in dimensions, with an ample warehouse for storage purposes for

CHRISTOPHER GRUBBS. 1847—

The Grubbs family have been residents of Union county, Ohio, since the early forties and have been prominent in the history of the county since that time. Five of the Grubbs brothers were in the Civil War at the same time, and four of them are still living. Christopher Grubbs, whose history is here related, was only thirteen years of age when the Civil War opened, but this did not hinder him from offering his services to his country. At a time when every boy of Union county today is in the school room, Christopher Grubbs was marching with the veteran troops of General Sherman through Georgia to the sea in the summer of 1864, and it seems very fitting that the career of such a man be recorded in the annals of his county's history.

Christopher Grubbs, Jr the son of Christopher Sr. and Elizabeth (Skidmore) Grubbs, was born in Allen township, Union county, Ohio, July 12, 1847. His father CHRIS was born in Virginia, but came date? to Union county, Ohio, with his parents when he was twelve years of age and lived here the remainder of his life. The mother of Christopher Grubbs, Jr., died when he was a small boy. There were ten children born to Christopher Grubbs, Sr., and ~~wife~~ Eliz s, six of whom are still living: Madison, a retired farmer and veteran of the Civil War, and now a resident of Logan county, Ohio; Lydia U., the wife of Henry West of where? Kansas; Atlantic, the wife of Keleb H. Haines of where? Kansas; Benjamin, a veteran of the Civil War, and a farmer of North Lewisburg, Ohio; Oliver, also a veteran of the Civil War and a retired farmer of where? Kansas, and Christopher, of Allen township. Thomas, another brother, was also in the Civil War. Evelyn is deceased.

The grandfather first settled in Logan county, Ohio, where he laid out the town of Middleburg. He farmed and kept tavern there a good many ~~years.~~ [LAID OUT BY LEVI & WM GRUBBS -1832]

Christopher Grubbs Jr was reared in Allen township and there received such schooling as was given by the schools of his neighborhood before his marriage, after which time he began farming for himself. He now has ninety-two acres of excellent farming land in Allen township, as well as two acres in Pottersburg, where he makes his home. He has been interested in the raising of Percheron horses and has had marked success in this.

Christopher Grubbs was married February 27, 1873, to Isadora Lary, the daughter of Abel and Mary A. (Swisher) Lary, who was born in Champaign county, Ohio, September 27, 1856. To this union two children have been born: Mabel, the wife of Andrew Robinson of Springfield, Ohio, and Leroy, who married Bertha Congrove.

Mr. Grubbs and his family are members of the Methodist Episcopal church at Pottersburg, and have always taken an active interest in all church and Sunday school work. At the present time he is one of the trustees of his church. Mr. Grubbs and his wife are both members of the Patrons of Husbandry. In politics, he is a supporter of the Republican party and is now serving as one of the township trustees. p. 985

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN GRUBB

Benjamin Franklin Grubb was born November 1, 1860 in Union County, Ohio as the youngest son of Benjamin C. and Cynthia A. (Gregg) Grubb. His No father was born in Champaign County, Ohio ~~in~~ 1817 and his mother in Marietta, Ohio in 1820. Despite a long search Bejamin C.'s parents have not been positively identified. There is strong evidence that the family came to Ohio from Maryland or Virginia and took up a land grant offered to Revolutionary War veterans, but that remains to be confirmed. yes

In Ohio 1850 census records Benjamin C. was identified as a chair maker. He and Cynthia Gregg were married on June 23, 1837, and had ten children: Mary E., Feb. 9, 1840; Amanda J., June 1841: William, 1843-44 (no positive date); Abarilla, 1845: Josephine, Dec. 31, 1847; John, 1850; Cynthia A., Sept. 5, 1851; Martha Alvira, Oct. 3, 1855; Florence Matilda, Sept. 29, 1858; and Benjamin Franklin, Nov. 1, 1860.

Benjamin C Grubb Sr. enlisted in the 30th Ohio Volunteers on August 13, 1862, and saw action at Carnifax Ferry, Antietam, and South Mountain. He died of pneumonia at Young's Point, Louisiana during the Vicksburg campaign and is buried in the Vicksburg National Cemetery. Ben Jr.'s CYNTHIA mother married John Fleming on October 29, 1868, and sometime thereafter Ben was sent to the Xenia, Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home where he lived until he was 16 years old. The family legend is that Mr. Fleming "just didn't want him around".

After leaving the Orphans' Home Ben re-joined his Cynthia mother and other members of the family living in Greenwood County, Kansas. There is practically no information about his life between his late teens and the time he was married at age 35. There is some indication that he might have been employed as a barber at that time, but no firm evidence of this.

The Orphans' Home had a great influence on Ben Jr. and the strict disciplineand appearance requirements he encountered there remained with him the rest of his life. His daughter, Helen, remembered him as a warm, quiet man who was meticulous about his dress and person. "He always carried a $20 bill in his shoe and considered himself flat broke when he was down to that last $20." He was employed most of his later life as an upholsterer and mattress maker.

Benjamin Franklin Grubb married Nora Cecelia Hepner in Kansas in 1895, and they were parents of six children: Marie, born Jan. 9, 1897; Iva, Wayne, Byron, Wesley, and Helen. Marie, Iva, Wayne and Byron were born in Kansas. Wesley was born May 23, 1907 in Mabton, Washington, and Helen June 16, 1910 in Seattle. Information on Helen's birth certificate states that their home was at 4617 Juneau Street. Helen recalled that as a young girl they lived near a fire station and the horse-drawn fire engines were a vivid memory of her childhood.

About 1916 Benjamin and Nora were divorced. For a time he lived with his daughter Marie and husband Hardy Bergerson in West Seattle and then moved to a small hotel in downtown Seattle where he lived until his death on May 1, 1935 at the age of 75. He is buried at Washelli Cemetery, Seattle.

NORA CECELIA HEPNER GRUBB

Nora Cecelia Hepner was born in Scranton, Pennsylvania in 1873 to Nicholas Reynolds Hepner and Helen Amanda (Paine) Hepner. Nicholas was born in Keokuk, Iowa and Helen in Wilkesborough, Pennsylvania.

Her family moved to Greenwood County, Kansas sometime later and she was married to Benjamin Grubb at Utopia, Kansas in 1895. Nora was one of 11 children including: Mary, Isabelle, Ida, Augusta, Nora, Bertha, Alice, Sadie, Nelson, Walter and Oscar. Very little is known about her siblings and their lives.

s/of ~~Wm.~~ Benj C Grubb 1817-69

After her marriage to Benjamin Franklin Grubb in 1895 they moved around Kansas, apparently following job opportunities for Ben. Their first three children: Marie, Iva and Wayne were born there.They moved to Mabton, Washington in or before 1907 where Wesley was born and on to Seattle where they were living in 1910 when Helen was born.

After her divorce from Ben, Nora promptly married Win Kirby, who apparently was a factor in the divorce, which also might have been helped along by the 13-year age difference between Ben and Nora. After her marriage to Kirby they moved to Manson, Washington for a time, later returning to Seattle. During this time Wesley lived with his father, being the second generation of the male line to be rejected by a step-father. It is not clear when Nora and Win Kirby parted company, but probably sometime in the early 1920's. By 1925 Nora was living in Anacortes with her daughter Helen, and some time later married William (Mac) McClean, a retired railroad engineer. Details of this era are lost with the passing of time and the deaths of her children.

"I Remember Grandma"--By Art Dwelley

Grandma Nora was not very talkative about her past life and apparently a bit sensitive about being a twice-divorced woman in a period when divorce was not a common occurence. She had become a pillar of the Anacortes Congregational Church before I came along and was a faithful member of its Women's Fellowship for more than 25 years.

Nora and Mac bought a home on 35th Street in Anacortes in 1932 where she lived for many years. It was quite small but immaculately kept. My first memories are of the outhouse out back where Mac had a picture of Mae West pinned to the wall. The outhouse later was replaced by a new bathroom that was paid for by her children. Mac was very proud of a fish pond he built in the back yard that was planted with trout supplied by my father from the Grandy Creek fish hatchery.

I stayed with Grandma Nora and Mac many times as a youngster and remember that it was a rather turbulent relationship. They were always arguing about something, but it didn't seem to bother either of them very much. Grandma was a formidable no-nonsense woman but very kind and loving with me. She taught me to like rolled-up pancakes sprinkled with sugar and made wonderful peanutbutter cookies. Her hobbies were sewing and crocheting and working in her garden. A big treat when I was little was for Grandma to take me downtown on the "jitney", which was a small bus that traveled the length of Commercial Avenue in the 1930's. I remember the fare was 5 cents.

Mac died in 1941 and Grandma continued to live in her home without any assistance until she was over 90 years old. She was very independent right up to the time she could no longer care for herself. She then moved to Portland to live with her son Wayne and later had to be moved to a nursing home. She died in Portland in 1972 at the age of 99 and is buried at Washelli Cemetery in Seattle.

Several GRUBBS were early settlers in OHIO. In 1797 a Jacob Grubb + George Skidmore settled on the west bank of Scioto near present-day Columbus. Zanesfield area was settled largely by Quakers of N.C. + VA; here they organized Goshen Monthly Meeting in a log house; runaway Negroes trying to escape slavery found a safe refuge here in 1840/50. Also to come to Zane Twp. were other Culpeper, Va. settlers, including tanner Daniel Garwood, the Methodist Inskip brothers, + Quaker blacksmith - preacher Antrim. Levi Inskip's son Lycurgis married Viola Grubbs. A Wm. A Skidmore, b. 1778 Bedford Co., Va., died 1854 in Logan Co's Perry Twp.; he was son of Joshua Skidmore + Shady Grubbs married in Campbell, Va. 1796; they had 5 children born in Va ~~but~~ who married in Logan Co, Oh. Joshua + Shady's 7th child, Elizabeth Skidmore mar. Chris Grubbs, (son of Wm. Grubb of Va.) b. 2/19/1804 in Culpeper, Va. This Chris Sr., was J.P. + known both in Logan + Union Co Oh. as "Old Squire Kiffey Grubb," ardent Abolitionist + Universalist; his wife Elizabeth was Free Will Bapt. Chris + Elizabeth's last 2 of 6 sons were Chris Jr + Benjamin Grubb. This Benjamin of Middleburg also enlisted in the Civil War, in Co. C, 17th Oh. Vol. on 25 Aug. 1861, + fought at Shiloh, + with Gen. Sherman in the Atlanta campaign. He was discharged July 1865 as Sgt-Major; married 1st Mary Norvall in 1866: issue 2 - Sarah + Clark. He may have had a sister and/or aunt named Atlanta. Marrying 2nd Hester Good, this Benjamin Grubb left Union Co, Oh. 1882 for a Ks. farm near Topeka, but sold it after 17 years + returned to Oh. to live in Lewisburg, Champaign Co.

Our Benj. C. Grubb's widow, 43 year old Cynthia Ann Gregg Grubb, in 1863 applied for a widow's military pension as she had 6 minors under 16 to raise - Josephine, John W., Cynthia A., Mattie, Florence, and Benj. F.; pension amounted to $8.- per month. In 1868 this increased to $14.- per month for the 3 minors still with her. Civil War records show that upon her marriage to John Fleming on Oct. 29, 1868 at Marysville, Oh. she surrendered this pension to her 34 year old son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger (husband of Amanda Grubb), also a Civil War soldier in the 96th Oh. Infantry who had agreed to serve as guardian of Benj. C.'s 3 minors who were entitled to their father's pension. Their mother, Cynthia Ann, now Mrs. John Fleming, removed to Greenwood Co., Ks. where she died 4 Feb., 1892 in the home of her daughter Florence Matilda Smith of Eureka. Her oldest son William H. "Billy" Grubb (b. 8 Oct. 1844) also lived in Greenwood Co, Utopia, from 1885. his only war disability was a finger shot off his right hand. William H. "Billy" Grubb + his wife Martha L. "Mattie" Green Grubb were my great-grandparents. Grandma Mattie L. Grubb died in May 1938 when I was 14. She lived 1 block North of us in the 1100 block of Oak St., Eureka, Ks. She died in the Eureka home of her daughter, Maud Bell Donaldson. Great-Aunt Maud lived to be 100 (d. 1991), + was the family matriarch who tied us to Grubb stories of the past.

Researched notes from the files of

In 1986 in my GRUBB chronicles I noted — "The parents of Benjamin C. Grubb [1817-63] are not known at this writing. In addition to Benj. C. there were 6 other Grubb-Grubbs family heads living in Union Co. & adjacent Logan Co., Oh. census of 1840, 1850, 1860. Relationship is likely but not proved" - p. 6 of DODD ROOTS: Dodd, Johnson, Green, Grubb, Goldsberry" — distributed in whole or in part to family members.

Since then I've made a more careful study of the GRUBB name in Ohio census, histories of Logan, Union & Champaign counties of Oh, & military records. Ergo, I've ruled out some conjectures in the earlier chronicle:— (1. Benj. C. Grubb's father is not Rev. War soldier Peter Grubb of Lancaster, Pa. who was in Wash. Co, Oh. 1803; he died 1830 in Oh.(2) His parents were not Mary & Andrew Grubb, 1819 deacon of Logan Co. Tharp's Run Bapt. Church in Jeff. Twp; also here resided Daniel Grubb (b. 1780/90) at farm survey #6447, s. of Zanesfield.

I now believe Benj. C.'s father may have been a Logan Co. Grubb, for in 1840 a Benj. Grubb age 20/30 lived here with wife 20/30 & 1 female child under 5. Our Benj. C. was known to live in Zane Twp. in 1840 as his first daughter Mary Eliza was born in Zane Twp. - Feb. 1840. Four other Grubb heads of households lived in Logan Co 1840 — Daniel & Jesse in Jeff Twp; Christopher in Perry; & William & Levi in Zane. One Grubb - Abraham - lived in adjacent Union Co; also in Union Co. was a William Gregg of Marysville; he was our Cynthia Ann Gregg's [illegible] father; she married Benj. C. Grubb in Marysville, 23 Je., 1837. Most of their children were born in nearby Jerome Twp, Union Co. - including my great-grandfather William H. "Billy" Grubb, b. 8 Oct. 1844. According to mustering officers' record, our Benj. C., age 43, enlisted in CO. E, 30th Oh. Infantry on 13 Aug. 1862 — in the same company wherein his 17 year old son Wm. H. "Billy" had earlier enlisted 19 Aug. 1861. The Adjutant General's Office reports show father & son engaged in battles of South Mountain & Antietam in Maryland, Sept. 1862. Benj. C. died 9 May, 1863 in the line of duty during the seige of Vicksburg, Miss. at a Young Points, La. hospital. In 1986 I went to Vicksburg, located his grave marker in the National Military Cemetery & photographed it. It is located Sec. D, # 1743.

Also living in Zane Twp. in Logan Co. 1840 in addition to our Benj. C. was another Grubb 60/70 with 2 unnamed sons 20/30, plus 2 children 15/20. This William Grubb's occupation is reported as Agric. & Mfg. Our Benj. C. of the same Twp & year was also in Mfg. A Logan Co. history tells us that land owned by a William & Levi Grubb was sold by them to lay out the village of Middleburg in 1832. William was proprietor of a local tavern [inn]. the Twp's leading industry was maple sugar processing; however a chair factory operated in this 1840's village. (Did Benj. C. learn his trade "chair maker here?) 39 Grubbs have been buried in Logan Co's Zane Twp. from 1848 on. I believe our Benj. C. may have been son of this William Grubb (1778-1848) born in VA. 20 Aug. 1778, who came to Oh. 1806. Sons born to him include Chris (b. 2/19/1804, Culpeper, Va.) Abraham, Levi, & Benjamin (b. 1817, Oh.).

Ms. Dodd,

I was recently making additions to our family files at our Logan Co. Geneology Library & noticed this inquiry (opposite side of page) in the file. Oddly enough I had only recently been researching for myself in the Champaign Co. History Book & recognized having seen the Benjamin Grubbs name. So here is what I copied - trust it could be something you were searching for.

Logan County was partly made from Champaign County years ago - so the borderline changed. The residents & properties did not necessarily do so. This makes it a bit difficult to do research.

STORY OF

BENJAMIN C. GRUBB (FL 8)

AND HIS WIFE CYNTHIA ANN GREGG (FL 10)

Benjamin C. Grubb was born about 1820 in 1817 ~~Union~~ County, Ohio.[1] His wife Cynthia Ann Gregg was also born in Ohio. at Marietta They were the paternal grandparents of May Grubb Dodd (1876 - 1949).

The parents of Benjamin C. Grubb are not known at this writing. Prob Wm, of Culpepper Va In addition to Benjamin C. there were 6 other Grubb or Grubbs family heads living in Union County and nearby Logan County townships in 1850 and 1860, all farmers. Relationship is likely but not proved.

But an early Ohio settler Peter Grubb located two counties below - Ross (Chillicothe) - before 1800, even before Ohio became a state. There may be a connection for Benjamin's wife lived in Ross County as a child with her parents the Greggs, and her grandparents, the Goldsberrys. Friends and families were known to migrate together.

Grubb (also Grubbs, Grubbe) is of English origin, meaning a short dwarfish man; the coarse, unpolished man.

Cynthia Ann Gregg's Roots

More is known about Cynthia Ann Gregg, daughter of William Gregg (1785-1846) and Mary Goldsberry (of John W. Goldsberry and Sally Potts of Philadelphia).[2]

At least some of William and Mary Goldsberry Gregg's first children were born in Kentucky, but Cynthia Ann the youngest was born in Marietta, Ohio as the family began migrating northward about 1818 when Ohio became ripe for white settlement. Cynthia Ann was born November 6, 1820.

England took Ohio from the French in 1763; the Americans wrested it from England in 1783; everybody stole it from the Indians. Even the Indians fought over it, for it had long been a battleground for one tribe or another. But after Gen. Mad Anthony Wayne's victory at Fallen Timbers in 1794, Little Turtle and other chiefs agreed to abandon Ohio to white settlement. This paved the way for rapid immigration. Settlers arrived, especially veterans of the Revolution who claimed military grants offered by Virginia and Connecticut who thought they owned Ohio.

Alarmed, Tecumseh, chief of the Shawnees, began attacking settlers passing down the Ohio River in flatboats.

William Henry Harrison, appointed governor of Indiana Territory devoted himself to carrying out Pres. Jefferson's policy (to whom he owed the appointment) of Indian removal — to anywhere west of the Mississippi. Forced from their traditional hunting grounds, Tecumseh and his visionary brother "The Prophet" hoped to unite all the tribes from Canada to Florida to stop this white encroachment.

A timely eclipse of the sun together with a staggering earthquake at New Madrid in Missouri in 1811 (which caused much of the Mississippi River to change its course) provided enough awesome sign for the Indians to take heart. Actually they took more than that; they took up weapons, including hatchets and scalping knives, against Harrison's militia invading The Prophet's village at the confluence of Tippecanoe and the Wabash. That fateful November day in 1811 Harrison's losses were severe, but so were the Shawnees', for The Prophet's magic failed to protect them from militia bullets.

Ohio was made safer for white settlement.

But the first permanent white settlement (where the Muskingum emptied into the Ohio River) preceded Harrison's victory at Tippecanoe and even Wayne's dragoon victory at Fallen Timbers. Called Marietta, it was said to be named for Marie Antoinette, although its founders were New Englanders. Their July 4 celebration that year included a hearty round of grog and a whole broiled pike six feet long speared from the river.

When William and Mary Gregg came to Marietta is not known. But Cynthia Ann was born here in 1820. Then the Greggs moved again. With cheap land the attraction, William and Mary Gregg went down the Ohio and up the Scioto to Ross County, probably by a keel boat containing all their worldly wealth, likely no more than a barrel or two of goods, a spinning wheel, a gun, and an ax to build a shelter complete with puncheon table.

One may conjecture that the journey was made in the company of some Goldsberry kin, or that the Greggs went to join them in Ross County. (John W. Goldsberry and Sally Potts were Mary Gregg's parents). At least 11 Goldsberry family heads lived in Ross County by 1820; in 1830 this number increased to 14, with 11 of these residing in Concord Township. Elderly John Goldsberry by that year had moved on to Union County, to Darby Township.

The original spelling of the name in England was Goldsborough. After migrating to America about 1600 and settling the colony of Maryland, the name was changed to Goldsberry. From Maryland many migrated to Ross County, Ohio.[3]

When William and Mary Gregg brought their seven children into Ross County in the 1820's, game was still plentiful; so were mosquitoes. Fever and chills racked settlers who insisted on building three-sided shanties along river bottoms. Later cabins were clapboard with real shingles and puncheon floors.

Cynthia Ann grew up knowing the life of an Ohio pioneer. As she could write (barely) she may have attended one of the subscription schools. Methodist circuit riders came by now and again.

When Cynthia Ann was seven, the Greggs left Ross County in 1827 and came to Union County. Had the malarial epidemic of 1827 in this poorly drained place sent them to safer havens?

In any case the Greggs came to Union County, probably bringing old grandfather John W. Goldsberry with them for he can also be located in Union County in Darby Township in 1830.

William Gregg purchased four city lots in the town of Marysville for $6.00 in 1829. He died Sept. 30, 1846, age 61. He was buried in the old cemetery at Marysville. Nothing is known further about Cynthia Ann's mother - Mary Goldsberry Gregg.

Marriage

Benjamin C. Grubb and Cynthia Ann were nine years married and were already the parents of 4 children when William Gregg died at Marysville.

Benjamin C. and Cynthia Ann were married at Marysville, June 23, 1837. Both were 17, if the military records are accurate.

By then Ohio forests were receding swiftly before the advance of cornfields. The hominy block had given way to a grist mill called a corn-cracker capable of grinding 12-40 bushels of corn daily. The mill was powered by water from Bokes Creek. One of miller Martin's 9 children later became a lawyer in Eureka, Kansas; no mill stones for him!

Thirty miles across the way closer to Columbus, the capital since 1815, things were looking almost Eastern. A lad over there named Rosecrans would be a Civil War general. Nearby in Delaware County lived a merchant named Hayes whose son - Rutherford B. Hayes - would become the 19th Pres. of the U.S. And up in Cuyahoga Falls was the six year old James A. Garfield who would become the 20th President and the last President to be born in a log cabin.

Ohio had just emerged from the log cabin era by the election of 1840. The presidental candidates were the cologne-drenched, champagne-drinking aristocratic Van Buren, and old William Henry Harrison the Indian fighter of the West. When a Democratic newspaper sneeringly represented Whig Harrison as living in a cabin with hard cider and no ambition (actually he was a man of substance in a fine house), Union County was the first to take up the cue.

The famous "log-cabin" campaign first began here when some Whigs - proud of their log cabin past - cut down buckeye trees near Marysville and built a cabin on a horse drawn wagon; enroute to Columbus, singers in the cabin sang Log Cabin songs accompanied by a flute. The idea caught on in Columbus. (Afterwards the buckeye then became the fixed sobriquet of Ohio natives as our Ohio ancestors were proud to relate).

Frenzied Whigs chanted "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" (John Tyler of Virginia had been nominated for Vice-President), and "Van, Van is a used up man". Harrison won the election, but died one month after his inauguration (of pneumonia), the first President to die in office.

Benjamin C. Grubb of Marysville must have viewed this Whig campaign with interest if not actually participating in it, for he would name his first son for old Tippecanoe - William Henry whom we know as Billy Grubb.

Benjamin C. and Cynthia Ann's firstborn Mary Eliza was born in 1839 at Marysville. It appears that the next 5 children were born in nearby Logan County where so many other Grubbs lived: Amanda 1841, William Henry (Billy) 1844, Arabella 1845, Josephine 1847, John W. 1849.

But by 1850 Benjamin C.,& Cynthia Ann were back in Union County, in Jerome Township. Benjamin C.'s occupation was listed as chairmaker; according to that census his near neighbors included a joiner, a shoemaker, and two blacksmiths. Perhaps these men carried on their trades in shops. Benjamin C.'s real estate was valued at $150.00.

Between 1850 and the next Federal Census the remainder of their 10 children were born: Cynthia A. 1851, Mattie 1855, Florence 1858, and Benjamin F. 1860. Cynthia A. was born in Jerome Township, but Mattie and Florence at Marysville. From military affadavits we learn that the doctor in attendance at the birth of the last 3 was a Dr. T.B. Asbury. Cynthia Ann was 40 when her last was born.

In 1860 Benjamin C.'s fortunes had not increased, only the number of mouths to feed. His occupation was listed as painter; the value of his real estate dropped to $125.00, his personal estate amounted to $75.00 He was the poorest man on that census page, even poorer than the preacher. He was still at Jerome Township; P. O. New California.

Two years later he went to war.

Benjamin C. Grubb in the Civil War

One wonders what prompted Benjamin C. Grubb to enlist in the 30th Ohio Infantry, for 43 was getting well on in years in those days; moreover,he had 10 living children - at least 7 still in the home, with the youngest not yet two.

The oldest, Billy, was already in the war - had been for a year. Co. E had suffered some casualties in regiment hospitals, but nothing like it would in days yet to come. So what was it? A desire to keep an eye on his son? Patriotism? Adventure? After all he had been only 17 when he took on family responsibility. The flags waving? Billy had joined in 1861; and the next year his son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger enlisted, in the 96th Ohio Infantry; Ashley's four brothers signed up too. Or was he adamantly opposed to slavery? After all a branch of Levi Coffin's underground railroad passed through Union County.

But enlist he did - for 3 years - from Union County, in the very same Co. E Billy was in. He mustered in at Columbus, Ohio. Co. E swore in 14 new recruits that August 13 in 1862, and of these only 4 would live to be discharged. One simply died, one was killed in battle, it is not known what happened to two, and 5 died in regiment hospitals. Benjamin C. would be listed among the latter group in only 9 months hence.

Before Benjamin C. donned the Union blue, Co. E had already been ordered into the field in West Virginia. Three days after he joined its ranks, Private Benjamin C. Grubb caught up with Billy and they were marched to eastern Virginia and here reported to Gen. Pope's headquarters. (Pope boasted that that was his saddle but his critics believed it better suited his hindquarters).

August 26 the 30th Ohio was engaged in battle at Centerville. Having been assigned to the First Brigade a week later, the 30th took leave of Pope (who would soon be sent West out of the way to police Indian tribes) and was moved into Maryland to stop Gen. Lee's invasion there. Lee's men in gray, many shoeless but with fine powder for their guns, arrived 50,000 strong.

Hastily reorganizing the Army of the Potomac, McClellan, cautious as Pope was rash, led 87,000 Federals to western Maryland, each column a blue serpent miles long. At crossroads by arrangement when two corps met, one fell out, stacked arms, built fires and boiled coffee while allowing the other passage. Some were to remember the scent of pennyroyal bruised by thousands of trampling feet as hours and hours of columns marched four abreast along country roads to impending battles.

Co. E suffered severely in the sharp struggle at South

Mountain on Sept. 14. Grape shot and canister took their toll.

Three days later Co. E was ordered into the field at Antietam Creek, a place of pastoral beauty before the assault. The Union attack began at dawn on Sept. 17; the cornfield and two woodlots in front of the whitewashed Dunker church were wrested from Stonewall Jackson. By dusk the high shrill yelp of the noted rebel yell had stilled. Lee lost a fourth of all he had in the field; he retreated in the night.

McClellan's losses were even greater - 2,000 killed in action, and 10,000 wounded (of these, 1,000 would die of battle wounds), but it was hailed as a Union victory for the Federals held the field.

The 30th Ohio, compelled to fall back at Antietam, did gallantly retrieve the National colors; shot to pieces, its two bearers dead on the field, it remained for Co. E - the company of Benjamin C. and Billy Grubb - to save the colors in the battle that day.

After Antietam, the 30th Ohio moved into West Virginia in October and went into camp near Cannelton. January 1863 it moved down the great rivers, Ohio and Mississippi, to join Grant's army at Helena, Arkansas.

The fall of Vicksburg was crucial to Union control of the Mississippi. Federals must gain possession of this stronghold in order to open the river to Union gunboats to send hog and hominy supplies, to stop Red River grain from feeding Confederate armies, and to cut the Confederacy in two. The question was how.

The 15th Army Corps Engineers to which the 30th Ohio had been assigned held to an idea favored by Lincoln (who had twice navigated the Mississippi as a youth on flatboats to New Orleans) to cut a great canal across the peninsula thus shifting the river above Vicksburg, leaving it high and dry. Grant was largely against it but no sooner had he landed at Young's Point, Louisiana (across the river on the wrong side of Vicksburg) than he put thousands and thousands of picks and shovels into the hands of his troops to do the job.

This was as far as Benjamin C. Grubb got in the Civil War.

Toiling in mud, in bayous infested with snakes and alligators, diggers sickened and died every day, from malaria, smallpox, measles. Young men dropped like flies. While Billy was still young, his father was not. That winter heavy rains and high waters left few places for camp grounds or even burial places for the dead. Soldiers had to be interred in the levees themselves.

In the end, the Young's Point canal and similar artificial waterway endeavors had to be written off as failures. The Union navy finally succeded in ferrying some troops across the great river, and on May 12 Grant's army commenced its march on Vicksburg.

But Benjamin C. would never more rise to his company's bugle call and drum roll; he was three days dead.

His pick and shovel having been propped somewhere in the canebrakes, Benjamin C. was brought to Milliken's Bend, 10 miles above Vicksburg to the regiment hospital. Grant had located his headquarters there, in a steamer moored nearby; it was here he had planned the details of the Vicksburg campaign amid blue clouds of cigar smoke swirling overhead.

The Surgeon General's report of 1864 said Benjamin C. died of "enteritis". Another report in 1869 said the cause of death was "quick consumption".

Benjamin C.'s son Billy and the 30th Ohio Infantry went on to Vicksburg, and victory came after a 47 day seige. The Confederacy was cut in two. The River was open from St. Paul to the Gulf, or as Mr. Lincoln put it, "The father of waters rolls unvexed to the sea".

It is not known when Benjamin C. was interred in the National Military Cemetery at Vicksburg but Grave 291 of Sec. E marks his final resting place. [4]

June 2, 1863 back home in Union County, 43 old Cynthia Ann Grubb, upon learning of Benjamin C.'s death down in Mississippi, applied for the widow's pension her husband had so dearly bought at South Mountain and Antietam and on the Young's Point military fiasco. Six minors under 16 were still at home - Josephine 15, John W. 14, Cynthia A. 12, Martha (Mattie) 7, Florence 5, and Benjamin F. 2. Perhaps the three oldest girls had already married by then - Mary E. to William Oglesby, Amanda to Ashley Kightlinger, and Arabell to James South. The oldest son Billy, of course, was still fighting the war this summer of 1863.

After producing affadavits that she was indeed the wife of Benjamin C. and that these minors were theirs, and after swearing that she had not in any way been engaged in, aided or abetted the rebellion against the U. S., Cynthia Ann Grubb received the widow's monthly pension of $8.00. This was increased to $14.00 per month in 1868, for the three minors still with her.

Cynthia Ann Grubb surrendered that pension upon her marriage to John Fleming. They were married by a minister at Marysville, Ohio, Oct. 29, 1868.

In May 1869, Cynthia Ann put the guardianship of her three minor children in the hands of her 34 year old son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger, in order for her children to obtain the benefits of the military pension to which they were entitled.

At least 5 of Benjamin C.'s grown children with their families went out to Kansas in the 1880's and 1890's, to take up residence there until their deaths. Their mother Cynthia Ann, remarried to John Fleming, herself went to live in Kansas and was buried in Greenwood County - the place of son Billy's residence - the son whose father joined in the battles of the war suppressing the rebellion to preserve the Union they both loved.

Cynthia Ann Grubb Fleming died February 4, 1892.

ENDNOTES AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

1. Civil War records of Benjamin C. Grubb show his birth in 1820, but the Ohio census of both 1850 and 1860 would indicate his birth is 1817. If the census is accurate, then he was 45 when he enlisted. Perhaps 45 was too old for enlistment while 43 made it possible, or at least more probable. War service records sometimes calls Benjamin C. "Benjamine F"; they are unquestionably the same person.

2. The Gregg-Goldsberry story comes to me from some of Benjamin C.'s descendants - Sharon Owen of Azalea, Oregon and Jo Stephens of Tulsa, Oklahoma who document their material quite well.

3. This information is gleaned from a published copy obtained at the Denver Public Library entitled "Family Tree of Goldsberry". Had the author looked more closely as I did he would have noticed that in the census of 1840 (Ohio), the very same Ross County (Concord Twp) 1830 Goldsberrys were now spelling their names Goldburg, Goldsborough, Goldsbough, and Goldsboro. Had there been a great family schism, or was the census taker short-shrift on spelling skills? Changing spellings, however, is not uncommon in the annals of American surnames.

4. Military information is gleaned from Benjamin C.'s Civil War service records which I obtained in Washington, D.D.; from Union County History of the 30th Ohio Infantry, particularly Company E; from the historical writings of Pulitzer Prize winner Bruce Catton noted for his moving analysis of the Civil War; from a college text written by one of my professors at the University of Illinois, Richard N. Current.

APPLICATION FOR INCREASE OF WIDOW'S PENSION.

ACT OF JULY 25, 1866.

State of Ohio — County of Union ss.

On this 9th day of November A. D. 1867, before me, John Randall Clerk of the Common Pleas Court, a Court of Record within and for said County and State, personally appeared Mrs. Cynthia A. Grubb — aged 46 years, a resident of the County of Union — in the State of Ohio — who being first duly sworn, according to law, doth on her oath make the following declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the provision made by the second section of the Act of Congress, increasing the pensions of widows and orphans, approved July 25th, 1866. That she is the widow of Benjamin H. Grubb — who was a Private in Company "E" commanded by in the 30" Regiment of Ohio Vols — in the war of 1861–62, etc., and that by reason of his death in the service aforesaid, she has been granted a pension of eight dollars per month, in accordance with a certificate numbered 22039 bearing date May 18 1864. She further swears that she has the following named children of her deceased husband and herself, under sixteen years of age, who are now living, the dates of whose birth were as given below, to-wit:

Martha Alvira born on the 3d day of October A. D. 1855
Florence Matilda born on the 29" day of September A. D. 1858
Benjamin H. born on the 1st day of November A. D. 1860
born on the day of A. D. 18

She further declares that she has not re-married since the death of her said husband, nor has she abandoned the support of any one of the children above named, nor permitted any one of the same to be adopted by any other person or persons, as his, her or their children.

That she bears true faith and allegiance to the Government, Constitution and Laws of the United States, and has never in any manner been engaged in, or aided or abetted the rebellion therein, directly or indirectly, and she hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints T. W. TALLMADGE, of Columbus, Ohio, with full power of substitution and revocation on his part, her true and lawful Attorney, to prosecute her said claim, and to procure and receive the Certificate of Pension issued to her, and to do all lawful things necessary touching the premises.

TWENTY-SEVENTH OHIO INFANTRY.

This regiment was organized in August, 1861, under Col. John W. Fuller. It served in Missouri until March, 1862, when it moved, with the Army of the Mississippi, on New Madrid, and after the surrender of that place assisted in the capture of Island No. 10. In May, it joined Halleck's Army, and in September took part in the battles of Iuka and Corinth. It followed Grant in his Mississippi expedition as far South as Oxford, when it was ordered back to Jackson, and joined in the pursuit of Forrest, the rebel raider.

The Twenty-seventh, after re-enlisting, joined Sherman's Atlanta campaign, and was engaged in the battles of Resaca, Dallas, Kenesaw, Nickojack Creek and Atlanta. It pursued Hood northward, and, returning, followed Sherman to the sea. It marched through the Carolinas, and took part in the last battle of the war, at Bentonville.

After taking part in the grand review at Washington, it proceeded to Louisville, where it was mustered out, July, 1865.

COMPANY D.

Captain J. H. Cooper, e. July 18, 1861, disc. July 11, 1865.
Evans, Thomas, wounded.
Evans, Walter, died.

TWENTY-EIGHTH OHIO INFANTRY.

The Twenty-eighth Ohio was organized in June, 1861, under Col. August Moor. It served in West Virginia, and, under McClellan, fought at South Mountain and Antietam. In April, 1864, it joined the Army of the Shenandoah, and, on May 11, took part in the battle of New Market. It shared in the advance on Woodstock, New Market, Harrisburg and Port Republic, and, on June 5, participated in the attack on the rebels near Piedmont.

Its term of service having expired, the regiment was mustered out July 23, 1864.

The Twenty-eighth lost in battle two officers killed, seven wounded; ninety men killed, one hundred and sixty-two wounded; and one hundred and seventy-three disabled by disease.

TWENTY-NINTH OHIO INFANTRY.

This regiment was organized in August, 1861, under Col. Louis P. Buckley. It served in Maryland and Virginia until September, 1863, participating in the battles of Winchester, Port Republic, Cedar Mountain, the second Bull Run and Chancellorsville. It was with Hooker at Lookout Mountain, and, joining Sherman's Atlanta campaign, was engaged in the battles of Dug Gap, Resaca, Dallas, Pine Knob, Kenesaw Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, and the siege of Atlanta.

It marched to the sea and through the Carolinas to Washington. The Twenty-ninth was discharged at Cleveland, Ohio, July 22, 1865.

COMPANY I.

Voorhees, O. H., e. June 2, 1864, disc. 1865.

THIRTIETH OHIO INFANTRY.

Company E, of the Thirtieth Ohio Infantry, was organized by Capt. Elijah Warner, at Jerome, Union County, Ohio, in the month of August, 1861, and marched thence to Camp Chase, a distance of twenty miles, where it arrived on the 19th day of August. On the 29th, the company was mustered into the United States service, with the following commissioned officers: Elijah Warner, Captain; Henry R. Brinkerhoff, First Lieutenant, and Henry Hensel, Second Lieutenant.

The Thirtieth Ohio Volunteer Infantry was organized at Camp Chase on the 28th of August, 1861, under Col. John Groesbeck, who was soon succeeded by Col. Hugh Ewing. On the 30th, the regiment was ordered into the field, and on the 2d of September arrived at Clarksburg, W. Va., then moved forward to Weston, where it received its first outfit of camp and garrison equipage. On September 6, the regiment joined Gen. Rosecrans at Sutton Heights, leaving four companies, D, F, G, and I, at this place and two, C, and E, at Big Birch Bottom, the remainder of the regiment moved forward and on the evening of the 10th discerned the enemy near Gawley River, at Carnifex Ferry, where a sharp encounter ensued; night coming on, ended the battle. Early on the following morning, it was discovered that the enemy had evacuated their position and retreated across the river.

Col. Ewing was the first man to enter the deserted fortifications. He found, amid a multitude of camp and garrison spoils, two fine French dress swords; one bearing the coat of arms of Napoleon I, and a stand of colors bearing the following inscription:

"FLOYD'S BRIGADE."

"The price of Liberty is the blood of the Brave." On December 25, the regiment held its first dress parade at Fayetteville, and from this time until August, 1862, served in detachments. On the 16th, the Thirtieth started to join the army in Eastern Virginia; the right wing reported for duty at Gen. Pope's headquarters on the 26th, and after the engagement at Centerville the left wing joined the right, having been under fire but not engaged with the musketry in the battle at this place.

On the 2d of September, the regiment was relieved from duty at Gen. Pope's headquarters and joined its brigade—the First—at Upton Hills. On the 7th, it moved to Frederick City, Md., and on the 14th arrived at South Mountain where a severe struggle with the enemy took place, with a loss of eighteen men killed and forty-eight wounded. In this engagement Company E suffered most severely, having one killed and six wounded.

In the battle at Antietam, the Thirtieth, lacking proper support, was thrown into slight confusion and compelled to fall back. It lost three officers killed and two wounded, eight men killed and thirty-seven wounded. The National colors were torn in fourteen places by the enemy's balls and two color-bearers, Sergts. Saxie Carter and Nathan J. White, fell dead on the field. A stand of colors was rescued on this occasion by David McKim, of Company E.

On the 10th of October, the Thirtieth moved into West Virginia, and on the 13th of November went into camp near Cannelton. A few weeks later, it started on a march into Logan County, returning with seventeen prisoners and seventy-five horses. In January, 1863, it moved down the Ohio and Mississippi to join Gen. Grant's army, and on arriving at Helena, Ark., was assigned to the Third Brigade, Second Division of the Fifteenth Army Corps. On the 21st it landed at Youngs Point, and for a few weeks worked on the canal at that place. In March it moved to the relief of some gunboat in Steel's Bayou, returning to Young's Point on the 28th.

On the 29th of April, the regiment embarked on the R. B. Hamilton, and with other troops engaged in a demonstration on Haines' Bluffs. In May, it joined in the movement upon Vicksburg, and from the 20th until the surrender of this stronghold the regiment was constantly engaged either in fatigue and picket duty or in assaulting the enemy's works. The loss of the Thirtieth during the siege was one commissioned officer killed and six wounded, six men killed and forty-eight wounded. After the surrender of Vicksburg, the regiment pursued Johnson to Jackson, and upon the evacuation of that place returned and went into camp at Black River.

On the 26th of September, it moved with Sherman via Memphis to Chattanooga, and on the 25th of October participated in the assault upon Mission Ridge, losing thirty-nine men killed and wounded.

Nov

In November, the Thirtieth followed in pursuit of the retreating rebels, returning to Bridgeport, Ala., on the 19th of December; during this time the men were compelled to subsist off the country with the exception of two days' rations issued on the 29th day of November.

In January, 1864, the regiment re-enlisted, and after the furlough home joined Sherman's forces at Kingston, Ga., on the 20th of May. On the 23d, it started on the march through Dallas and Acworth, and on the 19th of June arrived at the foot of Kenesaw Mountain; during this march, the 30th was almost continuously under fire. It took an active part in the battle on the 26th, losing thirty-five men killed and wounded. On July 2, the regiment moved toward Atlanta, and on the 22d was attacked and thrown into some confusion at first, but soon rallied and succeeded in repulsing the enemy, not, however, without considerable loss. On the 28th, the regiment gallantly stood its ground and resisted four successive attacks of the enemy, losing thirty men killed and wounded. Under its fire, the foe forsook a stand of colors; and in its immediate front 105 dead rebels were found.

The Thirtieth was transferred to the First Brigade on the 5th of August, and on the 29th the non-veterans were mustered out. On the 31st, the rebels attacked the line of the First Brigade, but were repulsed, the Thirtieth losing in this encounter twenty-five men killed and wounded.

On the 2d of September, Jonesboro was evacuated by the enemy, the regiment pursuing them to Lovejoy's Station. After spending several weeks in camp at East Point, the Thirtieth followed in the pursuit of Hood's army into Alabama, returned to Atlanta, then marched to Fort McAllister and took part in the successful assault on that place.

After the fall of Savannah, the regiment passed through the Carolinas, having a sharp engagement with Johnson at Bentonville, and frequent skirmishes with the enemy. It arrived at Goldsboro March 24, 1865; then proceeded to Raleigh on the 14th of April, and aided in the capture of Johnson's army.

The Thirtieth marched to Washington via Richmond, and after passing in review, moved to Louisville, Ky., and thence to Little Rock, Ark. Here the regiment remained in camp until mustered out August 21, 1865, having participated in twenty different engagements, and having its colors shot in almost every battle.

Company E lost, while in the field, ten killed, fifteen wounded, and twenty-eight died of disease contracted in the service.

COMPANY B.

Gibson, William, e. March, 1864, disc. August 13, 1865.

Maj. Elijah Warner, e. August 19, 1861, entered the service as Captain of Company E., promoted to Major November 3, 1861, wounded May 22, 1863, at Vicksburg, Miss., resigned November 9, 1864.

COMPANY E.

Capt. J. D. Bain, e. September 10, 1861, disc. August 13, 1864, entered the service as Second Lieutenant.

Capt. Joseph Collins, e. January 28, 1862, disc. January 7, 1865.

First Lieut. H. R. Brinkerhoff, e. August 19, 1861, transferred and promoted Lieutenant Colonel of negro regiment.

James R Smith Probate Judge

At the same time and place personally came Edward Norris and A.J. Nightinger residents of Union County, Ohio, who being duly sworn, according to law, says they are personally acquainted with Mrs. Synthia A Grubb who in their presence has made and subscribed the foregoing declaration and were acquainted with her husband and her before he entered the service, by living near them and know they lived together as husband and wife, and were so reputed. The deponents never heard the fact of their marriage questioned; and that the following is a true copy of the record which we have this day carefully examined and compared, to-wit:

That she is the widow of the identical Benjamin C Grubb who performed the military service mentioned in said declaration, and has remained a widow since his death; that their knowledge of the identity of her husband with the soldier is derived from the fact that they knew he volunteered and served in said Company and Regiment. And they further testify that they reside as above stated, and are disinterested in this case.

the battle of Shiloh, April 7, 1862. The parents have joined the absent children in that better home, while that which remains is interred in the cemetery of this county. The subject of this sketch was born at Marysville, January 7, 1849, and enlisted in 1864, in Company H, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Ohio National Guards, and served in garrison duty south of Washington, D. C., until the close of the war. He succeeded W. S. Smith in the harness and saddlery business in 1874, and at this time carries a stock of from $2,000 to $3,000, being the most complete line of its kind in the city. At the time of his purchase it was a small business and stock, but Mr. I. has, by due application to business, cultivated a permanent and established trade. His marriage to Miss Flora A. Winget, a native of this county, and a daughter of T. M. Winget, a respected pioneer of this city, took place in 1878. Mr. Irwin is a member of the Masonic order, and is connected with the Presbyterian Church of this city.

GEORGE JORDAN, Recorder, Marysville, is the youngest son of William Jordan, a native of Scotland, who embarked to the United States when twenty years of age. He was married in Belmont County, in 1832, to Miss Nancy Westlake, a Virginian. The same year he moved and settled in this county, where he passed the remainder of his life. The widow and mother resides with our subject, and is in the eightieth year of her age. They raised a family of nine children, eight of whom are living. He, William, was a mason by trade, but purchased a farm, which the boys worked while he labored at his avocation. The subject of this sketch enlisted in 1862, in Company C, Seventeenth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served in the ranks until wounded on the field of Chickamauga, September 20, 1863. He received an ugly wound on the left arm, shattering that member, and rendering it almost useless. He was placed in a Government wagon, where he lay three days crossing the Cumberland Mountains to Bridgeport. Thence he was conveyed by cars to Nashville, where his arm was operated upon. He had the care of a board of physicians, who experimented on the shattered arm, and it was decided he must suffer amputation; but the physician in charge gave the one single chance to save that useful member, and although he did not recover its use, 'tis left to mark a page in his life's history, and the service he freely gave his country and its flag. In consequence, he was honorably discharged, and upon recovery he bent his energies in attaining an education in the schools of this city, and attended Mercantile College, at Columbus, taking a course of telegraphing and penmanship. In 1872, he embarked in the mercantile trade at Pottersburg, and four years later returned to the home farm, where he was engaged until his election to the office of County Recorder in 1882, where he is at this time engaged. He has a farm of seventy acres in Allen Township, and a residence in this city. He was married in the fall of 1865 to Miss Nancy, daughter of Abraham Holycross, a native of Allen Township. Their children are Delmer N., Samuel N., Frank A. and William F. Mr. Jordan served as Clerk and Director in Allen Township, and is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Grand Army of the Republic. Politically, he is a thorough Republican.

ASHLEY KIGHTLINGER, contractor, Marysville. This family is of German extraction, the pilgrims of whom settled in Pennsylvania, where the parents, Abraham and Nancy, were born. They were among the pioneers of 1812 to Morrow County, Ohio, traveling from Pennsylvania with ox teams. They raised a family of six boys and six girls, eleven of whom are living. Five of the boys were soldiers in the three years' service of the Union army in the late rebellion, one of them enlisting the third time. Some of the children subsequently settled in Tazewell County, Ill., where the father died in the seventy-third year of his age. The subject of this sketch was born in Morrow County, Ohio, in 1835. Left an orphan when young, he had the rugged edge of life to fight, and without means he started out, finding employment in Indiana, and by strict economy and perseverance he was enabled to save enough to purchase thirty-five acres of land in Paris Township, paying $25 per acre for the same. This was the stepping-stone to his further success, which has been earned by hard labor and honest toil. In 1879, he moved to this city, and settled on his commodious place of fourteen acres, where he has since been engaged in teaming and contracting. He enlisted in the ranks of the Union army August 9, 1862, in Company K, Ninety-sixth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served until the close of the war. He participated in the battles of Chickasaw Bluff, Miss., December 29, 1862; Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863; Mobile, Ala., December 22, 1864; Sabine Cross Roads, La., April 8, 1864; Fort Gaines, Ala., August 2 to 23, 1864; Fort Morgan, Ala., August 5 to 23, 1864, and others. He was wounded at Vicksburg with a piece of shell, but lost no time in consequence. The marriage of Mr. K to Miss Amanda, daughter of Benjamin C. and Cynthia A. Grubb, occurred in October, 1858. Willie E. is the only living issue of this union. Mr. K. is a member of both branches of the I. O. O. F. order, of the G. A. R., and connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

M. C. LAWRENCE (deceased). Col. M. C. Lawrence was born in Marysville, Union Co., Ohio, April 20, 1832. His parents, William C. and Rosana (Piper) Lawrence, were both natives of Pennsylvania, and among the early pioneers of Delaware and Union Counties; the former was a graduate of Washington College, Pennsylvania, and a practicing attorney of this city until his death. The subject of this sketch acquired his education in the schools of this city, and began the study of law in the office of Judge Cole; he was admitted to the bar in 1858, and forming a partnership with his preceptor, began the practice of his chosen profession. He was one of the best-read lawyers in this district, and his opinions on questions of law were highly valued.

BILLY (WILLIAM H.) GRUBB (FL 4)

AND HIS WIFE MATTIE L. (MARTHA LUDICE) GREEN (FL 6)

Parents of May Grubb Dodd (1876-1949)

Billy Grubb (William Henry) was born Oct. 8, 1844 in Ohio in either Logan or Union County. His parents were Benjamin C. Grubb and Cynthia Ann Gregg, married June 23, 1837 at Marysville, Ohio. Both parents had been born in Ohio in 1820 - Benjamin C. in Union County, and Cynthia Ann at Marietta in Washington County.

Billy was the third of ten children born to them; all ten grew to adulthood which in itself was unusual in those days of high infant mortality.

Billy's father was a chairmaker in 1850 and a painter in 1860. In 1862, one year after Billy's own enlistment, Benjamin C., age 43 and the father of ten living children, enlisted in the Union army as a private for a term of three years. Father and son went off to war to fight for the Union, both in Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry. Benjamin C. never came back, laying down his life in Mississippi, close to Vicksburg. His remains were interred Grave 291 of Sec. E in the military cemetery at Vicksburg. In 1868, Billy's mother remarried - to a John Fleming of Marysville; she died in Kansas in 1892.

The Ohio census of both 1850 and 1860 show Billy attending school although at 15 he was big enough to be listed as "farm laborer" in 1860 as well. He must have hired out to area farmers to "help out", as the custom was.

As a mere boy Billy was converted, a religious experience described in those days as warm-hearted piety, involving repentance and a confession faith. Perhaps the experience occurred at a camp meeting in a farmer's grove, or perhaps at a protracted meeting in some schoolhouse, or maybe in the hewn log church before the special meeting house was built for God in rural Union County. In any case Billy soon thereafter joined the Methodist Church, and remained a life long religious man.

Billy Grubb in the Civil War

When 16 year old Billy Grubb enlisted in the Union army on August 19, 1861 at Jerome, Union County, Ohio he did not know what war was all about. In the next 4 years, his unit - Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry - would be in 20 different engagements from West Virginia to Louisiana, from Maryland to Alabama.

Lincoln's Grand Army of the Republic recruited many a western lad like Billy, young, handy with ax and rifle, and good on his feet for incredible marches required over difficult terrain.

Sept. 2 Private Billy Grubb's regiment arrived in Clarksburg, W. Va. In Weston, after being properly outfitted in blue, knapsack and dog tent, Billy joined Gen. Rosecrans at Sutton Heights; his first battle sounds were heard near Gawley River, at Carnifex Ferry on Sept. 6; here Co. E lost its first man.

Billy turned 17 in Oct. On Christmas day his regiment held its first dress parade at Fayetteville far from his Ohio home; then it served in detachments here and there for 8 months.

He was still a boy; growing up would come later after his father Benjamin C. joined Co. E in August, 1862. Their first major engagements with the enemy were in Sept. in the hills of Maryland - at South Mountain and three days later at Antietam. Here McClellan's 87,000 men engaged in a series of powerful attacks on Lee's 50,000, at the end of which the Grubbs - father and son fighting side by side - knew what war was about. It was hell; at South Mountain alone Co. E had 6 wounded and one killed in action; Antietam saw two more wounded.

In Jan. 1863, the 30th Ohio journeyed down the Ohio and Mississippi on high waters (much rain fell that winter), joining Grant's army at Helena, Ark., and was assigned to the Second Division of the 15th Army Corps. The Grubbs' first assignment was with pick and shovel in an alligator infested Louisiana swamp - digging a canal above Vicksburg which was supposed to float Grant's army in from above the city.

In March the regiment had to move over into Steele's Bayou to rescue gunboats stranded in some mean waters made thus by Confederates felling huge trees ahead of them to block the channel. Rebel sharpshooters opened fire on the rescue parties. The attempt tc raach the impregnable Vicksburg that way was abandoned. The regiment went back to Young's Point, to the canebrakes and the alligators, to continue work on Grant's big ditch.

While at this task Billy's 43 year old father fell ill, of swamp-induced quick consumption. He died in the regiment hospital 10 miles upstream at Milliken's Bend, Miss., and was later buried at Vicksburg after the toally unexpected seige of 47 days. But Vicksburg had yet to fall when the boy Billy heard of his father's death that 9th day of May, 1863.

The war must go on. Abandoning his ditches, hopeless from the outset, Grant marched his army on the west side of the Mississippi River through bayous roaring with bull alligators - to a place 25 miles below Vicksburg. Navy gunboats succeeded running the gauntlet of Rebel batteries - in the dark of night. Commandeered steamboats ferried the troops across, and the army at last was able to live off the fat of the delta lands as it moved on northward to join up with Sherman's army.

The troops thought Vicksburg would be easy pickings as the batteries boomed on May 19; the attack failed. In the battle of May 22, Grant lost 3,000 and gained little.

The 30th Ohio was constantly on picket duty, or engaged in assaulting the enemy's virtually impregnable breastworks for 47 days. Soldiers' clothes never came off their backs for four weeks. Thirteen miles of Union trenches connected Chickasaw Bluff to the great river rolling along too far away for most troops to even quench their thirst from its muddy waters.

On dull days the troops sand-bagged their trenches for added protection while Grant drank heavily at his steamer headquarters. Fever and ague were constant companions in the trenches. Confederate sharpshooters scored daily. Lines drew tighter.

Once on a quiet day some Union boys inpulsively scrambled out of the trenches to fraternize with the Rebs who, wearied of mule meat for breakfast, were picking blackberries. All shook hands, then their officers barked commands and both sides went back to firing as if nothing happened.

In Vicksburg on July 3 when food supplies ran out, the white flag went up; the Confederate flag came down. Grant had 31,00 prisoners; he paroled most and sent them home. As soon as the surrender ceremonies ended, the men of the two opposing armies mingled together on friendly terms. The Confederates got bacon for supper, instead of mule.

At Vicksburg, Billy's major who had organized Co. E in Union County, Ohio an eternity or so ago, was wounded as was his corporal; two privates like himself were wounded and one was killed. Billy's brother-in-law Ashley (sister Amanda's husband) with the 96th Ohio caught a piece of shell at Vicksburg; Ashley had 4 brothers also in the Union army.

Billy had to leave his father dead in Mississippi to engage in the pursuit of Gen. Johnston to Jackson. Now with Sherman's Army of the Tennessee, the regiment moved on Chattanooga. Billy, just turned 18, engaged in the assault on Missionary Ridge at this place. A couple days before the battle an eerie eclipse of the moon seemed to spell an omen to the troops, but for whom?

The Ridge was a steep rampart angling toward the Tennessee River; Confederate batteries ruled its impregnable crest while the Federals - Grant and Rosecrans, both Ohio men, and Pap Thomas' Cumberlands - held the valley below. The two opposing forces had been in position for two months when Sherman arrived with Billy's regiment in Nov.

The army proceeded to hammer the north end of the Ridge without success as Rebel marksmen from above held every advantate. One from Billy's Co. E was killed in action here.

Pap Thomas attacked the base of the Ridge, on the other side; his Cumberlands took the first line of trenches (did not stop there as commanded by Grant who smoked his cigar while ordering the assault from Orchard Knob in the valley) but continued to surge upward into gunsmoke clouds. Totally surprised by such audacity, Confederate battalions fled their posts and took off for Georgia. One Confederate slain left behind was a mere boy - 15, barefooted in November, his rations' sack containing but a handful of black beans and roasted acorns.

The next 50 years at G.A.R. reunions old soldiers argued what unit or what men had won the Ridge, as the crest was reached at six places simultaneously.

Gen. Pap Thomas ordered a military cemetery laid out on Orchard Knob. When the chaplain in charge of burial services asked if the Union dead - there were many - were to be buried by states, Thomas, tired of the issue of states' rights - said to "mix 'em up".

Washington orders sent Sherman and the 30th of Ohio - and Billy - to Knoxville to relieve Burnsides' ragged and hungry troops, that had they known it would soon be 'amply supplied' with the 10 freight cars of horseshoes! (For this story, read the chapter on the Dodd brothers' military career, for they were located here with their own Co. E of the 107th Illinois Infantry).

In Jan. 1864, Billy's Ohio company re-enlisted and went home for a well deserved rest.

When Private Billy came home to Jerome for a veteran's furlough that winter, his reunion with the Grubb family must have held a strange mixture of rejoicing and sorrow - rejoicing to be back among loved ones, sorrow for the father never more to see Ohio. How much of Benjamin C.'s sad end in the Louisiana swamps did he relate? Baby brother Benjamin F. was only 4 - too young to understand, but John now 15 (the age of the Confederate boy slain at Missionary Ridge) must have been wide-eyed with whatever war tales Billy chose to tell. Had Billy received his war wound (in the hand) by then, or was it yet to come at Kenesaw Mountain, or the Atlanta campaign, or where?

He saw that his mother was being provided for - with the $8.00 monthly widow's pension for herself and the 5 children yet minors. What a welcome change his mother's suppers were from army rations! And there must have been young girls at Sunday School who shyly looked over their hymn books at the at the young soldier home from the war. All too soon it was over. Back to hardtack and bacon and the infernal booming of batteries.

In May Billy Grubb, rested, joined Sherman once again, now in Georgia. During his march into the Atlanta campaign he was almost continously under fire. Three weeks' rain had turned the roads into quagmires. June 19 he reached the foot of Kenesaw Mountain where the Rebs had prepared an impregnable position. June 27 the assault began. Confederate guns blew the assault column all to pieces, inflicting a loss of 3,000. There was no way to get over Kenesaw Mountain, with its crest held by Southern guns. Co E. lost another private.

Crossing the Chattahoochee, Sherman went on to Atlanta with 90,000 strong. While Gen. Pap Thomas did battle at Peachtree Creek (the Dodd brothers in the 107th Illinois Infantry were engaged in this one, too), Sherman drew his net around Atlanta and settled in to put that little city under siege. It fell Sept. 2; Sherman had succeeded in cutting the railroad linking it to the rest of the South but he did not bag Hood's army. Pap Thomas led the Cumberlands back to Nashville, while Sherman laid plans for his notorious march to the sea.

Co. E of the 30th Ohio suffered its worst casualities at Atlanta - 7 of the little company were killed - the sergeant, two corporals and four privates.

One week after Lincoln's re-election in Nov. of 1864, Sherman's army started toward the sea, living on plantation sweet potatoes and smokehouse hams foraged along the way. They walked - no double-quick marching now - along the red roads, methodically wrecking the Southern economy in a 60 mile wide swath to Savannah, destroying factories and railroads, despoiling fields and civilian property. The "scorched earth" policy was successful; never again could this region serve as a base for s supplies for the Rebels. The Army of the Tennessee had become a destroying angel of vengeance. The South received its lesson that a Union army could cross the Confederacy, at will and at leisure.

In Savannah the Army of the Tennessee commandeered 25,000 bales of priceless cotton for Northern factories, and the diet changed to rice,despicable to corn-fed Western tastes. The hated rice diet ended at Fort McAllister where Co. E suferen another casualty when the army overwhelmed the Confederates, seizing their supply ships. To this place Sherman's army marched at night by moonlight beside a canal. Perhaps it was the light of a full moon mellowing the pines and live oaks that inspired it, for the tramping soldiers burst into the songs of Stephen Foster - "Swanee River" and "Old Kentucky Home".

Billy Grubb was discharged Dec. 29, 1864; a veteran of numerous battles, he had just turned 20. Of the original company of 106, fewer than two dozen would be discharged at a later date, most mustering out at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Had Billy been able to hang on another 21 weeks, he would have marched with his Co. E down Pennsylvania Ave before the White House to receive Pres. Andrew Johnson's salute in the Unions' victorious parade at war's end. Few remained of the original campany to pass in review that June day in Washington; the most battle-scarred had been discharged earlier, 10 had lost their lives in action, 15 had been seriously wounded (Billy's own wound was considered minor), 28 died including Billy's father of disease contracted in the service, 2 were taken prisoner by the enemy, and no one ever knew what happened to some, perhaps they deserted.

Billy went back to Union County, Ohio to his mother, and brothers and sisters. The family was growing up; between 1865 and 1870 its circle widened through marriage and the arrival of his sisters' children. By 1865 the oldest Mary E. was twice married; she would have 7 children, 5 of these dying in infancy.

Amanda, who married in 1858 before Ashley went to war, had one son, born 1864; Ashley Kightlinger's war wound at Vicksburg had not been serious enough to impede his business of teamstering and contracting. Josephine married in 1865, and sister Cynthia in 1866 who was to name her first son for the Northern hero of the Zouaves - Elmer Ellsworth.

Perhaps the greatest change in the Grubb family came when Billy's widowed mother Cynthia Ann remarried on Oct. 29, 1868 to John Fleming. In order for her minor children to continue to receive their father's military benefits, she made Mattie and Florence and little Benjamin F. wards of her capable son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger; he himself had been orphaned young and was the father of only one child himself.

By 1870 Billy Grubb made his matrimonial choice - the eldest daughter of widow Sarah Cole Green of Leesburg Twp. in Union County. Mattie L. (Martha Ludice) was her name; her father Amos H. Green had died only the year before - a highly respected member of his community.

Billy the veteran was 26 and redhaired Mattie L. nearly 18 when they took their marriage vows at Richwood, May 5, 1870. All their lives Billy (born William Henry) and Mattie L. would be called by their nicknames. Mattie L. was born where she had always lived, near Pharisburg, July 30, 1852.

Billy and Mattie L. farmed in Union County. Here the first 5 of their 7 children children were born: Millard Fillmore 18 ; Henry Harrison 18 ; Mary Anna May 1876; Benjamin

18 ; and Maude Bell 1881. The other two would be born in Kansas.

Just which of the Grubbs came to Kansas first can only be conjectured by this writer. Perhaps it was Arabella who had married James South, for their one child was born there in 1881. They lived in Coffey County; sister Mattie (m. to Alonzo Lawrence) also lived nearby at the same time. By 1891, two more sisters - Josephine (m. to Samuel Burge) and Cynthia (m. to Abe Kightlinger) showed up in Coffey County. By 1890 John and his family arrived to Utopia via Illinois and South Dakota. Florence arrived by 1892 and the youngest Benjamin F. in 1899, both to nearby Greenwood County. The Grubb children's own mother, now Cynthia Ann Fleming, came to Kansas some time for she died in 1892 at Utopia, Kansas.

Billy himself and Mattie L. and their 5 children came to Kansas in 1885 to take up farming in Bachelor Twp. of Greenwood County. It is reported by family members that he purchased a farm of 52 acres for $1800 near Utopia. The census of 1900 shows him still there - farming. Two more children were born - Roy F. 18 ; and Lee (Charles Leland) 18 .

All 7 of Billy's and Mattie L.'s children grew to maturity and married and moved about to follow their own dreams. Millard (m. Eva McMullen) moved to Oklahoma in the early days of the oil boom. Harry (Henry, m. Alice Allen) spent all his days as a Kansas farmer, and his only child Beulah Grubb became one of the largest holders of farming land in that part of Kansas. May (Mary Anna May, m. John Edgar Dodd) became the mother of 8 children (May was the writer's grandmother). Benjamin (m. Edith Olds) was many years a barber in Eureka, Ks., and perhaps the most like his father Billy. Maude Bell (m. Otto Donaldson) became the mother of 9; she lived the longest, dying in Eureka just 90 days short of her 100th birthday; this Aunt Maude was the one who marshalled forces for our family reunions in Eureka. Roy (m. Blanch Jones) and Lee(m. Mae Glendenning) were both Greenwood County farmers for many years.

Billy and Mattie L. had over 30 grandchildren. One of them was Leonard E. Dodd. But for Billy, Leonard would have been born in a log cabin with a dirt floor in the Cherokee Nation.

Billy's daughter May had married John Edgar Dodd in Kansas in 1898. They had two children (Jesse and Ruby) by 1901. Spring of that year found them in Oklahoma where John Edgar opened a little restaurant among the Indian alotments near Vera, Oklahoma. Timberlands about here had plenty of persimmons and paw paws and rattlers and Indians, but little else in those days. May never saw a white woman for 6 months as she and her aunt Mattie Lawrence (Billy's sister) were the only white females along this section of Caney River. When Aunt Mattie's husband Alonzo died in 1901,May Dodd picked wild flowers in the April woods for the only flowers on his coffin.[3]

When Billy Grubb heard of these primitive conditions, he and his son Benny came down to Oklahoma Territory and took May home to his farm at Utopia for the birth of the baby, her third, a son Leonard E. Dodd (the writer's father), born Jan. 31, 1903. It would be two years before May and John Edgar Dodd would return to Oklahoma - this time to a little cotton farm in Pawnee County farther west.

My father Leonard, of course, did not remember his grandfather who spared him a log-cabin origin for the old soldier died in 1908. For the last year of his life poor health had confined him to his bed as a constant sufferer. He passed away Dec. 21, age 64, at 11 o'clock on a Monday morning at his farm home; his funeral was conducted on Christmas day by Rev. Oliver of Hamilton.

Billy was religious to the end. At the time of his death he was a member of the Free Methodist Church. That conservative denomination had formed back in 1860, partly as a by-product of anti-slavery movement dividing denominations North and South, partly as a protest of growing laxity among Methodists. I have heard Billy spoken of in our family as a "shouting Methodist".

Interment was made in Greenwood Cemetery, Eureka, Kansas. His gravestone still stands - sheltered by one of the ubiquitous cedars in Kansas cemeteries - and on its mossy surface is engraved his loyalty to the Union cause - Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry. To this day patriots decorate his grave with the American flag as they do all the Union dead on Memorial Day.

My father Leonard came to know his grandmother Mattie L. very well; for many years she lived in the next block north of our home. But before Mattie L. bought the tiny white house at 1115 North Oak in 1928, she sold the Bachelor Twp. farm, and taking her youngest, Lee, went into Utopia to become that village's postmistress.

We often visited Grandma Grubb. She was nearing 80 when I first remembered her - slight, red hair silvered over, spirited in temperment. Her tiny white house in Eureka contained a cookstove, considered old fashioned in Kansas even in 1930. And she used it to cook, for she felt food prepared any other way positively unfit for human consumption. The cooky jar on her table always contained sugar cookies, as I the cooky snitcher can well recall!

There are other early memories about Grandma Grubb - her pride in her membership in the Daughters of Rebekah Lodge, the blue bachelor buttons (we called them ragged robins) that grew alongside the morning glory vine clinging to twine trainers on her front stoop; and, for some reason, a handcrafted rocker she highly prized from her own distant past. I wonder now if it had not been made by Billy's father, the chairmaker.

Mattie L. lived 6 months longer than did my father Leonard, her grandson and neighbor down the street. They were both buried in Greenwood Cemetery, one the day before Thanksgiving, the other the following May. She was laid to rest beside her husband, 68 years and 9 days after she was married to Billy the soldier in Ohio. She was 86.

ENDNOTES AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

1. Personal data was obtained from Ruby Christopher, Amarillo, Texas; from Ohio Census of 1850 and 1860; from the Civil War service record of Benjamin C. Grubb obtained from Washington D.C. Also from material shared by Sharon Owen, Box 133, Azalea, Oregon, which she assembled Feb. 12, 1983. Mrs. Owen received some her information from Jo Stephens, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Myrtle Williams, Arlington Heights, Illinois; All three are descendants of Benjamin C. Grubb. This packet of materials contained some interesting documentation — some clippings and records concerning these progenitors: Grubb, Green, Gregg, and Goldsberry.

2. Civil War material is gleaned from the Union County of the 30th Ohio Infantry, particularly Co. E; from the historical writings of Pulitzer Prize winner Bruce Catton noted for his moving analysis of the Civil War; from a college text written by one of my history professors at the University of Illinois, Richard N. Current.

3. This story comes from the children of these principals - Walter Lawrence, son of Mattie Lawrence, and from Ruby Christopher, daughter of May Dodd.

LINEAGE:

At this writing his parentage has yet to be proved. He was possibly descended from EMMANUEL GRUBB (1682-1767) of Pennsylvania, as it is believed that some Kansas Grubbs descended from this colonial Pennsylvanian, and 7 of Benjamin C. Grubb's 10 adult children with their families are known to have settled in Kansas in the late 1880's, in either Coffey County or nearby Greenwood County. In fact, his own widow Cynthia Ann died in this latter county in Kansas in 1892.

Or Benjamin C. may have been a descendant of that first Grubb in Ohio Territory - PETER GRUB - who appears in Washington County, Oh. in 1800 before statehood. (Wash. Co. in those early days included present day counties of Hamilton, Adams, Jefferson, Fairfield, Belmont, Gallia, Columbiana and Ross). It was at Ross that a Peter Grub (b. before 1765) located before 1800, along with the Gregg and Goldsberry families coming later (ca. 1820), and these were known to belong to the family of Benjamin C.'s wife - Cynthia Ann Gregg Grubb.

This Peter Grub appears in Ohio's first state census of 1803, in Waterford Twp. of Washington County. He was still located here in 1810, age 45 or older, with apparently a somewhat younger wife; they had 9 children in the home - 5 sons (2 under 10 yrs. of age; 3 over 16) and 4 daughters (3under 10; 1 between 10 & 16).

If related to this Peter Grub, Benjamin C. must have been a grandson as he was not born until 1817-20.

It is thought that Peter Grub was a Revolutionary War soldier.

THE LOGAN COUNTY YEARS:

Benjamin C. is believed to have been born in either Logan or in Union County, Ohio. It is easy to understand the uncertainty when one considers that Union Co. was not even formed until Jan. 20, 1820, and then a 3 mile wide strip was taken from Logan Co. and attached to the new Union County. However, he did marry his wife Cynthia Ann Gregg in Union Co. in 1837, at Marysville where she lived with her parents from 1829; her father William Gregg (b. 1785) died here at this place in 1846. By that date Benjamin C. and Cynthia Ann were living in Zane township of Logan Co., and having their children there.

The Grubb name does not appear in the Union Co. census of 1820 and 1830. However, several by that surname are known to have lived in nearby Logan County, in either Jefferson or Zane townships.

Best conjecture

Early Zane Twp Grubbs include William (b. 1778 1770-80) and Levi whose farm land was acquired to establish the village of Middleburg (1832). (There was also a Christopher Grubbs (b. 1800-1810) on Mill Creek in Perry Twp. in 1836), his son b. 1804 in Culpepper Court House, VA. This fam. emig to Log. Co, Oh, c. 1806 & may have been O.K.??
Wm. was a tavern keeper; he laid out Middleburg

Early Jefferson twp. Grubbs include -

(1. Andrew (b. before 1800) and Mary Grubb, charter members of the second oldest church in the township known as Tharp's Run Baptist Church in 1819, they having moved to this place from King's Creek (once called Taylortown becase Taylors donated land for a Baptist church and burial ground) in Champaign County, Ohio. Apparently, Andrew Grubb and wife, along with 14 other constituent members from King's Creek had been dismissed from the Baptist church there expressly for the purpose of building this new log church at Tharp's Run. Andrew was appointed deacon in 1819.

(2. Daniel Grubbs (b. 1780-90) also lived near Tharp's Run on a farm known as Survey #6447, south of Zanesfield.

Relationship of any of the above to Benjamin C. Grubb, which is probable, has yet to be proved.

Zane township was composed entirely of Virginia Military Land. It was named for settler Isaac Zane (b. 1753) who had been captured young by Indians and married afterwards into the tribe; he died at Zanesville, 1816. Many settlers here had fathers who had been in the Revolutionary War.

The oldest twp. in Logan Co., it was settled by homespun clad settlers who came to its unbroken forests by horse cart, pack horse and by poled dugout canoe. These came without shoes (hogskin packs wrapped their feet), clocks, stoves, or scissors (quilt blocks were cut with a sharp knife). They built log cabins in forests teeming with bold bears, stalking panthers, and other ferocious beasts. Their children got lost in the woods, raccoons destroyed their crops, and wolves killed their sheep, the source of their clothing.

But there were itinerants to brighten their days - the pewter tinkers, the traveling shoemakers to make them shoes at 50¢ a pair, the circuit riding preachers with news from the outside and good news from the Good Book, and, of course, that great traveler Johnny Appleseed, himself a zealous if eccentric Christian of the Swedenborgian persuasion. In frontier cabins all the way from Ohio to Iowa he tramped barefooted, to expound on the Scriptures. Along with pips from Pa. cider mills, he distributed religious books, tearing the latter in half to make them go farther. In Zane twp. he planted a nursery to begin the orchards which by 1835 produced apple brandy. Clad in coffee sacks, wearing his mush pot on his head for a hat (this also freed both arms to carry his sack of pips and religious books, he went on his wilderness way. Sleeping in hollow logs, tender to all of God's creatures, he never harmed a mosquito much less a bear or rattlesnake.

Zane's earliest settlers were deeply religious. Among these numbered the Quakers who from 1825 harbored runaway slaves at a nearby underground station. The twp. early held to strong anti-slavery beliefs. Could this strong sentiment have influenced aging Benjamin C. Grubb who lived here many years to join the Union forces at a time when 43 or 45 was considered old?

Although married in 1837 at Marysville in Union County home of his bride Cynthia Ann, Benjamin C. and wife are known to have lived in Logan County, Zane twp. from 1840 through 1848 until after their 6th child - John W.- was born. The 1850 Ohio census shows this family had moved to nearby Union County where the remainder of their 10 children was born. His trade at this time was that of chairmaker; there is no evidence that he was ever a farmer. as most men in his area.

One may well wonder if Benjamin C. learned the trade at the chair factory in operation in the 1840's at Middleburg in Zane twp. This region was noted for its mighty forest of walnut and oak. In addition sugar maples were also abundant and many a land owner had hundreds of these maples on their farms, so much so that the production of maple sugar became a leading industry, selling at 3¢ a lb.

ADDENDUM: (CON'T) Benjamin C. Grubb

As most Zane children attended school from the earliest days, Benjamin C.'s oldest would have learned to read from Webster's speller and the New Testament, to do ciphers as taught by female teachers. In addition to being educated in the rudiments of the day, the family was probably strongly religious, as son William H., at least, was all his life a staunch Methodist from early boyhood.

Pioneer preachers in Logan County included homely little Russell Bigelow the Methodist evangelist, renowned but eccentric Lorenzo Dow who carried meat and bread in pocket to be beholden to none, the "White Pilgrim" Joseph Thomas whose white clothing was to reflect the glory of the saints, the boisterous revivalist Peter Cartwright, the farmer Joshua Inskeep on whose farm where Johnny Appleseed planted the nursery in 1810, the popular barefooted "Father Hopkins", he of the tow-linen breeches - all these rode through pathless forests to fill appointments, swimming bridgeless streams if necessary, in order to preach with great power the unsearchable riches of Christ.

Camp meetings were common in Logan County; for these meetings Methodists and Presbyterian commonly united to promulgate the Gospel but Baptists tended toward close communion. These were prolonged outdoor assemblages numbering in the thousands. In rough clearings improvised tents were pitched, campfires lighted the night, hymns were solemnly chanted (even Shawnee and Delaware Indians joined in), and earnest exhortations emotionally delivered. Often peculair bodily exercises such as jerking, barking and falling under the Power attended these wilderness meetings. But generally camp meetings brought good effects to a rough frontier.

These camp meetings and preachers must have had a profound effect on the Grubbs, especially on the young William H., for this ancestor of mine was known to be a "shouting" Methodist all his days until his death in 1908.

Benj. C's uncle Chris was an ardent abolitionist & sent 5 sons to Civil War.

One may well wonder if Benjamin C. and William H. Grubb, father and son, saw in the Union cause a religious significance to freeing the slaves as Julia Ward Howe did in 1861 when she penned the lyrics to the famous crusading marching song of the Union forces - "The Battle Hymn of the Republic". In any case Benjamin C. bravely fought at South Mountain and Antietam in Maryland before dying in the line of duty near Vicksburg, Mississippi. His son Willliam H. went on to the battles of Vicksbury, Mission Ridge, Kenesaw Mountain and Atlanta before mustering out to begin his life as a farmer in Ohio and Kansas.

In 1860 Benjamin C.'s occupation was that of a painter in Union County, probably painting real board farm dwellings now a far cry from the old log cabin and pole barn days of his youth. It is not known at this writing which Union County Grubbs of that period were related to him, but his wife Cynthia Ann's married siblings were living, or had lived in Union County - Isabella Westlake, Jane Wells, and William M. Her brother Edward, however, had moved on to Logan County (1850 - Lake Twp.) and his widow Maria and his children still resided in that County in 1860 (Pleasant Twp).

IN JULY, 1889, TWENTY-FOUR YEARS AFTER THE CIVIL WAR ENDED, THE EUREKA HERALD PRINTED THIS LIST OF MEN THEN LIVING IN GREENWOOD COUNTY WHO HAD SERVED IN THE UNION AND CONFEDERATE ARMIES.

VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR

In 1889 there were more than 700 veterans of the War of the Rebellion living in Greenwood County. The names of more than 500, with their company and regiment, are listed here.

At the war's end in 1865 each Union soldier was given a grant of 160 acres of land in the West, with permission to buy additional land at $1.25 per acre. Many of the men simply sold their rights, but a sizeable number came to Kansas and took title.

Almost every Northern state, as well as some of the Confederate ones, is represented in this list. Illinois dominates, with about a fourth of the veterans having served in infantry or cavalry units of that state. Ohio is next, then Indiana, Kansas, Missouri.

The average Civil War soldier was a farm boy between 18 and 30 years old. He had little formal education, and was given only rudimentary military training. Prompted to enlist by patriotism, love of adventure, or an enlistment bonus, most of the soldiers soon were subjected to extreme hardships.

Normally, a man joined a military company (approx. 120 men and officers) raised in his home community. The company then went to a state training camp where it joined other units. At the conclusion of basic training, ten companies were banded together as a regiment and mustered into service. The regiment then received orders assigning it to duty in the field.

Military records of these former servicemen are available from the National Archives, Washington, D. C. Generally, records will include a photostat copy of his enlistment and discharge papers, plus information about battles he may have been in, wounds, places of imprisonment if he was a captive of the enemy, payments received, and other pertinent information. In most instances, some extremely interesting historical data will be found.

The Bluestem Genealogical Society has a supply of the forms which must be used in applying for records from the Archives, and they are available at the Historical Museum in Eureka. For photocopying the military records, the Archives makes a charge of $5.00.

OLD SOLDIERS

In Greenwood county there are more than seven hundred "Old Soldiers," soldiers of the war of 1861-65, and The Herald intends, from week to week, to publish their names with company and regiment. Below you will find the last installment. As these old boys will not be with you a very great many years, preserve their names by pasting in your scrap books.

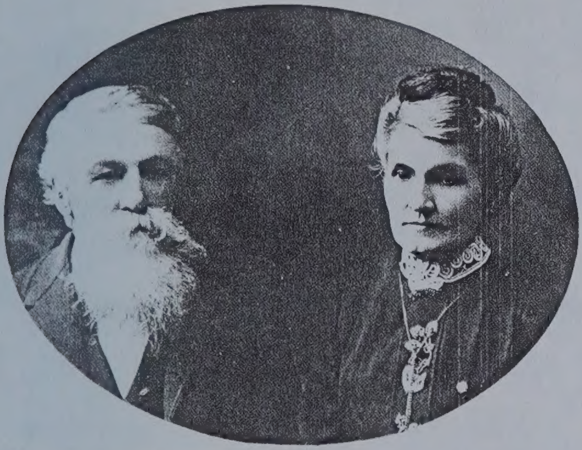
The Granville Griffith Family

Granville Griffith, son of Joseph R. and Caroline (Guthrie) Griffith, was born in Ross County, Ohio, December 17, 1835. At age five his parents moved to Paris, Edgar County, Illinois, where Granville graduated from the Edgar Academy in 1849.

In 1856 he started for Kansas having to walk from Keokuk, Iowa, to Topeka, arriving without a dollar. He settled on the Neosho River near Hartford in Lyon County, his home being a primitive log cabin.

Mr. Griffith borrowed a team and farm implements from his neighbor, and after two years of hard work owned his own team. He later planted nearly 1000 fruit trees, which produced an abundant crop for several years.



Granville & Cinderilla Griffith-1906

In July 1862, Mr. Griffith married Mary E. Hale. They had two children: Joseph L. (born September 1863), and James E. (born November 1864). Mrs. Griffith died in 1870. Six years later Mr. Griffith rented out his farm and moved to Eureka.

On September 21, 1879, Granville married Cinderilla (Clutter) Hill, daughter of Samuel W. and Sarah (Morlin) Clutter. She was born May 7, 1855, in Knox County, Ohio. To this union were born two sons, Francis G. (born 1881), and Juan P. (born 1888).

Mr. Griffith served as Justice of the Peace and was a member of Ossian Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

In 1906 Granville and Cinderilla Griffith moved to Spokane, Washington. Mr. Griffith died there June 1, 1913. Mrs. Griffith remained there until her death on November 15, 1932, from injuries suffered after being hit by an automobile.

Francis (Frank) Griffith married Leona Graham, daughter of Henry C. and Melvina (Cline) Graham of Eureka in 1902. He died in Los Angeles County, California, in 1941.

Juan P. Griffith married Clinda S. Repp, daughter of Sam W. and Margaret (Eshelman) Repp in 1909. He died in 1918 at his home near Hartford from influenza.

William H. Grubb

William H. Grubb was born to Benjamine and Cynthia Gregg Grubb on October 8, 1844, in Logan County, Ohio. At the age of 18 he enlisted in Co. E, 30th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Benjamine Grubb also fought in the Civil War in the same Company as his son, William. Benjamine was 43 and the father of ten children when he enlisted. He died during the war, only nine months after he enlisted.

William was injured May 22, 1865, at the Siege of Vicksburg while "charging on...the Rebels." He then returned home and was united in marriage to Martha "Mattie" Green. After his discharge, William Grubb was a farmer with a partial disability.

To this union were born seven children: Millard, Harry, May, Benjamin, Maude, Roy and Charles Lealand. They lived in Ohio until 1885, and then came to Kansas. His children grew up and were educated in Greenwood County.

In 1901 Mrs. Grubb was postmaster of the small town of Utopia, with Harry Grubb as her assistant. The post office was later moved to the Grubbs' home. William died at his home near Utopia December 21, 1908, of sciatic rheumatism. Funeral services were conducted at the Utopia school house, and interment was in Greenwood Cemetery. Mattie Grubb died May 16, 1938, and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery.

Son, Charles "Lea", was born January 2, 1895, at Utopia. One evening several years later following a revival meeting at Utopia Baptist Church, he walked home a young woman who attended school at Utopia. She would later become his bride. He married Cora "Mae" Glendenning in Madison, Kansas, May 16, 1917. They had eight children: Leo (who died as a child), William, Alice, Milton, Kenneth, Raymond, Wayne, and Carol.

They lived in several places in Greenwood County. While living in District #101; William, Alice and Milton went to a country school called Pleasant Plain. This one-room schoolhouse, heated by one coal stove, had about 40 children of all ages. Later the Grubb children would attend school in Quincy and Virgil. Lea Grubb was a farmer and served as custodian for the Virgil school system. He died January 18, 1982, at the age of 87.

Lea and Mae's youngest daughter, Carol, married a classmate, James McKenzie, and they lived in Greenwood County for a short period before moving to Butler County.

Lawson Parrett Griffith

Lawson Parrett Griffith, son of Abraham Rinehart Griffith and Sarah Parrett, was born in Fayette County, Ohio, December 16, 1839. He married Sarah Meliza, daughter of John and Barbary Meliza, April 3, 1862, in Piatt County, Illinois.

In 1876 the Griffith family moved to Kansas in a covered wagon, settling in Greenwood County. L.P. Griffith bought Osage Indian Trust Land in Sec. 34, T26 R8 with an address of Collins. There they built a stone house. In 1880 they moved to Anderson County, Kansas, where the family farmed. However, because of asthma, L.P. Griffith had to live in the higher elevations of Colorado, where he died in February 1887. The Greenwood County land was sold in 1888. For the rest of their lives, the children talked about the years they lived in Greenwood County, including mention of the Indians who went past their door on their way to get salt. Lawson P. and Sarah Griffith had ten children: Lysander Griffith; Porter Griffith; George Griffith who died young; Mollie Russell; Amy Frazier; Etna Marple a twin; Eddie Griffith a twin, who died young; Nellie Barnes Marple Taggert; Grace Smith; and John Griffith.

Rodney Grimes Family

Rodney R. Grimes was born 25 July 1837 near Leesburg, Virginia, youngest son of George and Elizabeth Grimes' thirteen children. His ancestors had lived in Maryland with the earliest arriving in 1637. Rodney's family moved when he was five or six years old to a farm near Center Point, Indiana, where he grew to manhood and moved into history by joining the Union Army with periods of service: 22 April to 6 August 1861, 20 August 1861 to 6 August 1862, and 30 May 1863 to 10 February 1865. The second period was terminated by illness with partial loss of sight. It was during this third period that he was struck in the shoulder by a cannon ball near the Chattahoochee River in the Battle of Atlanta and was so severely wounded that he was mustered out of the army. This part of his life is highly documented by records in the National Archives.

Rodney had married, 11 October 1864, to Margaret Ellen Williams, b 14 May 1843, daughter of John Williams, a neighbor whose background included teaching school, practicing medicine, preaching, and being county treasurer. Because Rodney was no longer capable of farming, he too, became a doctor.

In 1871 the Rodney Grimes' family emigrated to Kansas by covered wagon and took up a homestead in Greenwood County. An incident occurred on the way when Margaret fell off a wagon and broke a bone in her leg. Her blond, five year old, Emma Grimes, was impressed and commented that, "If Ma dies, I get her hair (long and dark) for a switch".

Samuel & Mattie Slough

Glen married Louise Huggins and they have three children: Barbara, George and Sandra.

Sam Slough and his brother, John, had been in Kansas during the Civil War. They came from a large family and all of that open land looked tempting. They signed up to receive land after the war. John was killed in the Civil War, but Sam and a buddy paid whatever was necessary to get the land. Sam later bought out his buddy and so was able to homestead in Kansas.

Phillip Smethers Family

Phillip and Mary Ricker Smethers moved west to the Eureka area in 1858 from Madison County, Indiana, probably drawn by the reports from relatives of better land to be farmed.

Phillip Smethers was born in Greene County, Tennessee, on November 9, 1800. It is believed that his parents were Phillip and Eve Ricker Smethers, who were born in Pennsylvania and were of German descent. Phillip died in Greenwood County on June 23, 1880. Mary "Polly" Ricker was also born in Greene County, Tennessee, February 25, 1807. Her parents were Jacob and Catherine Mysinger Ricker, who were born in Pennsylvania. They were of Protestant German descent. Mary died February 15, 1895, in Greenwood County. Both Phillip and Mary are buried in the Greenwood Cemetery at Eureka.

Phillip and Mary were married in Greene County, Tennessee, in June of 1823. Ten children were born to this union. They are: Jacob (born about 1824) and died young; Sarah (born about 1826) and married William McMurtry; John (born about 1828) and also died young; Mary Ann (born May 5, 1833, and died January 30, 1916), married first, Oscar Valentine, who died, and second, Rev. R.R. Brady; Phillip (born about 1835) and died young; William (born September 8, 1838, and died February 6, 1917), married Sarah Williams on October 6, 1867, in Greenwood County; Henry (born about 1842 and died September 14, 1919), married Anna Eliza Hohimer on November 2, 1863, in Greenwood County; Reubin (born about 1844 and died July 18, 1873), married Malissa Glaze on July 27, 1865, in Greenwood County; Louvina Catherine (born March 12, 1846, died October 6, 1933), married James Mills, Jr. on December 31, 1868, (see James Mills, Jr. History); Anderson (born July 25, 1849, died January 30, 1931), married first, Emily Glaze, who died, and second, Mary Viola Wantland, from whom he divorced on May 29, 1894.

Submitted by great granddaughters, Emma Jo Chapman Spurrell and Patricia Chapman Woods; whose maternal grandmother was Emma Viola Smethers Raybell, daughter of Anderson Smethers.

Franklin Rollin Smith

Franklin Rollin Smith of Nokomis, Illinois, was born July 16, 1853. His parents, William and Merivay Morris Smith, for unknown reasons left their very young son with George and Mary Ann Middlecoff to raise.

In 1873, Franklin Smith, age 20, bought land in Montgomery County, Illinois, from the Middlecoffs for $500, in preparation for the family that was soon to come. In fact, two years later, on December 30, 1875, he entered into marriage with Miss Florence Matilda Grubb.

"Tillie", as Franklin called his wife, was born September 29, 1858, the daughter of Benjamin and Cynthia Ann Gregg Grubb. Matilda's father, Benjamin Grubb, served in the Civil War, Company "E", 30th Regiment of Ohio Volunteers. He died in 1863 in the Regimental Hospital at Milliken's Bend, Mississippi, and is buried in the National Military Cemetery at Vicksburg, Mississippi. Benjamin is the brother of William Grubb, who settled in Greenwood County in 1885. father

Florence Matilda Grubb Smith

Two children were born to Franklin and Matilda on their farm in Illinois: George F. in September of 1876, and two years later Della Pearl was born, in September of 1878. In 1880, when the children were ages four and two, respectively, Franklin and Matilda packed their young family and belongings and made their way to Kansas, suffering all the hardships of traveling by wagon.

After reaching Greenwood County, Kansas, F.R. Smith purchased land in Bachelor Township. Five more children were born after the Smiths settled into their new home. Carl S. was born in December of 1881 and lived till the age of two, Florence Ethel was born in March of 1886, Stella G. was born in July of 1887, Rollin Edgar was born in April of 1889, and Glenwood M. was born in July of 1898. All are deceased.

Growing up on the grassy plains, the family saw many storms. As a young woman, Della Pearl, the eldest daughter, would tell of one particularly fierce thunderstorm, when a fireball entered through the kitchen stove, rolled around the room and out the door.

The William Alexander Smith Family

William Alexander Smith, Sr. was born in Monroe County, Kentucky, on February 21, 1849. He was the son of Malinda Lancaster and Henry H. Smith. I have record of four of the Smith children being in Lane Township, Greenwood County, Kansas, before 1870, including William A., Sr., Samuel Bishop, Emanuel and Lillie.

Henry, Malinda, Samuel Bishop, William Alexander, Sarah, John, Lilly and Emanuel Smith were found to be living in Coffey County, Kansas, on the 1865 census record. In 1870 they are listed as living in Burlington, Coffey County, Kansas. Henry died February 27, 1893, and was buried in Virgil Cemetery, with a homemade red sandstone grave marker.

Samuel married Sarah Johnson, and their known children were Francis, Frank, Walter, Clarence and Clara. Samuel was a barber living in Virgil.

This Benjamin of UNION + LOGAN COUNTIES, OH., IS NOT OUR Benjamin Co

property on which he now makes his home, a tract of 137 acres. Mr. Green held his Kansas farm until 1914, when he disposed of his interests there and prepared to spend the rest of his life in Logan county. Modern and progressive in his methods and ideas, he is numbered among the men who have contributed to the advancement of his community and to the elevation of its agricultural standards. October 17, 1900, Mr. Green was united in marriage with Lottie McCardle, who was born in Lake township, Logan county, Ohio, and educated in the public schools of Bellefontaine, a daughter of William and Catherine (Painter) McCardle. Three children have been born to this union: Robert, Iscah and Lottie. Mr. Green is a popular and valued member of Lyons Lodge No. 167, of the Knights of Pythias, at Lyons, Kans., now of East Liberty, Ohio. He is a Republican in politics and takes a good citizen's interest in public matters.

Benjamin Grubbs, whose entire life, beginning with his tenth year, has been passed in Logan county, where, starting as a hired farm hand, he has progressed through his innate qualities of industry and integrity to the ownership of a highly-productive farm and the position of a substantial member of the community, was born in Union county, Ohio, March 14, 1879, a son of Alonzo and Abbie (Palmer) Grubbs, natives of the same county. Alonzo Grubbs was a lifelong farmer and mill owner in Union and Logan counties, moving to the latter in 1889 and buying a sawmill, which he conducted for some time. Subsequently, he moved to Middleburg, where he set up a mill which he is still conducting, in addition to which he has followed farming extensively for the past fifteen years. He and his wife were the parents of eight children, of whom four are living at this time: William, Alonzo, Nellie and Benjamin. Benjamin Grubbs was reared to farm life in boyhood and during the winter terms attended the public school at Middleburg, the rest of his time being pased in his father's mill. When he left home he secured employment as a farm hand, continuing thus until his marriage, when he rented a farm of forty-four acres. He remained on this property only one years, but continued as a renter until he was able to buy a farm of forty acres in Zane township, and operated this until in the fall of 1919, he bought the Conover farm of 207 acres, on which he does general farming, raises stock, milks sixteen cows and maintains a small sugar camp of 600 vessels. He likewise owns a threshing outfit, with which he operates in this part of the county during season, and in all of his ventures his good management, industry and progressiveness have combined to make his operations successful. In 1903 Mr. Grubbs married Mary, daughter of Thomas and Agnes Patrick, and to this union there have been born eight children: Esther, Ruth, Lorraine, Robert, Kenneth, Olive Mae, Velora and Willard. Mr. Grubbs is a member of the Odd Fellows lodge at Middleburg. His political tendencies cause him to support the Democratic party.

Benjamin Grubbs (of Alonzo & Abbie Palmer Grubbs)

Snyder and purchased a farm of sixty acres in Washington township, where he went into debt heavily. After fourteen years of agricultural operations he sold out at a large profit, with all indebtedness cleared and a substantial sum with which to begin a new venture, and March 11, 1918, purchased part of his present established hardware business at Lewistown, as a partner of his brother-in-law. He now has exclusive ownership of this enterprise, and here carries a full and up-to-date line of shelf and heavy hardware, and has built up a splendid patronage in this rich agricultural country. He is a man of geniality and cordiality, good judgment, tact and business ability, while his integrity and honorable dealing have contributed greatly to his business success. In politics he is a Democrat and has always stood true to his principles, while his public service has included acting in the capacity of township clerk of Washington township and a support of all movements in favor of the public schools. Mr. Griffith is a trustee and past grand of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows No. 840, at Lewistown, and a member of Encampment No. 73, of Bellefontaine. September 26, 1889, Mr. Griffith married Mary L. Lee, who was born in Logan county, April 22, 1875, and educated in the common and normal schools, following which she was one of the successful teachers of the county until her marriage to Mr. Griffith. She is a member of the Methodist Protestant church and of the Ladies' Aid Society, and is prominent in the community, being secretary of the Twentieth Century Club, although domestic in her tastes and a great lover of home. Her parents, who are both deceased, rest in Plum Cemetery. Two children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Griffith: Gail L., a graduate of the Lewistown High School, who is his father's assistant in the store and Helen E. B., a first-year student in the Lewistown High School making a special study of music. All in the family are members of the Methodist Protestant church.

Edward M. Grubb. Among the men of Logan county who through long years of connection with agricultural affairs have honorably impressed themselves upon their communities, one who is deserving of more than passing mention is the late Edward M. Grubb. During the long period in which he was engaged in farming in Jefferson township he sturdily fulfilled the duties and responsibilities of good citizenship, and when he passed to his reward, March 12, 1902, left behind him to mourn many who admired and respected him for his numerous sterling qualities of heart and mind. Mr. Grubb was born in Jefferson township, on the farm now occupied by his son, November 1, 1841, a son of Jesse and Mary Ann (Mason) Grubb, natives of Virginia. Both had come to Logan county as young people, overland, and their marriage took place on the Jefferson township homestead which they had cleared from the wilderness. Here they rounded out honorable Christian careers, and passed away with the love and confidence of those among whom they had lived so long. Of their seven children, five grew to maturity: Edward M., William, Mary, Catherine and Martha. Edward M. Grubb received his education in the public schools of Jefferson township and after finishing his studies applied himself to farming, a vocation which he followed throughout his life and in which he gained honorable and well-merited success, being the owner of a tract of eighty acres, a part of the old Mason homestead, when he died. He was content to follow the life of a simple agriculturist and did not seek political honors nor public preferment, but was always interested in the welfare of his community and was a stalwart supporter of good movements. He was a member of the Grange and consistently lived up to the faith of the Baptist church. Mr. Grubb was married May 20, 1866, to Emeline Sloan, who was born at Zanesfield, Logan county, Ohio, a daughter of Dr. Andrew and Susan (Clark) Sloan. Dr. Andrew Sloan was born in Venango county, Pa., and at the age of twenty-one years cames to Zanesfield, Ohio, where he followed the vocation of veterinary surgeon. During the early days it was his custom to buy horses, and when he had accumulated a sufficiently large drove would take them to Cincinnati for sale. It was at Zanesfield that Doctor Sloan prepared the original formula for the famous liniment known all over the country as Sloan's Liniment, the ownership of which, since his death, has been in the hands of his son, Dr. Earl S. Sloan. In 1872 Doctor Andrew Sloan, who had married Susan Clark, a native of Lebanon, Mass., moved with his family to Chillicothe, Mo., where he practised for several years and also bought stock. Later he returned to Logan county and made his home at Bellefontaine until the death of his wife, February 3, 1893, after which he moved to the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grubb, and there passed away August 8, 1896. Mrs. Grubb died May 14, 1920. There were six children in the Sloan family: Foreman, Emeline, Dr. Earl S., Angeline, Andrew and Henry. To Mr. and Mrs. Grubb there were born three children: Walter J., who married Elizabeth Huber and has one son, Earl; Myrtle M., married Wm. M. Bishop. He passed away and she married Coulter Allen. By the first union there were three children, Nevada Pearl, Edward M. and Lucile; Nevada Pearl married Elmer Zook and has three children, Forest, Howard and Walter, while Lucile married Guy Puttman and has one child, Frederick; and Wilbur A., who is single and now makes his home on the Jefferson township farm.

Marion Green. During a long and honorable career in Logan county, Marion Green, of West Liberty, has secured the esteem and friendship of his fellow-men and has so directed his affairs that he is entitled to be enumerated among the locality's representative men. Mr. Green was born on a farm in Monroe township, Logan county, Ohio, August 15, 1859, a son of Lanson and Anna (Bishop) Green, the former a native of Monroe township and the latter of New Jersey. The grandfather of Mr. Green was George R. Green, who immigrated to this county via the overland route from Kentucky and settled in Monroe township, where he resided during the remainder of his life. Lanson Green grew to manhood in Monroe township, where he passed a long and honorable career in the pursuits of the soil, his death occurring in 1906, when he was the owner of 137½ acres of land. His widow survived him property on which he now makes his home, a tract of 137 acres. Mr. Green held his Kansas farm until 1914, when he disposed of his interests there and prepared to spend the rest of his life in Logan county. Modern and progressive in his methods and ideas, he is numbered among the men who have contributed to the advancement of his community and to the elevation of its agricultural standards. October 17, 1900, Mr. Green was united in marriage with Lottie McCardle, who was born in Lake township, Logan county, Ohio, and educated in the public schools of Bellefontaine, a daughter of William and Catherine (Painter) McCardle. Three children have been born to this union: Robert, Iscah and Lottie. Mr. Green is a popular and valued member of Lyons Lodge No. 167, of the Knights of Pythias, at Lyons, Kans., now of East Liberty, Ohio. He is a Republican in politics and takes a good citizen's interest in public matters.

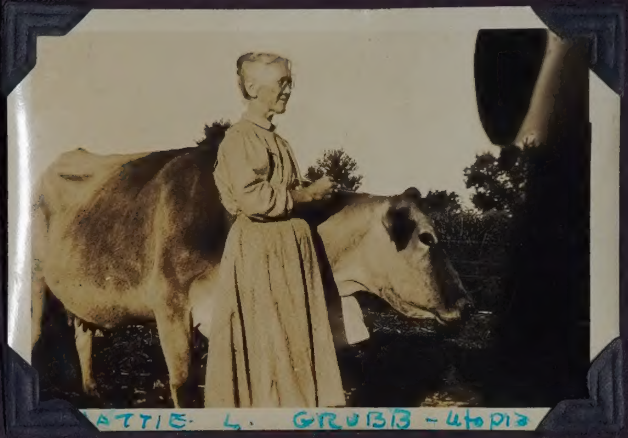
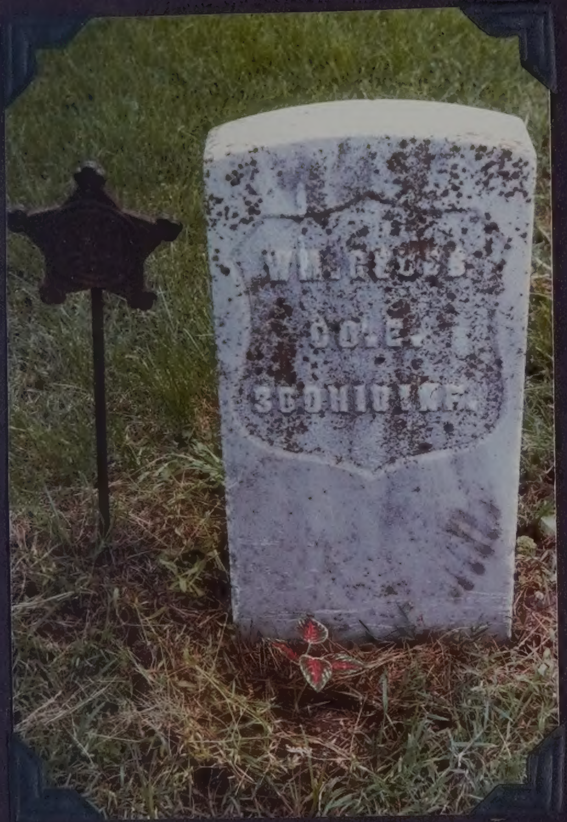
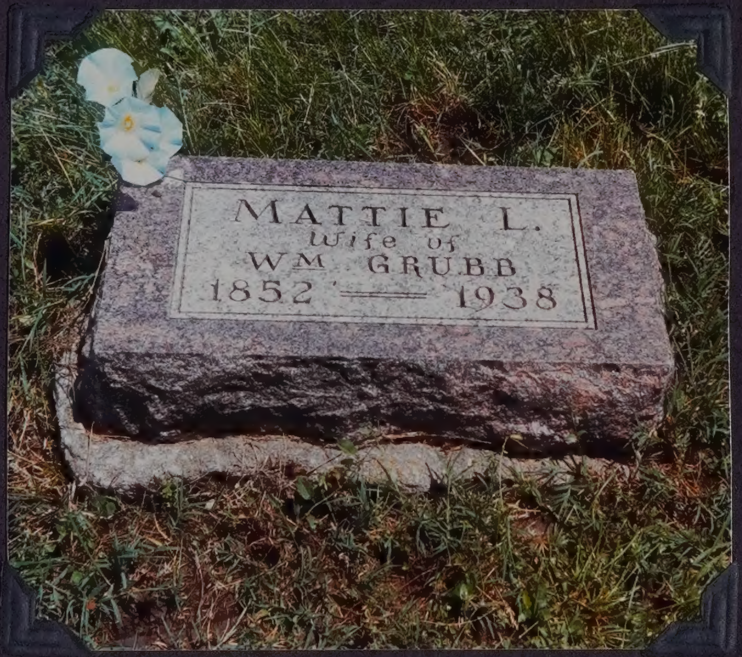
Benjamin Grubbs, whose entire life, beginning with his tenth year, has been passed in Logan county, where, starting as a hired farm hand, he has progressed through his innate qualities of industry and integrity to the ownership of a highly-productive farm and the position of a substantial member of the community, was born in Union county, Ohio, March 14, 1879, a son of Alonzo and Abbie (Palmer) Grubbs, natives of the same county. Alonzo Grubbs was a lifelong farmer and mill owner in Union and Logan counties, moving to the latter in 1889 and buying a sawmill, which he conducted for some time. Subsequently, he moved to Middleburg, Zane Twp. where he set up a mill which he is still conducting, in addition to which he has followed farming extensively for the past fifteen years. He and his wife were the parents of eight children, of whom four are living at this time: William, Alonzo, Nellie and Benjamin. Benjamin Grubbs was reared to farm life in boyhood and during the winter terms attended the public school at Middleburg, the rest of his time being pased in his father's mill. When he left home he secured employment as a farm hand, continuing thus until his marriage, when he rented a farm of forty-four acres. He remained on this property only one years, but continued as a renter until he was able to buy a farm of forty acres in Zane township, and operated this until in the fall of 1919, he bought the Conover farm of 207 acres, on which he does general farming, raises stock, milks sixteen cows and maintains a small sugar camp of 600 vessels. He likewise owns a threshing outfit, with which he operates in this part of the county during season, and in all of his ventures his good management, industry and progressiveness have combined to make his operations successful. In 1903 Mr. Grubbs married Mary, daughter of Thomas and Agnes Patrick, and to this union there have been born eight children: Esther, Ruth, Lorraine, Robert, Kenneth, Olive Mae, Velora and Willard. Mr. Grubbs is a member of the Odd Fellows lodge at Middleburg. His political tendencies cause him to support the Democratic party.

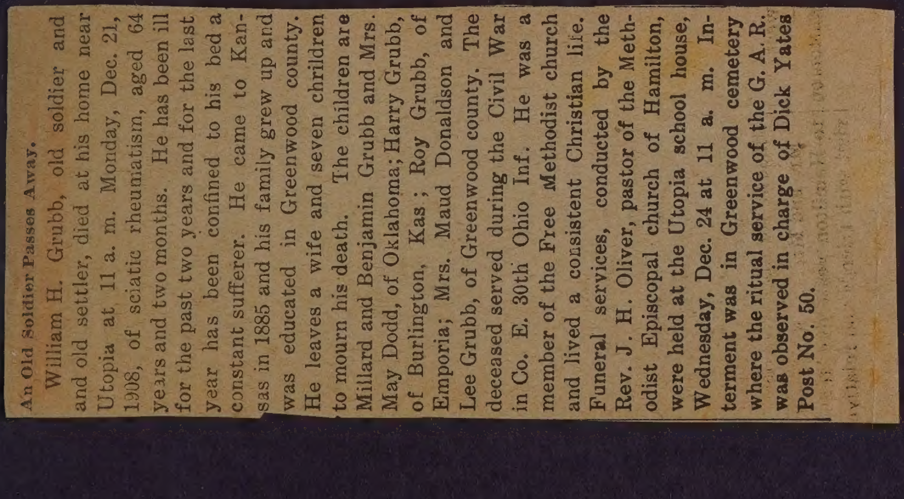
Thomas Gardner, who is prominent among the retired colony of Rushsylvania, after many years of successful agricultural operations, was born in Greene county, Pa., June 6, 1851, a son of Harvey



MATTIE L. GRUBB - Utopia







An Old Soldier Passes Away.

William H. Grubb, old soldier and old settler, died at his home near Utopia at 11 a. m. Monday, Dec. 21, 1908, of sciatic rheumatism, aged 64 years and two months. He has been ill for the past two years and for the last year has been confined to his bed a constant sufferer. He came to Kansas in 1885 and his family grew up and was educated in Greenwood county. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his death. The children are Millard and Benjamin Grubb and Mrs. May Dodd, of Oklahoma; Harry Grubb, of Burlington, Kas; Roy Grubb, of Emporia; Mrs. Maud Donaldson and Lee Grubb, of Greenwood county. The deceased served during the Civil War in Co. E. 30th Ohio Inf. He was a member of the Free Methodist church and lived a consistent Christian life. Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. J. H. Oliver, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Hamilton, were held at the Utopia school house, Wednesday, Dec. 24 at 11 a. m. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery where the ritual service of the G. A. R. was observed in charge of Dick Yates Post No. 50.

STORY OF

AMOS H. GREEN (FL 12)

AND HIS WIFE SARAH A. COLE (FL 14)

Amos H. Green was born in Pennsylvania or Ohio, Oct. 3, 1828; he died in Union County in 1869; his last place of residence was Leesburg Township, near Pharisburg, Ohio. His wife, Sarah A. Cole, was born in Maryland, May 9, 1830. They were married in 1850 in Ohio, in Delaware Co., Nov 24. They were the maternal grandparents of May Dodd (1876-1949).[1]

Nothing is known at this writing concerning the ancestors of Sarah A. Cole.② Nor have the names of Amos H. Green's parents been proved at this time. The name Green is of English origin, referring to a dweller at the village green, or near a grassy ground.

The first Green in Union County appeared in Jerome Township in 1830. This was Moses Green (no family connection supposed) who was married to Sarah Stickle in Union County, 1823. By 1860 several Green and Greene families resided in the county.

The Ohio census of 1860 listed our Amos H. Green as "Amos Greene" with wife Sarah and 3 children - Martha (Mattie L.), Charles and William - in York Township, Union County. On the adjacent farm lived 59 year old Eb Greene and his 54 year old wife Mary M., both born in New York. In view of the practice prevalent then of rural families residing in close proximity, it may be conjectured that Eb and Mary M. Greene may have been the parents of Amos H; if so, his siblings would include Mary E., Martha, Harriet O., and Lowell; there may have been others.

Union County was first settled in 1798 when bow and arrow Indians still camped in the woods. Its seventh township - Leesburg - was organized 1825. Early settlers, largely from Clark County 40 miles away, were lured here by the abundance of game and the promise of agriculture. The best of the hunters on Bokes Creek (Leesburg Twp) was Deliverance Browne. It is reported that he annually killed 75 - 100 deer, and that he moved on further west when game gave out. Creek bottoms produced much white and black walnut while nearby uplands grew a profusion of beech and buckeye. These were cleared by ax and oxen to make way for cornfields. Amos H. Green had to do his share of clearing land for farming.

Amos H. Green was a farmer, first in York Township, then in Leesburg Township after his marriage to Sarah A. Cole. He was 22 and she 20 when they took their vows on Nov. 24, 1850. They became the parents of 8 children, all born in Union County, Ohio, with the possible exception of Charles Henry who may have been born in nearby Franklin County. These were: - Martha Ludice (known to us as "Mattie L.") 1852, Emma E. 1854, Charles Henry 1857, William Sylvester 1859, Mary Annabell 1861, Lewis 1863, Lillie May 1867, and Gertrude who died age 4, before 1869.[2]

By the time their children came along, Union County had emerged from its log cabin past. Its population totalled 8000 or so. Marysville, the county seat, while not a new place was not old enough to have enjoyed well-shaded streets until most of the Greens were grown.

The nearest village to their farm was Pharisburg. In 1848 this place was called "Scott's Corners", and later renamed Pharisburg because Samuel Pharis had a large two-story hewn log house on the site. The early town boasted a general store, a doctor, a postmaster, and a woman school teacher. Methodists organized a church in 1850; before this they met in homes and schoolhouses north of Bokes Creek.

By 1860, 32 year old Amos H. Green owned his own farm valued at $1100, in York Township in Union County. The post office was New California (Boggs Creek).

Wherever the Green children attended school (1860 census shows they did), they were sure to have been introduced to McGuffey's readers, for by 1860 Prof. McGuffey of Oxford, Ohio was publishing 2,000,000 annually; they would in time become the standard text for 37 states.

The Civil War came and went in the 1860's. Amos H. is not known to have been in the Union Army like many of his neighbors.

Then in 1869 farmer Amos H. Green died on a Friday, May 27, age 41, at Pharisburg (Leesburg Twp.) ; cause of death is unknown. The Franklin Society paid him a tribute of respect in the local paper: "WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove by death, Mr. A. H. Green, one of the oldest and tried members of the Franklin Society . . . ."

Amos H. was buried at Pharisburg.[3] His widow Sarah later remarried, a man named Moses. Nothing further is known about her.

Amos H. and Sarah A. Green's first child Mattie L. (born July 30, 1852) was 17 when her father died. The next year the red-haired girl married a young veteran of the war - Billy Grubb of Union County, over at Richwood.

Amos H.'s other children (except for Emma E. and Gertrude, who died age 2 and 4 respectively, the first in 1856, the other before 1869) grew to maturity and married, and lived in Iowa, Kentucky, Kansas, or closer to home in Ohio.

Before Mattie L. left for Kansas with her family, she saw changes in Pharisburg, the town she claimed as her birthplace. The Daughters of Rebekah Lodge, organized here in 1879, had two prominent members from a Green family. And that same year a woman - the Rev. Mrs. Letta D. Crosby - pastored the Universalist Church in town. Billy was a Methodist but Mattie L. kicked those traces a little.

In 1885 Mattie L. Green and her husband Billy Grubb and 5 children then born left their Union County farm (Jerome Twp.) to take up farming out West at a place called Utopia. Greenwood County was 95% prairie, and had originally been part of the Osage Indian Reservation. It had been settled three decades earlier by Missouri colonists determined to make Kansas a pro-slave state; they lost, even before a war decided that this nation could not be half-slave, half-free.

Mattie L.'s and Billy's story is told in more detail in another chapter in this narrative.

ENDNOTES AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

1. Family record obtained from Ruby Christopher believe Amos H. Green was born Oct. 3, 1828; this would make him 41 and 7 months at the time of his death, a date confirmed by the death notice in a local newspaper. His death certificate, however, showed him to be age 43. The 1860 Ohio census confirms the 1828 birth date, but places his birth in Ohio, not Pennsylvania as the death certificate asserts.

2. Census of 1860. Mattie L. Green Grubb, my great-grandmother, lived one block north of us for nearly 10 years and I knew her well. I also remember about 1928 that two of her Ohio sisters came to Kansas to visit her, and that they came down to our place; these were great-great aunts Annie and Lillie. While in our home my 4 year old sister threw one of her tantrums, flinging herself down and bumping her head on the floor. It was one of these aunts who told my mother of a "sure cure" for such demonstrations - throw a dipper of cold water on the little subject. My mother did, and my sister never had another tantrum of this kind.

3. Information obtained from death certificate. Cemeteries in Leesburg Twp: the first was on Joseph Brannon's farm one-half east of Pharisburg; thers are those located at the Hopewell Church, at the Presbyterian Church, and at Union Chapel. Sept. 1984 I visited those still in existence, as well as the Pharisburg Cemetery, and found not a trace of Amos H. Green's gravestone.

CONJECTURE from OHIO-UNION CO. Census extractions: 1830-1860

1. 1830 - only one Green (no Greene) in Union Co. He is Moses married to Sarah Stickle 1823 in Union Co.; & living here in Jerome Twp in 1830. Could Caleb Green age 37 in 1860 (i.e. born 1823 in Ohio) of Jerome Twp. be his son? [Probably so as Caleb was here in Jerome in 1850]. In 1830, Moses has 2 sons 0-5 - could be either Wm. or Amos, both b. 1828, age 2
1 female 5-10 - who? Also 1 male age 40-50 - his father?

2. 1840 - who are L. Green & Samuel Green?

3. No Greene appears in Union Co. until 1860.

IED WEDNESDAY

Funeral Held Wednesday June 11, From M. E. Church

Charles H. Green was born in Franklin county, Ohio, January 21, 1857 and passed away at his home southeast of Woodward, June 9, 1924, at the age of 67 years, 4 months and 19 days. He was married August 5, 1882 to Miss Mattie Liston. To this union were born two children, Blanche and Will. The wife passed away June 4, 1893 and the son, Will, died February 4, 1907. Mr. Green was married to Miss Blanche Cole, June 20, 1894. To this union were born four children, Avery, Everett, Bessie and Eldon. Everett passed away August 24, 1913.

Mr. Green came to Iowa in November 1889 and has resided in this vicinity ever since where he was well known and the large attendance of the funeral and the many friends who assisted them in their sad hour showed the respect in which he was held. The beautiful spray of flowers from the neighbors was a silent but beautiful tribute of sympathy.

Mr. Green expressed before his death that he was ready to go and his loved ones are glad to have his assurance that he has gone where suffering and sorrow is not known.

The funeral was held at the M. E. church in Woodward, Wednesday afternoon, June 11, 1924, conducted by Rev. J. H. Beveridge, assisted by Rev. H. P. Young. The music was furnished by Miss Eva Parks, Mrs. L. A. Muncy, Messrs. D. J. and V. B. Rhoads with Miss Lucille Beveridge as pianist. The songs sung were "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "There'll be no Tears in Paradise" and "Abide With Me." [illegible] friends and neighbors. Interment in the Woodward cemetery.

Mr. Greene was a good neighbor, was energetic, honest and industrious and by his efforts had become the possessor of a good home and took pride in the work on his farm. His life has had its sorrow, first in the death of his wife, and a few years later, his son Will was killed by a kick from a horse. In 1913

IN MEMORIAM.

At a special meeting of Sincerity Lodge No. 118, Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F., at Pharisburg, Ohio, Feb. 13th, 1884, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS: It has seemed best to Him "Who seeth not as man seeth," to remove from our midst our beloved sister, Mrs. Mattie White; and

WHEREAS: Our intimate association with her since the institution of our Lodge, of which she was a charter member, has ever rendered us more and more sensible of the beauty and worth of a character which few could hope to equal and none to excell, we deem it eminently proper that a testimonial, both of our great esteem for our departed sister and our lasting bereavement be placed on record. Therefore be it RESOLVED, By Sincerity Lodge, No. 118, Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F., that, while we bow in humble submission to the will of "Him Who doeth all things well," we do not the less deeply mourn for our sister who has passed before us to that mysterious bourne from whence we know no traveler may return—who has been called thus early from labor here to rest and refreshment in the eternal Lodge on high.

RESOLVED, That in the death of sister White this Lodge has lost one of its brightest ornaments and most efficient members whose noble example and many virtues all would do well to emulate, for she was never known to swerve from her duty, violate her vow, or betray her trust.

RESOLVED, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives for their irreparable loss of a devoted wife, fond mother, dutiful daughter, and affectionate sister.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be inscribed on the minutes of this Lodge, published in each of the county papers, and a copy presented to the bereaved family, and that our charter be draped in mourning for sixty days.

DIED.—On Friday, May 27th, at Pharisburg Ohio, AMOS H. GREEN, in the 41st year of his age. The deceased leaves a wife and six children to mourn the loss of a kind father and husband.

Tribute of Respect.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe, to remove by death Mr. A. H. Green, one of the oldest and tried members of the Franklin Society, therefore,

Resolved, That while we regard his loss as a member of our Society, we are not unmindful that our loss is his gain.

Resolved, That this Society deeply sympathize with his afflicted family, and hope that He who has taken a kind husband and father, may temper the blast to the shorn lamb.

Resolved, That in respect for the deceased and family, we omit our exercises and adjourn.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Editor of the Marysville Tribune, for publication.

OBITUARY.

Ethel, the little daughter of Garrison and Anna Newlove, born May 10th [illegible], departed this life April 6th, [illegible], aged one year, eleven months and four days.

Ethel is gone. Oh! who can tell
  The grief that filled each heart,
When we were called to say farewell
  And with our darling part.

Our home is now left lonely,
  For our pet is taken away.
To the height of the sinless Angels
  Our baby has grown in a day.

No more she will meet us with a kiss
  As in the days of yore,
But we shall meet in realms of bliss
  On that eternal shore.

Papa and mamma, weep no more;
  Your darling is at rest,
But be prepared to meet her
  On the shores of the eternal blest.

Passed Away.

Garrison W. Newlove was born near Springfield, Clark county, Ohio, on the 17th day of September, 1828, and departed from this life, January 4, 1896, aged 67 years, 3 months and 17 days, leaving a widow and three children to mourn his loss. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, at the Baptist church, Rev. J. W. James officiating, the interment taking place at Hopewell cemetery. A large number of citizens attended the obsequies.

CHAPTER LXI.

MORGAN TOWNSHIP.

Location—Name—Topography—Ancient Works—Agriculture—First Settlers and Settlements—Sketches of the Pioneers—Schools—Churches.

MORGAN belongs to the southern tier of townships, with Pleasant on the north, Clay on the east, Licking county on the south, and Miller township on the west. It was named after General Daniel Morgan, a noted officer in the Revolutionary war. As originally organized, May 2, 1808, it comprised within its limits the present townships of Morgan, Miller, Hilliar, Milford, the west half of Clay, the south half of Pleasant and the southwest quarter of Harrison. In the general reorganizations of townships in March, 1825, it was reduced to its present limits. It is well watered with numerous streams. Sycamore creek, the principal stream, rises in Milford township, flowing generally east and south through the townships, and with Tumas run finds its way into the Licking. Big run, which rises near the village of Martinsburgh, crosses the northwestern part, passing into Pleasant. The Rocky fork heads in the eastern part of Morgan, running in a southeasterly direction into Licking county. These are the principal streams, but several small brooks are found in various parts. Muck Shaw run and Owl creek water the northern part.

There are several mounds in the township, one of these, on the farm of James Campbell, is about five feet high and forty feet in diameter. Some years since it was opened, and ashes and charcoal were found, but no remains of human beings. In the immediate vicinity an unusually large number of Indian arrowheads were found by the early settlers. The other mounds have not yet been explored.

Agriculturally considered the land is excellent. The soil is very rich and productive, and Morgan township is noted for the wealth of its farmers, and the large crops of wheat, corn and vegetables raised.

The timber presents the usual varieties in Ohio —beech, sugar, poplar, walnut, ash and oak. Although much of this timber has been cleared away, there still remains large forests of red and white oak, beech, sugar and poplar, and it is claimed that there is more valuable timber in Morgan than any other one township in the county. The land is owned comparatively by a few individuals, and is not divided into small farms as is general throughout the county.

The inhabitants are made up largely of Virginians and Pennsylvanians, and their descendants. The Pennsylvanians preponderate. There is also a sprinkling of the New Jersey and Maryland elements. There are but few foreigners in this or the other townships in the southern part of the county. The absence of the foreign element is a noticeable feature, and probably but few localities in Ohio, of equal population, can compare with it in this respect.

Coles

No colored persons are residents of this township at this time.

The first settlers located their lands in the western part of the township.

John Green was probably the first white man to settle within the present limits of Morgan. He came from Maryland about the year 1805 or 1806, entering land in the northwestern part of the township. He was a prominent citizen in early times, and served as justice of the peace and in other local offices for many years.

Cornelius Bartalow, sr., was one of the very first to settle here. He emigrated from Martinsburgh, Virginia, in 1806, and located forty acres of military land near the village of Utica, Licking county. When he came Indians were numerous, and were about all the neighbors he had for some years. After residing some years here, he removed to Clay township, near the village of Martinsburgh, where he died in 1814, and was the second person buried in the cemetery at that place.

Azariah Davis came from Green county, Pennsylvania, and settled in Utica, Licking county. He was born in 1756, and was a participant in the war for independence. The season prior to his removal from Pennsylvania, he harvested a crop of wheat which he threshed and hauled to Zanesville, Ohio, where he had it ground into flour and stored in a mill at that place. As often as the necessities of his family required it he went to Zanesville and procured flour from this storage. By this precaution his family was well provided with breadstuffs until he could clear up a patch of land and raise a crop. Although Mr. Davis lived several years among the Indians, he had little difficulty in living peaceably with them. He raised a family of nine children, all of whom are dead but Mrs. Rachel Stevens, who resides at Utica, Licking county, in the eighty-fourth year of her life.

Jacob Hanger came from Virginia about the year 1809, and settled in the southeastern part of the township. He was married to Miss Rebecca Davis about 1796, and reared a family of twenty children, ten sons and ten daughters. He was a man of strict integrity and figured quite prominently in the early history of Knox county. He served twenty-one years as justice of the peace in this township, and was otherwise honored by his neighbors with local offices. He died in 1834.

The Pumphreys were among the pioneer families of Morgan who were quite prominent in its early history. They were zealous Methodists, distinguished for their piety, intelligence, and hospitality, and their home was the stopping place of all the early itinerant ministers of that denomination. Caleb, the patriarch of the family, died in 1817. There are none of the family now residing here.

John Sellers, still living in Morgan, is the largest landholder in the township. He is the owner of eleven hundred acres of valuable land. Mr. Sellers came from Green county, Pennsylvania, in 1823, located two hundred and fifty acres of land in the northern part of this township, erected a cabin, returned to Pennsylvania, and permanently removed to Morgan in 1824, where he has since resided. He is possessed of great energy and perseverance, which is no doubt the secret of his success in accumulating property. He is now about eighty-five years of age. In connection with Mr. Seller's history it would be proper to mention the memorable tornado, known as the "Burlington storm," which passed over his place on the eighteenth day of May, 1825. It originated near Burlington, now Homer, Licking county, entering the southwest corner of Morgan, and sweeping across the township from southwest to northeast. Its path through this township was from one-half to three-fourths of a mile in width. It caused a terrible destruction of timber, fences, cabins, etc. Thousands of forest trees were uprooted or twisted off at the tops; houses were torn down or unroofed, fences prostrated and the rails carried through the air, shingles were blown from Homer into this township, and a featherbed was taken up from a dwelling house and lodged in a tree in Harrison township, several miles distant. James Honey had five head of cattle and three horses killed, and Mr. Sellers had many acres of timber prostrated. After it became thoroughly dry he fired it, and it was completely consumed. He was saved the labor and expense of chopping down the trees and rolling the logs together, and thus the old adage was verified that "it is an ill wind that blows nobody good." The roads in the township lying in the path of the tornado, were all blockaded by the fallen timber, and all the able bodied men in the neighborhood were busy in removing the debris, and bringing order out of confusion. Providentially no one was killed or severely injured in this township, although there was a loss of life in other places where the storm passed by. It spent its force among the Mohican hills.

Aaron Davis came from Essex county, New Jersey, in 1819, and was at one time the only Whig voter in this township. In course of time he was reenforced by another Whig, a Mr. McFarland.

Mr. Davis was of Revolutionary stock, his father, Joseph Davis, having served several years in the patriot army, being for a time one of General Washington's body-guards. When the British army occupied Elizabethtown, New Jersey, he was engaged to be married in two weeks, and had purchased his wedding suit, which the British secured with the other plunder, and he afterwards saw an English officer wearing it. The proposed marriage was postponed until after the close of the war.

Aaron Davis resided many years in this township, and was an honorable, upright citizen and an active working member of the Martinsburgh Presbyterian church. He died in 1842.

John F. McLain, another prominent citizen, removed to Morgan from Pennsylvania in 1828. He was a large landholder and extensive stock dealer, and was several years part owner of a store in Mt. Vernon. He died in 1858.

The Bells have long been prominent citizens both of Morgan township and of Ohio. James Bell emigrated from Green county, Pennsylvania, in 1815. He hauled his household goods in wagons from Pennsylvania, and was sixteen to seventeen days on the road, settling in the eastern part of Morgan township, where he resided until his death, which occurred in June, 1867. His son Samuel, who was born in 1800, and who now resides in Licking county, was also an early settler in this township, having removed with his father in 1815 from Pennsylvania. He was married in 1819 to Miss Betsey Hannah, by whom he had ten children; only one, his son Lee, is now residing in Morgan township. Another of his sons, William Bell, has long been a prominent Democratic politician of Ohio. He has served several terms as sheriff and auditor of Licking county; was elected secretary of State in 1864, and served one term as railroad commissioner, by appointment of Governor Bishop. Samuel Bell is still living in the enjoyment of reasonable health and a competency. He has long been an earnest member of the Bell Disciple church.

John Clutter came from Washington county, Pennsylvania, in 1818, and settled near the centre of the township. He has been twice married, and reared fourteen children. He has been a member of the Owl Creek Baptist church thirty-six years, and has served several terms as justice of the peace. Eight of his children are still living, and all but two residents of Knox county.

Jacob Sperry was an early settler, and influential man in this township. He was born in Hardy county, Virginia, April 24, 1789, and removed to this township in 1812, settling about two miles from Utica, Licking county. He was married January 6, 1813, to Miss Mary Wilson, of Virginia, who bore him seven children. He was a prominent and active member of the Owl Creek Baptist church, not in its early history, but in later years. Mr. and Mrs. Sperry were killed by the cars of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad while crossing the track, with their team on the second of August, 1872.

James Honey came from Virginia in 1818, and settled on the third military section. At that date wild animals were numerous, and he had much trouble in protecting his flocks of sheep from depredations by wolves. His neighbors, when he first moved into the township, were John Green, Jacob Sellers and John Lash. For some years he hauled his wheat to Zanesville, where he sold it for thirty-one and one-fourth cents per bushel, and paid five dollars per barrel for his salt. He is still a resident of Morgan, and is eighty-seven years old.

David Campbell, who was born in Ohio county, Virginia, in 1793, came to Morgan in 1824, locating one hundred and forty acres on military lot, No. 14. He was married in 1817, to Miss Maria Vance, of Virginia. They had three children: James, Elizabeth and Margaret. James still resides in the township, and is a Republican politician of some local prominence, and a leading member of the Baptist church. Among the early settlers in addition to those mentioned were Abram Debolt, Moses Mariott, John Boyle, John Dunlap, William Beam, Samuel Harrod, Philip Melker, Philip Smith, Abner Brown, George Cooper, John Harris, Jonathan Agnew, John Vance, Michael Mills, Titus Rigby, Cornelius Callihan, Abraham Carnes, Isaac Beam, Smith Hadley, David Debolt, Bernard Reece and William Green. As far as ascertained they are all dead.

The Browns were a prominent family, and among them several good hunters. On one occasion the elder Brown, needing some articles that could not be had without money, determined upon securing a bear, as bear hides always brought the cash. For this purpose he went out one moonlight night, taking his dogs, his flint-lock rifle and one of his sons, the latter carrying an axe. The dogs were successful in treeing a bear, and Mr. Brown fired at it, but on account of the insufficiency of light only wounded it in the leg. This was, however, sufficient to bring bruin to the ground, where he was fiercely attacked by the dogs, several of which he wounded in the fight, and one was killed. The boy came bravely to the rescue with the axe, and the bear was finally dispatched. Adventures of this character were frequent in those days.

The first wedding in the township was that of Thomas Huston and Elizabeth Brown, and the first funeral was that of Calvin Brown, and the second that of a Mrs. McLain. John Harrod was the first person buried in the Owl Creek Baptist cemetery, and Ziba Leonard, sr., the second. James and Asa Beam probably built the first saw-mill. It was situated on the head waters of the Rocky fork.

Mereen's 6th child, a dau. b. 1839 or 1840 was named "Sperry"!

John Lash also erected a saw-mill at an early date. There have never been any grist-mills built within the present limits of the township.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad runs north and south across the entire western part of Morgan, but there is no station in the township.

The first road was the one leading from Mt. Vernon to Newark, which was cut out about 1805 or 1806. The second was the Utica and Martinsburgh, laid out about 1817.

Ziba Leonard, jr., now living in Martinsburgh, claims to have taught the first school. The school-house was a small log cabin, on Benjamin Bell's farm. It had no floor and greased paper constituted the windows. It was in the summer when he taught this school, and neither the teacher nor any of his scholars wore any covering on their feet during the entire term.

Among the students who attended this school were Luther Brown, Eleazer Brown, Joseph Hunt, James and Asa Beam, Maria Spratt, Uriah Reece, and John Hays. Mr. Leonard charged one dollar and a half per scholar for tuition, and says he "never got half of that." James Kirkland probably taught the second school in the township. All of the householders in Morgan township who had children of sufficient age, patronized these schools. The log school-houses have been supersceded by neat and commodious brick and frame buildings.

Probably the first church in Morgan was built in the western part, on the Mt. Vernon and Newark road, about 1807 or 1808, and was of logs. Benjamin Leonard, a bachelor, and a very zealous Presbyterian, was the prime mover in its erection. In this house, on the Sabbath day, a few individuals religiously inclined would assemble. Leonard would lead in prayer, and read a sermon from an old book published in England two hundred years ago, and which is now in possession of Ziba Leonard. He would also appoint prayer meetings to be held on week-day evenings, in the settlers' cabins; and he never neglected an opportunity to sow the seeds of gospel truth. His earnest, unpretentious labors were blessed, and their fruits are seen to this day. The Martinsburgh Presbyterian church, one of the strongest country churches of that denomination in the county, sprung from this little band of Christian pioneers; for after worshipping some years in this little log church the organization was transferred to Martinsburgh and merged into the Presbyterian church of that village.

The Owl Creek Baptist church was organized in 1809, by the Rev. Amos Mix. The society worshipped in a log church from 1809 to 1842. In the latter year a neat and substantial frame house of worship was erected, at a cost of six hundred dollars. The present brick structure was built in 1865, and dedicated February 4, 1866. Its cost was forty-two hundred dollars. This old organization is one of the strongest Baptist churches, both numerically and financially, in the county. Rev. Amos Mix was its pastor from 1809 to 1817; Thomas Rigdon, 1817–33; Revs. Ashbrook and James Berry, 1833–4; Rev. Kauffman, 1834–7; James Seymore, 1837–42; D. E. Thomas, B. Thomas, and Benjamin H. Pierson, 1842–4; D. D. Walden, 1844–7; C. Platt, 1847–52; C. E. N. Willoughby, 1852–4; N. Martin, 1854–7; Rev. Wilson, 1857–8; Rev. Fink, 1858–9; Rev. Stanley, 1859–63; John Letts, 1863–8; D. B. Simms, 1868–71; C. King, 1872; L. Yarnall, 1872–4; A. J. Wiant, 1874–8. The present pastor, J. Tudor Lewis, settled with the church in May, 1879.

The original number of members was twelve. The present membership is one hundred and ninety-six. This church has been visited with several revivals. During the pastorate of the Rev. D. E. Thomas, in the winter of 1843, sixty were added to the church; in the winter of 1854, thirty-seven; in the winter of 1859, fifty; and in the winter of 1865, forty-eight. A parsonage was erected in 1858. A Sabbath-school was organized in 1840; W. O. B. Honey is the present superintendent.

The Bell church, Disciple, was organized in 1829, and in 1834 a neat church edifice was erected on the farm of Benjamin Bell, sr., in the southeast corner of Morgan township, and on the line between Knox and Licking. The original membership was ten, viz: Rev. James Porter, Benjamin Bell, sr., Stephen Harris, Isaac Henthorn, and their wives; Elizabeth Bell and Isaac Stout. Rev. James Porter preached for this church several years.

The society has had no settled pastor for a long time, but Elders John Secrest, John Reed, Reuben

Davis, John Sargeant, James Mitchell, Jesse B. Ferguson, Arthur Critchfield, James J. Moss, William Hayes, J. H. Jones, Andrew Burns, Abner Lemert, David Sharpless, David Weaver, Jonas Hartzell, Isaiah Jones, David G. Mitchell, and Benjamin Bell, jr., have preached at various times to the congregation. Being contiguous to Licking county, a majority of the members are residents of that county. There are about one hundred and fifty members at this time. The Bell church is one of the strongest, numerically and financially, of the Disciple churches in the county. A flourishing Sunday-school is sustained.

There are no other church organizations or edifices in the township at the present time. In the early history of Morgan, the Methodists held frequent meetings in the houses of the settlers, but they did not erect a church for worship. John Green, esq., and Caleb Pumphry were very zealous members of the Methodist church at an early day, and labored ardently for its success, but the organization finally disbanded, and the members connected themselves with the Utica and Martinsburgh Methodist societies.

Rev. James Scott, the pioneer Presbyterian preacher of Knox county, frequently preached to the pioneers of Morgan. The citizens generally are believers in the religion of Christ.

There are no villages in this township. An effort was made to establish one at an early date in its history; some lots were sold but no buildings erected thereon, and the project was abandoned. The people do their trading at Mt. Vernon, Utica and Martinsburgh.

There are no physicians or lawyers resident here, nor has any post office been established in Morgan since its organization, the inhabitants receiving their mail matter at Utica and Martinsburgh.

The press is liberally supported by the citizens of this township, a large number of both secular and religious papers being in circulation.

MORRIS TOWNSHIP.*

AT the time of the first division of Knox county into townships, the territory now comprising Morris township was equally divided between Wayne and Clinton townships. Occupying a central position, being watered by the two principal branches of the Kokósing, and affording some of the finest agricultural lands in the county, this section naturally attracted home seekers at the earliest period in the history of this part of the State.

The western half of the township—as at present constituted—comprises two military sections of four thousand acres each; the southwest quarter of the township being known as the Canfield section, and the northwest quarter as the Armstrong section. The eastern half was laid out in lots of one hundred and sixty acres each. The former half is mostly level bottom land, an alluvial deposit with a gravelly substratum, and few springs, while the eastern half is moderately undulating upland, abounding in good springs.

One-half mile east of Fredericktown, on the bank of Owl creek, may be seen a mound about twenty feet high and sixty feet in diameter, surrounded by a ditch and embankment, the latter being outside the former. On the land of William Loveridge, north of the former site of Clinton, exists a relic of the Mound Builders, in the form of a circular ditch and embankment, very closely resembling a modern circus ring. It is about forty yards in diameter, the ditch being inside the embankment.

William Douglass left his home in Morris county, New Jersey, and wending his way to the far west, pitched his tent on the bank of Owl creek, just below the junction of its principal branches in 1804, the first permanent settler in Morris township. At this time the settlers in and around Mt. Vernon were obliged to go to Newark or Lancaster to mill,

JOHN MARRIOTT.

Following close upon the Howards and Porters of the Severn, we find John Marriott, in 1681, living upon Peter Porter's plantation, at Indian Landing. At that time the Indians had made an attack upon his household, and Mrs. Marriott had been compelled to seek her neighbors' protection. She was Sarah Acton, of the Annapolis family.

In his will, of 1718, John Marriott names a large family, viz.: "To son Joseph, my tract, 'Cordwell,' where he lives. To son Emanuel, 'Hereford' and dwelling. To son John, the remaining part of 'Hereford' and one hundred acres of 'Brookslys Point.' To two sons, Augustine and Silvanus, the remainder of 'Brookslys,' and, also, four hundred and forty acres out of 'Shepherd's Forest,' on the Patuxent. I give to John Riggs, fifty acres of 'Shepherd's Forest.' (The English wills show a close connection between Marriott and Riggs). I give to Henry Sewell the sum of forty shillings, and to Wm. Stevens a like amount. To daughter, Ann Gambrill, I give £5. To daughter, Sarah Marriott, I give £30. The balance to my five sons, Joseph, Emanuel, John, Augustine and Silvanus."

Joseph and Augustine were executors. Peter Porter, Wm. Stevens and Edward Benson were witnesses.

John Sewell's wife, Mary Marriott, was a descendant of John Marriott, who was a large land-holder on the Severn River about 1667. John Marriott's wife, Sarah Acton, was a daughter of Richard Acton, who settled on the Severn River, in 1651, at "Acton's Hill," now called "Murray's Hill," Annapolis. He came with that celebrated colony from Sewell's Point, Virginia.

A similarity of Christian names again occurs at this time, in England and Maryland, and shows close connections, mentioned so prominently by Sir Bernard Burke, in his Peerage, Landed Gentry and Armory and Heraldry, running back previous to the arrival of William the Conqueror. The Marriotts are also mentioned by Burke as having arrived in England with William the Conqueror—three brothers, viz.: Rudolphus, Guillermus and Augustine Marriott. Burke also states that there was an Augustine Marriott living in London, 1689.

John Marriott, the pioneer in Maryland, named in his will, 1716-18, his children—Sarah Yieldhall, Mary Sewell, Achsah Hall and John Marriott. Sarah Marriott was the wife of Wm. Yieldhall; Mary Marriott, the wife of John Sewell; John Marriott married Nancy Warfield, daughter of Alexander Warfield, and Achsah Marriott married John Hall, of Whitehall, and their daughter, Sarah Hall, married, first, Francis Rawlings, secondly, Captain Henry Baldwin.

Sallie Baldwin, daughter of Henry and Sarah (Rawlings-Hall) Baldwin, married Denton Hammond. Issue, Elizabeth, Camilla and Matthias Hammond. Camilla—Dr. Herbert and had a son, General James Rawlings Herbert, whose daughter, Camilla, married Wm. Pinkney Whyte, Jr. Elizabeth—Richard Cromwell; Matthias Eliza Brown; John Marriott, who died 1798,—Elizabeth Davis, daughter of Richard Davis and Ruth Warfield, his wife, the daughter of John and Ruth (Gaither) Warfield.

John Marriott, in his will, 1798, mentions wife Elizabeth. Issue, John, Richard, Ruth, Rachel and Elizabeth Marriott. Richard—Sarah Hammond, daughter of John Hammond, and their son, General Wm. Hammond Marriott—Jane McKim; his brother, Richard Marriott, married a granddaughter of Anthony Stewart, of Peggy Stewart fame.

In 1756, Mr. Emanuel Marriott, the son of Mr. Joseph Marriott, was taxed as a bachelor for the support of the church of St. Anne's, on a schedule of £100.

The will of Augustine Marriott, who held the homestead at Indian Landing, and married Mary Warfield, of John and Ruth Gaither, in 1729, reads as follows: "My wife, Mary, if she does not marry, to hold the whole estate during life. My son, John, to hold 'Shepherd's Forest.' "

His three daughters named were Sarah, wife of Wm. Yieldhall; Mary, wife of John Sewall; Achsah, wife of John Hall, and her three daughters. John Marriott, Joseph Warfield and Joshua Gambrill were witnesses.

John Marriott, the son, married Elizabeth Davis, daughter of Richard and Ruth (Warfield) Davis. In his will, of 1798, he named his sons, Richard, John, Rachel, Ruth, and Elizabeth; wife, Elizabeth; lands, "Lancaster Plains."

THE COLE FAMILY.

Edith Cole, wife of John Mallonee, was the daughter of Dennis Garrett Cole and Rachel, his wife, of Baltimore County, November 8th, 1748. Their children were Thomas, James, William and Leonard Mallonee.

Dennis Garrett Cole was the son of John and Hannah (Garrett) Cole, and Hannah Garrett was the daughter of Dennis and Barbara Garrett. Thomas Stone and Dennis Garrett purchased "Long Island Point" in 1683, and in 1691, Thomas Stone gave his moiety in this land to the children of Dennis Garrett, deceased, and stated it was for his love and affection.

"Long Island Point" was to the east and adjoining "Cole Harbor," settled by Thomas Cole in 1668, and the latter was covered by the following lines: Beginning at Harford Run on the east, where it flows into the Patapsco River, thence west one mile, binding on the water front to about Sharp Street; thence north about half a mile to Saratoga Street, then east to Harford Run; thence to the place of the beginning, containing 550 acres. John Cole sold Richard Owings, in 1702, 809 acres, "Cole's Choice," in the same section. All of these tracts were described as on the north side of the northwest branch of the Patapsco River, and now covered by Baltimore City from Sharp Street to the east.

My Coles probably not in Prince George's Co, Frederick Co

The Cole families, of Old England, appear to have had the same Christian names as the early settlers in Maryland and Virginia, viz.: John, Thomas, William, Skipwith, et al. Cole—Stake Lyne—John Thomas and William. There was a fine monument erected to the Cole family at Petersham, in 1624. John Cole, tenth in line from William Cole, County Devon, 1243. Cole—Marazon—Francis Sewell Cole, esquire, nineteenth in direct descent from Edward, third, and the family long in County Devon. Cole—Woodniem—John Cole, 1614, father of William Cole, officer in Cromwell's Army. James Garrett, Esquire, County Carlow, married Mary, daughter of Colonel Blake, same family as Sir William Garrett, Lord Mayor London, 1555.

Sir Bernard Burke, in his "Armory and Heraldry," gives the Sewell family in England three coats of arms; the Cole family, twenty-two; Stone, thirty; Garrett, three; Kirby, fourteen; Randall, fifteen; Warner, nineteen; Acton, twenty-seven. These names are all shown in the above as Sewall connections.

RAWLINGS.

Much has been written lately concerning this family. As none of the writers seem to have gone to the wills for information, I will reproduce them and leave interested descendants to fit them.

It has been stated that Henry Rawlings, father of Anthony, the public man, was the immigrant. There seem to have been others. The archives are full of Anthony Rawlings, and the chancery records add more light. His will of 1652, names sons, John and Anthony, who inherited adjoining lands up on the Patuxent. He names his oldest daughter, Anne, and youngest daughter, Margaret. His wife was Jane Rawlings.

In 1676, Elizabeth Rawlings, widow of Nicholas, made an oral will in which she desired Elizabeth Mackey to take care of her child, and to collect from her debtors what was due.

In 1696, Richard Rawlings named his two sons, Richard and John; his daughters were Mary and Elizabeth, and wife Jane.

In 1717, John Rawlings, of Dorchester, named his brother, Anthony, and his nephew, John of Anthony, also his nephew, John King, and his son-in-law, Mark Fisher. His wife was Elizabeth.

Daniel Rawlings, of Charles County, in 1726, held a large estate both there and in Calvert. He left his "home plantation, on St. Leonard's Creek," to my youngest son, Daniel. I confirm unto my son-in-law, John Clare and Elizabeth, his wife, part of 'Elton Head Manor,' called 'Rawlings' Choice,' now occupied by John Clare and his wife, Elizabeth. To daughter, Anne Rawlings, the north part of 'Rawlings' Choice' and five hundred acres of the same tract to son Isaac Rawlings. To daughter Mary Halloway, negroes. Son Isaac and son-in-law John Clare executors.
(Seal)." —DAN RAWLINGS.

John Parran, Wm. Day, and Alexander Parran were witnesses.

Daniel Rawlings, of Calvert County, in 1748, named sons, Daniel and John, and daughters, Nancy and Margaret. He held tract "Rawlings' Choice" "left me by my father." He bought, also, his brother Isaac's lands.

Of this family upon "Rawlings' Manor," one brother, Isaac, still later, was in Mississippi when that was only a territory. In one of his letters, which I have seen, he wrote that "his brother, Captain Thomas Rawlings, was then at the front with General Jackson in his Indian campaign at Pensacola." After the war, Captain Thomas returned to Calvert, and, at forty years of age, married his cousin, Mary Dalrymple, whose mother was Christiana Clare, of John. She was then a girl of fifteen years. Together they lived upon "Rawlings' Choice" and had one son who died in early manhood. This girl of fifteen years, later married another cousin, her first lover, Dr. S. J. Cook, and became the mother of Mrs. J. D. Warfield.

Anthony Rawlings, Jr., of Dorchester, in 1728, left a colt to his father, and named his sister Mary, and cousins, Mary and Charles Daughety. To his brother, John, he left his clothes and silver shoe buckles. Sister Margaret Hail was made legatee of all his personal property and his executrix Aaron Rawlings, of Anne Arundel County, in 1741, named his wife, Susannah, and sons, Jonathan, Aaron, William and Stephen. The last two inherited "Darnall's Groves," in Prince George County. "My lands in Baltimore County, called 'Brown's Adventure,' to sons and daughter Ann. Aaron to hold the homestead.

This testator's wife was Susannah Beard, the daughter of Stephen. Her will closes the Rawlings previous to the Revolution. In 1762, she named her sons, Aaron, Moses, Richard, daughter Mary, and four married daughters, Ann, Susannah, Rachel and Elizabeth. Her son, Aaron, and son-in-law, Gassaway Watkins, executors.

The further records of this family have been already published.

THE SEWELLS OF VIRGINIA.

Henry Sewell came to Virginia from England previous to 1632. He gave his name to "Sewell's Point" at the entrance to Elizabeth River, opposite to Fortress Monroe. His wife was Alice Willoughby, daughter of Thomas Willoughby, who came to Virginia in 1610, and was Justice of Elizabeth City, 1628; Burgess, 1629-32, and Councilor, 1644-50. At the court holden May 31st, 1640, Henry Sewell and Captain Sibley were authorized to build a church at Mr. Sewell's Point. August 2nd, 1640, Captain Thomas Willoughby, Esquire, Captain John Sibley, Mr. Henry Sewell, Mr. Edward Windham and Mr. William Julian, are to pay for themselves and others; the church minister, Mr. Thomas Harrison.

Peter Porter's name appears in 1641. He, in 1650, settled in Maryland, at the head of Severn River, "Peter Porter's Ridge."

This cemetery is just west of the Olentangy in the northern part of Liberty Township, and is out of sight of the road. It is about 3 miles south of Stratford and about a mile northeast of Hyattsville. It can be reached by driving north from Hyattsville about .6 mile, then going east on a side lane that passes a house a little back from the highway. This lane is about .6 mile long and ends at the entrance of the cemetery, which is on the upper slope of the high bank above the river. Two Revolutionary soldiers are said to be buried here, Deacon Leonard Monroe and Isaac Monroe, but no stones bearing these names were found. There are, however, several graves marked only by slabs of native sandstone, and it is quite possible that theirs may be marked in some such way or not at all. This cemetery and the old Carpenter Cemetery are not more than 1½ miles apart on opposite side of the Olentangy. All legible inscriptions were copied. Copied Nov.6, 194

4AA - Anne Arundel Co. by Rev. Greenbury Ridgely found in Scharf Papers, MS 1999 at Md. Hist. Soc

He continued to engage in farming until his wife died, after which he made sale and returned to the carpentering trade. Mr. Hyder in 1886 bought his present home, which contains 40 acres, and lies in Pleasant Valley, in Johnsville District. This is a magnificent estate. Frederick County boasts of many beautiful country homes and the one of Mr. Hyder takes a high rank. Great care is taken in the care of the place and it shows the efforts taken to preserve its excellent condition. Mr. Hyder is one of the representative citizens of his district and has been very successful in life. He has recently retired from active work. He uses his right of franchise in favor of the candidates of the Republican party. In religion, he is a member of Haugh's Lutheran Church, to which he is a liberal contributor.

Mr. Hyder has been twice married. His first wife was Sophia Stull, daughter of Lewis and ——— (Barrock) Stull. She died about the end of the Civil War. Mr. Hyder was married secondly to Susan Elizabeth Snook, daughter of William Snook. There is one child by this latter marriage: Edna S., married Hershey F. Eichelberger, of Woodsboro, Md.

HENRY CLAGGETT DUVALL, farmer, owner of "Mt. Pleasant," a farm of 197 acres in the Maryland Tract, Petersville District, Frederick County, Md., son of Henry Claggett and Sarah M. (Claggett) Duvall, was born at "Waterloo," the homestead of his mother's family, March 7, 1845.

The Duvall family trace their descent from Sieur Hugh Duvall, a native of France, who lived during the latter part of the twelfth century. Their genealogical table is as follows: 1, Robert, son of Sieur Hugh Duvall, married the Honorable Lady Jane De Pritot; 2, ——— ———; 3, John Duvall, Knight, Lord, so called of the place, who lived in 1375; 4, Lawrence Duvall, Esquire, married to the most noble Lady, Agnes de Marmien; 5, William Duvail, Esquire, Lord, so called of the place, married Alex de Marmusin; 6, Massiot Duvall, son of William Duvall, Esquire, and Alex (De Marmusin) Duvall, Lord of the province St. Lawrence, and of the fief of St. Aubin, married Margaret D'Orbin; 7, Thomas Duvall, Esquire, son of Massiot Duvall, Lord of Auge in the province of St. Lawrence, and of the fief of St. Aubin, married Nicola Stayard. From Thomas Duvall, Esquire, through Mareen Duvall, the Huguenot immigrant to Maryland, is descended the American branch of this distinguished family.

Mareen Duvail, one of the earliest and most prominent of the Huguenot immigrants from France, arrived in the province of Maryland, August 28, 1650. On the day of his arrival, he received the patent of a tract of land situated on the south side of South River, in Anne Arundel County, near the site of New London. This land was surveyed and patented to him and was named "La Val," in memory of family estates in France. His landed possessions soon included several thouand acres lying in Anne Arundel and Prince George's Counties. That this distinguished French refugee was of the Protestant faith, is evident from the fact that he built at his own expense, a chapel for private worship on his home plantation in Prince George's County. In 1705, his son, John Duvall, and his wife appeared before the vestry, of which he was a member, and deeded the land on which the chapel stood to Queen Anne for the use of the parish. It was not, however, until 1741 that it became a parish church, repaired and supported by the community. Until that time it was supported and maintained by the Duvall family.

Mareen Duvall was married three times. The name of his first wife is unknown; they had six children. His second wife's christian name was Susanna; they also had six children. His third wife was Mary Stanton. All of his children are mentioned in his will dated August 2, 1684, and probated on August 13, of the same year. The widow of Mareen Duvall was married to Colonel Henry Ridgely and, after his death which occurred about 1711, to the Rev. Jacob Henderson. The eldest son of Mareen Duvall was named Mareen; his youngest son, born about 1685, was called Benjamin. Benjamin Duvall was married, in 1713, to Sophia Griffith; they had four sons and three daughters. Their second son and fifth child, William Duvall, born in 1721, married Priscilla Prunett. They had many sons and daughters.

Samuel Duvail, eldest son of Benjamin and Sophia (Griffith) Duvall, great-grandfather of Henry Claggett Duvall, was born December 24, 1747. Samuel Duvall was an importer at Elk Ridge, Md., when Baltimore was unknown. He was married by Rev. W. Adison, January 2, 1774, to P——— Ann, daughter of John and Martha Ann Dauson, who was born January 6, 1756. They had three sons, only one of whom, Graflon Duvall, M. D., reached manhood.

Graflon Duvall, grandfather of Henry Claggett Duvali, son of Samuel and P——— Ann (Dauson) Duvall, was born June 10, 1780, at six P. M. He graduated from a Medical College, and practiced in Frederick City, Md. He afterwards removed to Oakland, Petersville District, and soon relinquished his practice. Graflon Duvall was married, May 8, 1804, by the Rev. George Bower, to Elizabeth Whittaker, second daughter of Thomas Hawkins, Esq. Their children are: 1, Sarah Ann, born January 20, 1805, married Robert Dorsey, M. D., settled at Relay House, Md., where she died; 2, Alex. Thomas Hawkins, born August 10, 1807, married Miss Johnson, went to Louisiana, during the Civil War returned to Frederick County, where he died; 3, Houston, died in childhood; 4, Julia, died in childhood; 5, Algernon, born January 23, 1813, married Miss Green, practiced law in Mississippi where he died leaving three daughters; 6, Gabriella, died in infancy; 7, Elizabeth Lawrence, died in childhood; 8, Virginia Claggett, born December 6, 1818, married Thomas P. Harrison, M. D., of Mississippi; 9, Henry Clagggett; 10, James L. Hawkins, born December 31, 1822, married Miss Kemp who lived near Frederick City, spent the greater part of his life in Baltimore, Md.; 11, Mary Elizabeth (Mrs. Samuel Hoogereff), of Relay House, Md., born May 20, 1826. Graflon Duvall, M. D., died of congestion of the brain, at his home on the Maryland Tract, on Sunday morning, May 22, 1841, aged sixty-two. Endowed by nature with fine taste and excellent literary judgment, Dr. Duvall was an accomplished writer of great polish and fluency. He was favorably known as a very able advocate of the political opinions which he had espoused. He was at one time a member of the Exeter Council, a post which he filled with usefulness and distinction. He was an honorable gentleman, of blameless morals, and discharged with conscientious fidelity all of the duties which devolved upon him.

Henry Claggett Duvall, father of Henry Claggett Duvall, was born January 15, 1821, and was educated at Mt. Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Md. Mr. Duvall engaged in farming at "Waterloo," his wife's homestead, and at Bannockburn, both places situated in Petersville District. He was an active citizen of Frederick County, interested in political affairs. He was at first a Whig, afterwards, he became a member of the Know-Nothing party. Henry Claggett Duvall was married, November 29, 1842, to Sarah M., daughter of Thomas John and Sophia (Martin) Claggett. Their children are: 1, Henry Claggett, born at "Waterloo"; 2, Thomas Hawkins, born at Bannockburn, Md., April 24, 1848, resides in Wichita, Kansas; Henry C. Duvall, died in Louisiana, January, 1863, and is buried in the cemetery of the Episcopal Church at Oak Ridge, La. His wife died in 1883, and is interred in the graveyard of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Petersville, Md.

Henry Claggett Duvall was baptized in the Episcopal Church by the Rev. I. F. Hoff, July 13, 1845, and has been an active member of that communion all his life. He was educated in the public schools of Petersville, and in a private school taught by John W. Page. He was in his sixteenth year when his parents moved to Louisiana, where his father became a farmer and commission merchant. When he was eighteen, his father died, leaving his mother and her two sons in very straitened circumstances. In 1863, Mr. Duvall enlisted in Bell's battery, light artillery, and served until the close of the Civil War, when he had not even a suit of clothes to his back. He had, however, a brave heart and began the world again as a farmer, or rather as a cotton planter in Louisiana. In 1900, he returned to Frederick County, Md., having purchased his homestead, "the Hilleary farm," in 1891. This place was the home of the Hilleary family for many years. The house was built by Tilghman Hilleary in 18—; he also built the barn in 18—. Mr. Duvall has been a Democrat all his life.

URIAH A. LOUGH, a well-known man of Frederick, who deals in tombstones and monuments, with offices and shops at No. 37 South Market street, was born in Oxford township, Adams County, Pa., February 22, 1853. He is a son of George and Christianna (Flickinger) Lough.

John Lough, the grandfather of Uriah A. Lough, lived in Adams County, Pa. His parents were among the early German settlers in York and Adams counties, Pa. He was the father of George Lough.

George Lough, son of John Lough, was born in Adams County, Pa., in 1817. He spent his whole life following the occupation of a farmer in his native county. He was all his life a supporter of the Democratic party. In religion, he was connected with the Reformed Church. Mr. Lough was married to Christianna Flickinger, who was also a native of Adams County. They are buried in the New Oxford Cemetery at New Oxford, Pa. They

The first vestrymen of Queen Anne's Parish were Robert Tyler, Colonel Henry Ridgley, Thomas Odell, Philip Gittings, John Pottinger, and John Gerrard. These were prominent men in the parish. Robert Tyler was one of the first justices of Prince George's County, becoming in time the chief justice; he also served as one of the county's delegates to the General Assembly. His roots were in Anne Arundel County and his first wife, Susanna, was a daughter of Mareen Duvall, who had been a prominent planter and merchant of Anne Arundel County. Colonel Henry Ridgley was a wealthy planter and merchant from Anne Arundel County, who before moving to Prince George's County was married to the widow of Mareen Duvall, making him the stepfather-in-law of Robert Tyler. Thomas Odell, a son-in-law of Colonel Ridgley, had also moved into Prince George's from Anne Arundel County. He too was a justice of the county court. Philip Gittings and John Pottinger were planters. John Gerrard was a planter and merchant, also a justice of the county court, whose daughter, Rebecca, in 1722 became the wife of Governor Charles Calvert.[62]

The vestry employed Reverend Robert Owen, rector of St. Paul's Parish, to preach once every fortnight. The former chapel of St. Paul's Parish in Collington Hundred, probably a small log or frame building, now became the parish church of this parish, Saint Barnabas Church. It was built on a tract of land called "Something," which had been granted to John Demall; and Mr. Demall and his wife, Mary Demall, came forward and acknowledged their gift of two acres of land for the use of the church. A vestry house was built in 1705, and in 1706 plans were agreed upon for a brick church. It took four years and two subscriptions to build this church, which was known for many years as the Brick Church even after the other parishes in the county had also erected brick churches. The bricks and shells for lime were burned on the church land. In 1708 the number of taxables had reached 630, and the Reverend Jonathan White, father of Bernard White who served as clerk of the indictments in Prince George's County court, was inducted as first rector of the parish. In 1710, after the church building was finished, an argument arose about a beam over the gallery. Some of the parish-

Note

There is a tradition that what is now Logan Co. was at one time known as ZANE TWP.

[town of Zanesfield (Jeff TWP) laid out in 1819, est. 1826.
" W. Middleburg (Zane Twp) " " 1832, est 1840

"Logan" was a celebrated Mingo chief.

Kings creek (Champaign Co) was once called Taylortown. Taylors donated land for Bapt Ch & burial ground. Isaac Zane owned land in area

DISEASE.

Drs. rode horseback - saddlebags of senna, snake root, chamomile, rhubarb & calomel. Everyone wanted to be bled in spr. with lancet. Malaria always present, pleurisy, pneumonia. Much "Trembles" or "Milk Sickness" - prob. cause, eat flesh, milk, butter or cheese of infected animal. Or maybe due to ergot, or tainted water. About 1839 - typhoid appeared (blood-letting abandoned now). 1843 - La Grippe prevalent disease called "Tyler grip" [like flu]. 1851 - cholera broke out. Marsh malarial fevers endemic every yr.; Measles, Whoop-cough, & scarlet fever in 1842. Dysentery in 1850 & Asiatic cholera 1851-1853. 1848 - cerebro-spinal meningitis, & again in 1851 & 52.

SAGA of Aunt Alice Grubb, Harry's Grubb wife as told by Debbie Jauernig (their great grand-dau), age 32, R.N. living at 1700 Kendall (near 20th & Pierce), ph. 237-5208. She is dau. of Jim Jauernig & Betty, & granddau of Beulah Grubb Jauernig. Her B.S. in nursing is from Emporia, & she's a metro RN for 11 yrs.

Saga of "mean Alice Allen Grubb" - Aunt Alice. She hated men. She lied, had temper tantrums, abused Beulah her dau & prob husband Harry as well. Very hard worker. In later yrs. she rec'd electric shock treatments at Ossawatomie KS. ST. MENTAL HOSPITAL, & Debbie knew her until her H.S. jr yr - said ALICE she was psychotic. Felt sorry for her as Harry left her with all the work.

Alice's father John Allen [her mother was Americus] owned groc. store at Ottumwa; he was also mayor there; he may have been manic as he was violent. Once he hurled hatchet at Alice & cut her leg; he stuck sis. Althea's head in stove firebox. They had another sis. Pearl, but no bros. John made a "son" of Alice. When customers bought on credit & could not pay, John collected by "confiscation". Someone shot him in the back. Alice saw him die. No one investigated the murder.

STORY OF

AMOS H. GREEN (FL 12)

AND HIS WIFE SARAH A. COLE (FL 14)

Amos H. Green was born in Pennsylvania or Ohio, Oct. 3, 1828; he died in Union County in 1869; his last place of residence was Leesburg Township, near Pharisburg, Ohio. His wife, Sarah A. Cole, was born in Maryland, May 9, 1830. They were married in 1850 in Ohio, in Delaware Co., Nov. 24. They were the maternal grandparents of May Dodd (1876-1949).[1]

Nothing is known at this writing concerning the ancestors of Sarah A. Cole.② Nor have the names of Amos H. Green's parents been proved at this time.③ The name Green is of English origin, referring to a dweller at the village green, or near a grassy ground.

The first Green in Union County appeared in Jerome Township in 1830. This was Moses Green (no family connection supposed) who was married to Sarah Stickle in Union County, 1823. By 1860 several Green and Greene families resided in the county.

The Ohio census of 1860 listed our Amos H. Green as "Amos Greene" with wife Sarah and 3 children - Martha (Mattie L.), Charles and William - in York Township, Union County. On the adjacent farm lived 59 year old Eb Greene and his 54 year old wife Mary M., both born in New York. In view of the practice prevalent then of rural families residing in close proximity, it may be conjectured that Eb and Mary M. Greene may have been FN #1 , May Dodd was the writers' paternal grandmother.

Note #2
②Parents were Mereen D. (Merveen Marine D.) & Sarah Cole, b. 1800 & 1808 in Md. & Ch.
Census 1830 Knox Co - Morgan Twp. - OH.
" 1840-1850 Delaware Co - Trenton Twp - OH

Parents of Merveen D. Cole were Thomas & Rachel Cole.

the parents of Amos H; if so, his siblings would include Mary E., Martha, Harriet O., and Lowell; there may have been others.

Union County was first settled in 1798 when bow and arrow Indians still camped in the woods. Its seventh township - Leesburg - was organized 1825. Early settlers, largely from Clark County 40 miles away, were lured here by the abundance of game and the promise of agriculture. The best of the hunters on Bokes Creek (Leesburg Twp) was Deliverance Browne. It is reported that he annually killed 75 - 100 deer, and that he moved on further west when game gave out. Creek bottoms produced much white and black walnut while nearby uplands grew a profusion of beech and buckeye. These were cleared by ax and oxen to make way for cornfields. Amos H. Green had to do his share of clearing land for farming.

Amos H. Green was a farmer, first in York Township, then in Leesburg Township after his marriage to Sarah A. Cole. He was 22 and she 20 when they took their vows on Nov. 24, 1850. They became the parents of 8 children, all born in Union County, Ohio, with the possible exception of Charles Henry who may have been born in nearby Franklin County. These were: - Martha Ludice (known to us as "Mattie L.") 1852, Emma E. 1854, Charles Henry 1857, William Sylvester 1859, Mary Annabell 1861, Lewis 1863, Lillie May 1867, and Gertrude who died age 4, before 1869.[2]

By the time their children came along, Union County had emerged from its log cabin past. Its population totalled 8000 or so. Marysville, the county seat, while not a new place was not old enough to have enjoyed well-shaded streets until most of the Greens were grown.

The nearest village to their farm was Pharisburg. In 1848 this place was called "Scott's Corners", and later renamed Pharisburg because Samuel Pharis had a large two-story hewn log house on the site. The early town boasted a general store, a doctor, a postmaster, and a woman school teacher. Methodists organized a church in 1850; before this they met in homes and schoolhouses north of Bokes Creek.

By 1860, 32 year old Amos H. Green owned his own farm valued at $1100, in York Township in Union County. The post office was New California (Boggs Creek).

Wherever the Green children attended school (1860 census shows they did), they were sure to have been introduced to McGuffey's readers, for by 1860 Prof. McGuffey of Oxford, Ohio was publishing 2,000,000 annually; they would in time become the standard text for 37 states.

The Civil War came and went in the 1860's. Amos H. is not known to have been in the Union Army like many of his neighbors.

Then in 1869 farmer Amos H. Green died on a Friday, May 27, age 41, at Pharisburg (Leesburg Twp.) ; cause of death is unknown. The Franklin Society paid him a tribute of respect in the local paper: "WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove by death, Mr. A. H. Green, one of the oldest and tried members of the Franklin Society . . . ."

Amos H. was buried at Pharisburg.[3] His widow Sarah later remarried. a man named Moses. Nothing further is known about her. EXCEPT she sent from Richwood OH. a lace tablecloth as a wedding gift to granddaughter MAY GRUBB DODD, 1898.

Amos H. and Sarah A. Green's first child Mattie L. (born July 30, 1852) was 17 when her father died. The next year the red-haired girl married a young veteran of the war - Billy Grubb of Union County, over at Richwood.

Amos H.'s other children (except for Emma E. and Gertrude, who died age 2 and 4 respectively, the first in 1856, the other before 1869) grew to maturity and married, and lived in Iowa, Kentucky, Kansas, or closer to home in Ohio.

Before Mattie L. left for Kansas with her GRUBB family, she saw changes in Pharisburg, the town she claimed as her birthplace. The Daughters of Rebekah Lodge, organized here in 1879, had two prominent members from a Green family. And that same year a woman - the Rev. Mrs. Letta D. Crosby - pastored the Universalist Church in town. Billy was a Methodist but Mattie L. kicked those traces a little.

In 1885 Mattie L. Green and her husband Billy Grubb and 5 children then born left their Union County farm (Jerome Twp.) to take up farming out West at a place called Utopia, KS Greenwood County was 95% prairie, and had originally been part of the Osage Indian Reservation. It had been settled three decades earlier by Missouri colonists determined to make Kansas a pro-slave state; they lost, even before a war decided that this nation could not be half-slave, half-free.

Mattie L.'s and Billy's story is told in more detail in another chapter in this narrative.

ENDNOTES AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

1. Family record obtained from Ruby Christopher believe Amos H. Green was born Oct. 3, 1828; this would make him 41 and 7 months at the time of his death, a date confirmed by the death notice in a local newspaper. His death certificate, however, showed him to be age 43. The 1860 Ohio census confirms the 1828 birth date, but places his birth in Ohio, not Pennsylvania as the death certificate asserts.

2. Census of 1860. Mattie L. Green Grubb, my great-grandmother, lived one block north of us for nearly 10 years and I knew her well. I also remember about 1928 that two of her Ohio sisters came to Kansas to visit her, and that they came down to our place; these were great-great aunts Annie and Lillie. While in our home my 4 year old sister threw one of her tantrums, flinging herself down and bumping her head on the floor. It was one of these aunts who told my mother of a "sure cure" for such demonstrations - throw a dipper of cold water on the little subject. My mother did, and my sister never had another tantrum of this kind.

3. Information obtained from death certificate. Cemeteries in Leesburg Twp: the first was on Joseph Brannon's farm one-half east of Pharisburg; thers are those located at the Hopewell Church, at the Presbyterian Church, and at Union Chapel. Sept. 1984 I visited those still in existence, as well as the Pharisburg Cemetery, and found not a trace of Amos H. Green's gravestone.

REFERENCES AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

1. Family record obtained from Mary Carscadden Nelson. Amos H. Green was born Oct. 4, 1838. This would make him 41 and 7 months at the time of his death, a fact confirmed by the death notice in a local newspaper. His death certificate, however, showed him to be age 45. The 1850 Ohio census confirms the 1838 birth date, but places the birth in Ohio, not Pennsylvania as the death certificate asserts.

2. Census of 1880. Mattie L. Green Grubb, my great-grandmother, lived and died [illegible] at us for nearly 10 years and I knew her well. I also remember about 1920 that two of her Ohio sisters came to Kansas to visit her, and that they came down to our place. These were great-great aunts Maude and Lillie. While in our home my 4 year old sister Agnes had one of her tantrums, flinging herself down and bumping her head on the floor. It was one of these aunts who told my mother of a "sure cure" for such demonstrations - throw a dipper of cold water on the little subject. My mother did, and my sister never had another tantrum of this kind.

3. Information obtained from death certificate. Interment in Leesburg from the first was on Joseph Stanton's farm one-half west of Harlansburg. There are three cemeteries at the Hopewell Church, at the Presbyterian church, and at Union Cemetery. Sept. 1984 I visited those while in [illegible], as well as the Harlansburg Cemetery, and found not a trace of Amos H. Green's gravestone.

STORY OF

BENJAMIN C. GRUBB (FL 8)

AND HIS WIFE CYNTHIA ANN GREGG (FL 10)

Benjamin C. Grubb was born about ~~1820~~ 1817 in Union County, Ohio.[1] His wife Cynthia Ann Gregg was also born in Ohio. They were the paternal grandparents of May Grubb Dodd (1876 - 1949). aka Mary Annamay.

The parents of Benjamin C. Grubb are not known at this writing. In addition to Benjamin C. there were 6 other Grubb or Grubbs family heads living in Union County and nearby Logan County townships in 1850 and 1860, all farmers. Relationship is likely but not proved.

But an early Ohio settler Peter Grubb located two counties below - Ross (Chillicothe) - before 1800, even before Ohio became a state. There may be a connection for Benjamin's wife lived in Ross County as a child with her parents the Greggs, and her grandparents, the Goldsberrys. Friends and families were known to migrate together.

Grubb (also Grubbs, Grubbe) is of English origin, meaning a short dwarfish man; the coarse, unpolished man.

Cynthia Ann Gregg's Roots

More is known about Cynthia Ann Gregg, daughter of William Gregg (1785-1846) and Mary Goldsberry (of John W. Goldsberry and Sally Potts of Philadelphia).[2]

At least some of William and Mary Goldsberry Gregg's first children were born in Kentucky, but Cynthia Ann the youngest

See Endnotes

was born in Marietta, Ohio as the family began migrating northward about 1818 when Ohio became ripe for white settlement. Cynthia Ann was born November 6, 1820.

England took Ohio from the French in 1763; the Americans wrested it from England in 1783; everybody stole it from the Indians. Even the Indians fought over it, for it had long been a battleground for one tribe or another. But after Gen. Mad Anthony Wayne's victory at Fallen Timbers in 1794, Little Turtle and other chiefs agreed to abandon Ohio to white settlement. This paved the way for rapid immigration. Settlers arrived, especially veterans of the Revolution who claimed military grants offered by Virginia and Connecticut who thought they owned Ohio.

Alarmed, Tecumseh, chief of the Shawnees, began attacking settlers passing down the Ohio River in flatboats.

William Henry Harrison, appointed governor of Indiana Territory devoted himself to carrying out Pres. Jefferson's policy (to whom he owed the appointment) of Indian removal — to anywhere west of the Mississippi. Forced from their traditional hunting grounds, Tecumseh and his visionary brother "The Prophet" hoped to unite all the tribes from Canada to Florida to stop this white encroachment.

A timely eclipse of the sun together with a staggering earthquake at New Madrid in Missouri in 1811 (which caused much of the Mississippi River to change its course) provided enough awesome sign for the Indians to take heart. Actually they took more than that; they took up weapons, including hatchets and scalping knives, against Harrison's militia invading The Prophet's village at the confluence of Tippecanoe and the Wabash. That fateful November day in 1811 Harrison's losses were severe, but so were the Shawnees', for The Prophet's magic failed to protect them from militia bullets.

Ohio was made safer for white settlement.

But the first permanent white settlement (where the Muskingum emptied into the Ohio River) preceded Harrison's victory at Tippecanoe and even Wayne's dragoon victory at Fallen Timbers. Called Marietta, it was said to be named for Marie Antoinette, although its founders were New Englanders. Their July 4 celebration that year included a hearty round of grog and a whole broiled pike six feet long speared from the river.

When William and Mary Gregg came to Marietta is not known. But Cynthia Ann was born here in 1820. Then the Greggs moved again. With cheap land the attraction, William and Mary Gregg went down the Ohio and up the Scioto to Ross County, probably by a keel boat containing all their worldly wealth, likely no more than a barrel or two of goods, a spinning wheel, a gun, and an ax to build a shelter complete with puncheon table.

One may conjecture that the journey was made in the company of some Goldsberry kin, or that the Greggs went to join them in Ross County. (John W. Goldsberry and Sally Potts were Mary Gregg's parents). At least 11 Goldsberry family heads lived in Ross County by 1820; in 1830 this number increased to 14, with 11 of these residing in Concord Township. Elderly John Goldsberry by that year had moved on to Union County, to Darby Township.

The original spelling of the name in England was Goldsborough. After migrating to America about 1600 and settling the colony of Maryland, the name was changed to Goldsberry. From Maryland many migrated to Ross County, Ohio.[3]

When William and Mary Gregg brought their seven children into Ross County in the 1820's, game was still plentiful; so were mosquitoes. Fever and chills racked settlers who insisted on building three-sided shanties along river bottoms. Later cabins were clapboard with real shingles and puncheon floors.

Cynthia Ann grew up knowing the life of an Ohio pioneer. As she could write (barely) she may have attended one of the subscription schools. Methodist circuit riders came by now and again.

When Cynthia Ann was seven, the Greggs left Ross County in 1827 and came to Union County. Had the malarial epidemic of 1827 in this poorly drained place sent them to safer havens?

In any case the Greggs came to Union County, probably bringing old grandfather John W. Goldsberry with them for he can also be located in Union County in Darby Township in 1830.

William Gregg purchased four city lots in the town of Marysville for $6.00 in 1829. He died Sept. 30, 1846, age 61. He was buried in the old cemetery at Marysville. Nothing is known further about Cynthia Ann's mother - Mary Goldsberry Gregg.

Marriage

Benjamin C. Grubb and Cynthia Ann were nine years married and were already the parents of 4 children when William Gregg died at Marysville.

Benjamin C. and Cynthia Ann were married at Marysville, June 23, 1837. Both were 17, if the military records are accurate.

By then Ohio forests were receding swiftly before the advance of cornfields. The hominy block had given way to a grist mill called a corn-cracker capable of grinding 12-40 bushels of corn daily. The mill was powered by water from Bokes Creek. One of miller Martin's 9 children later became a lawyer in Eureka, Kansas; no mill stones for him! Oddly enough, Cynthia followed her son Wm. H. Grubb to Greenwood Co, Ks. in 1885 + was to be buried in Eureka in 1892.

or preceded

Thirty miles across the way closer to Columbus Ohio, the capital since 1815, things were looking almost Eastern. A lad over there named Rosecrans would be a Civil War general. Nearby in Delaware County lived a merchant named Hayes whose son - Rutherford B. Hayes - would become the 19th Pres. of the U.S. And up in Cuyahoga Falls was the six year old James A. Garfield who would become the 20th President and the last President to be born in a log cabin.

Ohio had just emerged from the log cabin era by the election of 1840. The presidental candidates were the cologne-drenched, champagne-drinking aristocratic Van Buren, and old William Henry Harrison the Indian fighter of the West. When a Democratic newspaper sneeringly represented Whig Harrison as living in a cabin with hard cider and no ambition (actually he was a man of substance in a fine house), Union County was the first to take up the cue.

The famous "log-cabin" campaign first began here when some Whigs - proud of their log cabin past - cut down buckeye trees near Marysville and built a cabin on a horse drawn wagon; enroute to Columbus, singers in the cabin sang Log Cabin songs accompanied by a flute. The idea caught on in Columbus. (Afterwards the buckeye then became the fixed sobriquet of Ohio natives as our Ohio ancestors were proud to relate).

Frenzied Whigs chanted "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" (John Tyler of Virginia had been nominated for Vice-President), and "Van, Van is a used up man". Harrison won the election, but died one month after his inauguration (of pneumonia), the first President to die in office).

Benjamin C. Grubb of Marysville must have viewed this Whig campaign with interest if not actually participating in it, for he would name his first son for old Tippecanoe - William Henry whom we know as "Billy" Grubb.

Benjamin C. and Cynthia Ann's firstborn Mary Eliza was born in 1839 at Marysville, Co. It appears that the ~~next~~ first 5 children were born in nearby Logan County where so many other Grubbs lived: Amanda 1841, William Henry (Billy) 1844, Arabella 1845, Josephine 1847, John W. 1849.

But by 1850 Benjamin C., & Cynthia Ann were back in Union County, in Jerome Township. Benjamin C.'s occupation was listed as chairmaker; according to that census his near neighbors included a joiner, a shoemaker, and two blacksmiths. Perhaps these men carried on their trades in shops. Benjamin C.'s real estate was valued at $150.00.

Between 1850 and the next Federal Census the remainder of their 10 children were born: Cynthia A. 1851, Mattie 1855, Florence 1858, and Benjamin F. 1860. Cynthia A. was born in Jerome Township, but Mattie and Florence at Marysville. From military affadavits we learn that the doctor in attendance at the birth of the last 3 was a Dr. T.B. Asbury. Cynthia Ann was 40 when her last was born.

In 1860 Benjamin C.'s fortunes had not increased, only the number of mouths to feed. His occupation was listed as painter; the value of his real estate dropped to $125.00, his personal estate amounted to $75.00 He was the poorest man on that census page, even poorer than the preacher. He was still at Jerome Township; P. O. New California.

Two years later he went to war.

Benjamin C. Grubb in the Civil War

One wonders what prompted Benjamin C. Grubb to enlist in the 30th Ohio Infantry, Co. E, for 43 was getting well on in years in those days; moreover, he had 10 living children - at least 7 still in the home, with the youngest not yet two. ? ck this as Benj b. 1862

The oldest, Billy, was already in the war - had been for a year. Co. E had suffered some casualties in regiment hospitals, but nothing like it would in days yet to come. So what was it? A desire to keep an eye on his son? Patriotism? Adventure? After all he had been only 17 when he took on family responsibility. The flags waving? Billy had joined in 1861; and the next year ~~his~~ Benj C's son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger enlisted, in the 96th Ohio Infantry; Ashley's four brothers signed up too. Or was he adamantly opposed to slavery? After all a branch of Quaker Levi Coffin's underground railroad passed through Union County.

But enlist he did - for 3 years - from Union County, in the very same Co. E Billy was in. He mustered in at Columbus, Ohio. Co. E swore in 14 new recruits that August 13 in 1862, and of these only 4 would live to be discharged. One simply died, one was killed in battle, it is not known what happened to two, and 5 died in regiment hospitals. Benjamin C. would be listed among the latter group in only 9 months ~~hence~~ after enlistment.

Before Benjamin C. donned the Union blue, Co. E had already been ordered into the field in West Virginia. Three days after he joined its ranks, Private Benjamin C. Grubb caught up with Billy and they were marched to eastern Virginia and here reported to Gen. Pope's headquarters. (Pope boasted that that was his saddle but his critics believed it better suited his hindquarters).

August 26 the 30th Ohio was engaged in battle at Centerville. Having been assigned to the First Brigade a week later, the 30th took leave of Pope (who would soon be sent West out of the way to police Indian tribes) and was moved into Maryland to stop Gen. Lee's invasion there. Lee's men in gray, many shoeless but with fine powder for their guns, arrived 50,000 strong.

Hastily reorganizing the Army of the Potomac, McClellan, cautious as Pope was rash, led 87,000 Federals to western Maryland, each column a blue serpent miles long. At crossroads by arrangement when two corps met, one fell out, stacked arms, built fires and boiled coffee while allowing the other passage. Some were to remember the scent of pennyroyal bruised by thousands of trampling feet as hours and hours of columns marched four abreast along country roads to impending battles.

Co. E suffered severely in the sharp struggle at South

Mountain on Sept. 14. Grape shot and canister took their toll.

Three days later Co. E was ordered into the field at Antietam Creek, a place of pastoral beauty before the assault. The Union attack began at dawn on Sept. 17; the cornfield and two woodlots in front of the whitewashed Dunker church were wrested from Stonewall Jackson. By dusk the high shrill yelp of the noted rebel yell had stilled. Lee lost a fourth of all he had in the field; he retreated in the night. Total loss 20,000 +

McClellan's losses were even greater - 2,000 killed in action, and 10,000 wounded (of these, 1,000 would die of battle wounds), but it was hailed as a Union victory for the Federals held the field.

The 30th Ohio, compelled to fall back at Antietam, did gallantly retrieve the National colors; shot to pieces, its two bearers dead on the field, it remained for Co. E - the company of Benjamin C. and Billy Grubb - to save the colors in the battle that day.

After Antietam, the 30th Ohio moved into West Virginia in October and went into camp near Cannelton. January 1863 it moved down the great rivers, Ohio and Mississippi, to join Grant's army at Helena, Arkansas.

The fall of Vicksburg was crucial to Union control of the Mississippi. Federals must gain possession of this stronghold in order to open the river to Union gunboats to send hog and hominy supplies, to stop Red River grain from feeding Confederate armies, and to cut the Confederacy in two. The question was how.

The 15th Army Corps Engineers to which the 30th Ohio had been assigned held to an idea favored by Lincoln (who had twice navigated the Mississippi as a youth on flatboats to New Orleans) to cut a great canal across the peninsula thus shifting the river above Vicksburg, leaving it high and dry. Grant was largely against it but no sooner had he landed at Young's Point, Louisiana (across the river on the wrong side of Vicksburg) than he put thousands and thousands of picks and shovels into the hands of his troops to do the job.

This was as far as Benjamin C. Grubb got in the Civil War.

Toiling in mud, in bayous infested with snakes and alligators, diggers sickened and died every day, from malaria, smallpox, measles. Young men dropped like flies. While Billy was still young, his father was not. That winter heavy rains and high waters left few places for camp grounds or even burial places for the dead. Soldiers had to be interred in the levees themselves.

In the end,the Young's Point canal and similar artificial waterway endeavors had to be written off as failures. The Union navy finally succeded in ferrying some troops across the great river, and on May 12 Grant's army commenced its march on Vicksburg.

But Benjamin C. would never more rise to his company's bugle call and drum roll; he was three days dead.

His pick and shovel having been propped somewhere in the canebrakes, Benjamin C. was brought to Milliken's Bend, 10 miles above Vicksburg to the regiment hospital. Grant had located his headquarters there, in a steamer moored nearby; it was here he had planned the details of the Vicksburg campaign amid blue clouds of cigar smoke swirling overhead.

The Surgeon General's report of 1864 said Benjamin C. died of "enteritis". Another report in 1869 said the cause of death was "quick consumption".

Benjamin C.'s son Billy and the 30th Ohio Infantry went on to Vicksburg, and victory came after a 47 day seige. The Confederacy was cut in two. The River was open from St. Paul to the Gulf, or as Mr. Lincoln put it, "The father of waters rolls unvexed to the sea".

It is not known when Benjamin C. was interred in the National Military Cemetery at Vicksburg but Grave ~~291~~ 1743 of Sec. ~~E~~ D marks his final resting place. 4 see end note

June 2, 1863 back home in Union County, 43-old Cynthia Ann Grubb, upon learning of Benjamin C.'s death down in Mississippi, applied for the widow's pension her husband had so dearly bought at South Mountain and Antietam and on the Young's Point military fiasco. Six minors under 16 were still at home - Josephine 15, John W. 14, Cynthia A. 12, Martha (Mattie) 7, Florence 5, and Benjamin F. 2. Perhaps the three oldest girls had already married by then - Mary E. to William Oglesby, Amanda to Ashley Kightlinger, and Arabell to James South. The oldest son Billy, of course, was still fighting the war this summer of 1863.

After producing affadavits that she was indeed the wife of Benjamin C. and that these minors were theirs, and after swearing that she had not in any way been engaged in, aided or abetted the rebellion against the U. S., Cynthia Ann Grubb received the widow's monthly pension of $8.00. This was increased to $14.00 per month in 1868, for the three minors still with her.

Cynthia Ann Grubb surrendered that pension upon her marriage to John Fleming. They were married by a minister at Marysville, Ohio, Oct. 29, 1868.

In May 1869, Cynthia Ann put the guardianship of her three minor children in the hands of her 34 year old son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger, in order for her children to obtain the benefits of the military pension to which they were entitled.

At least 5 of Benjamin C.'s grown children with their families went out to Kansas in the 1880's and 1890's, to take up residence there until their deaths. Their mother Cynthia Ann, remarried to John Fleming, herself went to live in Kansas and was buried in Greenwood County - the place of son Billy's residence - the son whose father joined in the battles of the war suppressing the rebellion to preserve the Union they both loved.

Cynthia Ann Grubb Fleming died February 4, 1892.

1. Civil War records of Benjamin C. Grubb show his birth in 1820, but the Ohio census of both 1850 and 1860 would indicate his birth is 1817. If the census is accurate, then he was 45 when he enlisted. Perhaps 45 was too old for enlistment while 43 made it possible, or at least more probable. War service records sometimes calls Benjamin C. "Benjamine F"; ~~they are unquestionably the same person.~~

2. The Gregg-Goldsberry story comes to me from some of Benjamin C.'s descendants - Sharon Owen of Azalea, Oregon and Jo Stephens of Tulsa, Oklahoma who document their material quite well.

3. This information is gleaned from a published copy obtained at the Denver Public Library entitled "Family Tree of Goldsberry". Had the author looked more closely as I did he would have noticed that in the census of 1840 (Ohio), the very same Ross County (Concord Twp) 1830 Goldsberrys were now spelling their names Goldburg, Goldsborough, Goldsbough, and Goldsboro. Had there been a great family schism, or was the census taker short-shrift on spelling skills? Changing spellings, however, is not uncommon in the annals of American surnames.

4. Military information is gleaned from Benjamin C.'s Civil War service records which I obtained in Washington, D.D.; from Union County History of the 30th Ohio Infantry, particularly Company E; from the historical writings of Pulitzer Prize winner Bruce Catton noted for his moving analysis of the Civil War; from a college text written by one of my professors at the University of Illinois, Richard N. Current.

* P.S. I twice visited Vicksburg Military cemetery to photograph Benjamin Grubb's marker. records office notified me the numbering system for soldiers' gravestones had changed. ergo, Benjamin Grubb's former # 291, Sec E had been changed to # 1743. Sec. D My photo shows that.

ADDENDUM: BENJAMIN C. GRUBB (1817-20* to 1863)
Civil War - Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry
Died in service 9 May, 1863, Military Hospital at Milikin's Bend, Young Point, La.
Burial - Vicksburg Mil. Cem., Sec E, Gr. 291, now #1743

LINEAGE:

At this writing his parentage has yet to be proved. He was possibly descended from EMMANUEL GRUBB (1682-1767) of Pennsylvania, as it is believed that some Kansas Grubbs descended from this colonial Pennsylvanian, and 7 of Benjamin C. Grubb's 10 adult children with their families are known to have settled in Kansas in the late 1880's, in either Coffey County or nearby Greenwood County. In fact, his own widow Cynthia Ann died in this latter county in Kansas in 1892.

Or Benjamin C. may have been a descendant of that first Grubb in Ohio Territory - PETER GRUB - who appears in Washington County, Oh. in 1800 before statehood. (Wash. Co. in those early days included present day counties of Hamilton, Adams, Jefferson, Fairfield, Belmont, Gallia, Columbiana and Ross). It was at Ross that a Peter Grub (b. before 1765) located before 1800, along with the Gregg and Goldsberry families coming later (ca. 1820), and these were known to belong to the family of Benjamin C.'s wife - Cynthia Ann Gregg Grubb.

This Peter Grub appears in Ohio's first state census of 1803, in Waterford Twp. of Washington County. He was still located here in 1810, age 45 or older, with apparently a somewhat younger wife; they had 9 children in the home - 5 sons (2 under 10 yrs. of age; 3 over 16) and 4 daughters (3under 10; 1 between 10 & 16).

If related to this Peter Grub, Benjamin C. must have been a grandson as he was not born until 1817-~~20~~.

It is thought that Peter Grub was a Revolutionary War soldier.

THE LOGAN COUNTY YEARS:

Benjamin C. is believed to have been born in either Logan or in Union County, Ohio. It is easy to understand the uncertainty when one considers that Union Co. was not even formed until Jan. 20, 1820, and then a 3 mile wide strip was taken from Logan Co. and attached to the new Union County. However, he did marry his wife Cynthia Ann Gregg in Union Co. in 1837, at Marysville where she lived with her parents from 1829; her father William Gregg (b. 1785) died here at this place in 1846. By that date Benjamin C. and Cynthia Ann were living in Zane township of Logan Co., and having their children there.

The Grubb name does not appear in the Union Co. census of 1820 and 1830. However, several by that surname are known to have lived in nearby Logan County, in either Jefferson or Zane townships.

Early Zane Grubbs include William (b. 1770-80) and Levi whose farm land was acquired to establish the village of Middleburg (1832). (There was also a Christopher Grubbs (b. 1800-1810) on Mill Creek in Perry Twp. in 1836).

Early Jefferson twp. Grubbs include -
(1. Andrew (b. before 1800) and Mary Grubb, charter members of the second oldest church in the township known as Tharp's Run Baptist Church in 1819, they having moved to this place from King's Creek (once called Taylortown because Taylors donated land for a Baptist church and burial ground) in Champaign County, Ohio. Apparently, Andrew Grubb and wife, along with 14 other constituent members from King's Creek had been dismissed from the Baptist church there ex-

* Both 1860 OH Census + Adjutant General's Report show Benj. C. Grubb born 1817 [redacted]

pressly for the purpose of building this new log church at Tharp's Run. Andrew was appointed deacon in 1819.

(2. Daniel Grubbs (b. 1780-90) also lived near Tharp's Run on a farm known as Survey #6447, south of Zanesfield.

Relationship of any of the above to Benjamin C. Grubb, which is probable, has yet to be proved.

Zane township was composed entirely of Virginia Military Land. It was named for settler Isaac Zane (b. 1753) who had been captured young by Indians and married afterwards into the tribe; he died at Zanesville, 1816. Many settlers here had fathers who had been in the Revolutionary War. Some Grubbs emigrated from VA.

The oldest twp. in Logan Co., it was settled by homespun clad settlers who came to its unbroken forests by horse cart, pack horse and by poled dugout canoe. These came without shoes (hogskin packs wrapped their feet), clocks, stoves, or scissors (quilt blocks were cut with a sharp knife). They built log cabins in forests teeming with bold bears, stalking panthers, and other ferocious beasts. Their children got lost in the woods, raccoons destroyed their crops, and wolves killed their sheep, the source of their clothing.

But there were itinerants to brighten their days - the pewter tinkers, the traveling shoemakers to make them shoes at 50¢ a pair, the circuit riding preachers with news from the outside and good news from the Good Book, and, of course, that great traveler Johnny Appleseed, himself a zealous if eccentric Christian of the Swedenborgian persuasion. In frontier cabins all the way from Ohio to Iowa he tramped barefooted, to expound on the Scriptures. Along with pips from Pa. cider mills, he distributed religious books, tearing the latter in half to make them go farther. In Zane twp. he planted a nursery to begin the orchards which by 1835 produced apple brandy. Clad in coffee sacks, wearing his mush pot on his head for a hat (this also freed both arms to carry his sack of pips and religious books, he went on his wilderness way. Sleeping in hollow logs, tender to all of God's creatures, he never harmed a mosquito much less a bear or rattlesnake.

Zane's earliest settlers were deeply religious. Among these numbered the Quakers who from 1825 harbored runaway slaves at a nearby underground station. The twp. early held to strong anti-slavery beliefs. Could this strong sentiment have influenced aging Benjamin C. Grubb who lived here many years to join the Union forces at a time when 43 or 45 was considered old?

Although married in 1837 at Marysville in Union County home of his bride Cynthia Ann, Benjamin C. and wife are known, to have lived in Logan County, Zane twp. from 1840 through 1848 until after their 6th child - John W.- was born. The 1850 Ohio census shows this family had moved to nearby Union County where the remainder of their 10 children was born. His trade at this time was that of chairmaker; there is no evidence that he was ever a farmer. as most men in his area.

One may well wonder if Benjamin C. learned the trade at the chair factory in operation in the 1840's at Middleburg in Zane twp. This region was noted for its mighty forest of walnut and oak. In addition sugar maples were also abundant and many a land owner had hundreds of these maples on their farms, so much so that the production of maple sugar became a leading industry, selling at 3¢ a lb.

As most Zane children attended school from the earliest days, Benjamin C.'s oldest would have learned to read from Webster's speller and the New Testament, to do ciphers as taught by female teachers. In addition to being educated in the rudiments of the day, the family was probably strongly religious, as son William H., at least, was all his life a staunch Methodist from early boyhood.

Pioneer preachers in Logan County included homely little Russell Bigelow the Methodist evangelist; renowned but eccentric Lorenzo Dow who carried meat and bread in pocket to be beholden to none; the "White Pilgrim" Joseph Thomas whose white clothing was to reflect the glory of the saints; the boisterous revivalist Peter Cartwright; the farmer Joshua Inskeep on whose farm where Johnny Appleseed planted the nursery in 1810; the popular barefooted "Father Hopkins", he of the tow-linen breeches - all these rode through pathless forests to fill appointments, swimming bridgeless streams if necessary, in order to preach with great power the unsearchable riches of Christ.

Camp meetings were common in Logan County; for these meetings Methodists and Presbyterian commonly united to promulgate the Gospel but Baptists tended toward closed communion. These were prolonged outdoor assemblages numbering in the thousands. In rough clearings improvised tents were pitched, campfires lighted the night, hymns were solemnly chanted (even Shawnee and Delaware Indians joined in), and earnest exhortations emotionally delivered. Often peculair bodily exercises such as jerking, barking and falling under the Power attended these wilderness meetings. But generally camp meetings brought good effects to a rough frontier.

These camp meetings and preachers must have had a profound effect on the Grubbs, especially on the young William H., for this ancestor of mine was known to be a "shouting" Methodist all his days until his death in 1908.

One may well wonder if Benjamin C. and William H. Grubb, father and son, saw in the Union cause a religious significance to freeing the slaves as Julia Ward Howe did in 1861 when she penned the lyrics to the famous crusading marching song of the Union forces - "The Battle Hymn of the Republic"? In any case Benjamin C. bravely fought at South Mountain and Antietam in Maryland before dying in the line of duty near Vicksburg, Mississippi. His son Willliam H. went on to the battles of Vicksburg, Mission Ridge, Kenesaw Mountain and Atlanta before mustering out to begin his life as a farmer in Ohio and Kansas.

In 1860 Benjamin C.'s occupation was that of a painter in Union County, probably painting real board farm dwellings now a far cry from the old log cabin and pole barn days of his youth. It is not known at this writing which Union County Grubbs of that period were related to him, but, his wife Cynthia Ann's married siblings were living, or had lived in Union County - Isabella Westlake, Jane Wells, and William M. Her brother Edward, however, had moved on to Logan County (1850 - Lake Twp.) and his widow Maria and his children still resided in that County in 1860 (Pleasant Twp).

WILLIAM GREGG
MARY GOLDSBERRY

WILLIAM GREGG born ca 1785, place unknown. Died September 30, 1846 at Marysville, Union County, Ohio, at the age of 61 years.

WILLIAM GREGG married MARY GOLDSBERRY, daughter of JOHN W. GOLDSBERRY and SALLY POTTS, originally from Philadelphia, Pa. Date and place of marriage unknown.

The History of Union County, Ohio by W.H.Beers & Co., 1883, states that about 1827, WILLIAM GREGG, of Ross County, Ohio purchased and settled on a small farm in Survey 1,913 Union County, Ohio. On June 22, 1829, Lots 100,101,108,109, of the town of Marysville, Union County, Ohio was sold to WILLIAM GREGG, at a price of $6.00.

The children of WILLIAM GREGG and MARY GOLDSBERRY are as follows:

ISABELLA GREGG: Born ca June 3,1808-10 in Kentucky. She married first ZEPHANIA WESTLAKE November 11, 1829 in Union County, Ohio. He was the son of Samuel Westlake and Elizabeth Reed. Zephania Westlake died in Union County, Ohio prior to 1840. I believe date to be ca July, 1838. At least one child was born to this union, MARY JANE WESTLAKE who married JACOB GRABIEL. ISABELLA GREGG WESTLAKE married DANIEL F. WRIGHT, October 13, 1840, Union County, Ohio. 1850 United States Census of Logan County, Ohio, Dis.87, Rushcreek Twp., No.#444697 shows DANIEL WRIGHT and ISABELLA with children, Mary, Reuben, Mary, Wm., Lucinda & Eliza. Same census shows next door in home of Nathaniel and Catherine Monroe, a D.F.Wright age 10, and Elizabeth Westlake age 16. (Could this Catherine be the same as Mary Goldsberry Gregg, the mother of Isabella and remarried after the death of William Gregg, or another relative? Her age would be ca 60 years).

EDWARD GREGG: He married Maria Campbell, July 8, 1830, Union County, Ohio. 1850 census of Logan County, Ohio shows EDWARD GREGG to be 38 years of age, which would make him having been born ca 1812. 1850 census shows being born in Pa., believe this to be in error, believe he was also born in Kentucky. MARIA was born ca 1812. They had at least five children and perhaps more. Peninah born ca 1838; William Arthur born ca 1840; Caroline born ca 1845, Eveline born ca 1847; Oliver born ca 1849. EDWARD GREGG must be deceased by the 1860 Logan County, Ohio Census, as he is not listed with MARIA GREGG. Also the name of Calvin may be a son born ca 1834 as he is listed in the 1860 with Maria Gregg. Caroline is not listed with her mother in this census. 1860 census must be in error in listing the age of William Arthur which shows him to be 10 years of age, the same as the 1850 census.

JAMES GREGG: Married ELIZA BEAR, September 7, 1836. Nothing else known about him.

CYNTHIA ANN GREGG: Born November 6, 1820, Ohio. Married first BENJAMIN C. GRUBB, June 23, 1837, Union County, Ohio. They had ten children; Benjamin died in the Civil War; Cynthia married second JOHN FLEMING, October 29, 1868, Union County, Ohio. No children was born to this union. CYNTHIA ANN died February 4, 1892 at Utopia, Greenwood County, Kansas. The names of her children by BENJAMIN C. GRUBB is as follows: Mary Eliza Grubb

STORY OF

BILLY (WILLIAM H.) GRUBB (FL 4)

AND HIS WIFE MATTIE L. (MARTHA LUDICE) GREEN (FL 6)

Parents of May Grubb Dodd (1876-1949)
and Grandparents of LEONARD EDGAR DODD (1903-1937)

Billy Grubb (William Henry) was born Oct. 8, 1844 in Ohio in either Logan or Union County. His parents were Benjamin C. Grubb and Cynthia Ann Gregg, married June 23, 1837 at Marysville, Ohio. Both parents had been born in Ohio in 1820 - Benjamin C. in Union County, and Cynthia Ann at Marietta in Washington County.

Billy was the third of ten children born to them; all ten grew to adulthood which in itself was unusual in those days of high infant mortality.

Billy's father was a chairmaker in 1850 and a painter in 1860. In 1862, one year after Billy's own enlistment, Benjamin C., age 43 and the father of ten living children, enlisted in the Union army as a private for a term of three years. Father and son went off to war to fight for the Union, both in Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry. Benjamin C. never came back, laying down his life in Mississippi, close to Vicksburg. His remains were interred Grave 291 of Sec. E in the military cemetery at Vicksburg. In 1868, Billy's mother remarried - to a John Fleming of Marysville; she died in Kansas in 1892.

The Ohio census of both 1850 and 1860 show Billy attending school although at 15 he was big enough to be listed as "farm laborer" in 1860 as well. He must have hired out to area farmers to "help out", as the custom was.

As a mere boy Billy was converted, a religious experience described in those days as warm-hearted piety, involving repentance and a confession faith. Perhaps the experience occurred at a camp meeting in a farmer's grove, or perhaps at a protracted meeting in some schoolhouse, or maybe in the hewn log church before the special meeting house was built for God in rural Union County. In any case Billy soon thereafter joined the Methodist Church, and remained a life long religious man.

Billy Grubb in the Civil War

When 16 year old Billy Grubb enlisted in the Union army on August 19, 1861 at Jerome, Union County, Ohio he did not know what war was all about. In the next 4 years, his unit - Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry - would be in 20 different engagements from West Virginia to Louisiana, from Maryland to Alabama.

Lincoln's Grand Army of the Republic recruited many a western lad like Billy, young, handy with ax and rifle, and good on his feet for incredible marches required over difficult terrain.

Sept. 2 Private Billy Grubb's regiment arrived in Clarksburg, W. Va. In Weston, after being properly outfitted in blue, knapsack and dog tent, Billy joined Gen. Rosecrans at Sutton Heights; his first battle sounds were heard near Gawley River, at Carnifex Ferry on Sept. 6; here Co. E lost its first man.

Billy turned 17 in Oct. On Christmas day his regiment held its first dress parade at Fayetteville far from his Ohio home; then it served in detachments here and there for 8 months.

He was still a boy; growing up would come later after his father Benjamin C. joined Co. E in August, 1862. Their first major engagements with the enemy were in Sept. in the hills of Maryland - at South Mountain and three days later at Antietam. Here McClellan's 87,000 men engaged in a series of powerful attacks on Lee's 50,000, at the end of which the Grubbs - father and son fighting side by side - knew what war was about. It was hell; at South Mountain alone Co. E had 6 wounded and one killed in action. Antietam saw ~~two more~~ a UNION VICTORY. EVEN SO ON THAT DAY GEN. McCLELLAN LOST 2000 KILLED IN BATTLE, ~~wounded~~. AND 10,000 WOUNDED (of these, 1000 WOUNDED DIED of BATTLE WOUNDS). BUT OUR GRUBBS SURVIVED!

In Jan. 1863, the 30th Ohio journeyed down the Ohio and Mississippi on high waters (much rain fell that winter), joining Grant's army at Helena, Ark., and was assigned to the Second Division of the 15th Army Corps. The Grubbs' first assignment was with pick and shovel in an alligator infested Louisiana swamp - digging a canal above Vicksburg which was supposed to float Grant's army in from above the city.

In March the regiment had to move over into Steele's Bayou to rescue gunboats stranded in some mean waters made thus by Confederates felling huge trees ahead of them to block the channel. Rebel sharpshooters opened fire on the rescue parties. The attempt tc raach the impregnable Vicksburg that way was abandoned. The regiment went back to Young's Point, to the canebrakes and the alligators, to continue work on Grant's big ditch.

While at this task Billy's 43 year old father fell ill, of swamp-induced quick consumption. He died in the regiment hospital 10 miles upstream at Milliken's Bend, Miss., and was later buried at Vicksburg after the toally unexpected seige of 47 days. But Vicksburg had yet to fall when the boy Billy heard of his father's death that 9th day of May, 1863.

The war must go on. Abandoning his ditches, hopeless from the outset, Grant marched his army on the west side of the Mississippi River through bayous roaring with bull alligators - to a place 25 miles below Vicksburg. Navy gunboats succeeded running the gauntlet of Rebel batteries - in the dark of night. Commandeered steamboats ferried the troops across, and the army at last was able to live off the fat of the delta lands as it moved on northward to join up with Sherman's army.

The troops thought Vicksburg would be easy pickings as the batteries boomed on May 19; the attack failed. In the battle of May 22, Grant lost 3,000 and gained little.

The 30th Ohio was constantly on picket duty, or engaged in assaulting the enemy's virtually impregnable breastworks for 47 days. Soldiers' clothes never came off their backs for four weeks. Thirteen miles of Union trenches connected Chickasaw Bluff to the great river rolling along too far away for most troops to even quench their thirst from its muddy waters.

On dull days the troops sand-bagged their trenches for added protection while Grant drank heavily at his steamer headquarters. Fever and ague were constant companions in the trenches. Confederate sharpshooters scored daily. Lines drew tighter.

Once on a quiet day some Union boys inpulsively scrambled out of the trenches to fraternize with the Rebs who, wearied of mule meat for breakfast, were picking blackberries. All shook hands, then their officers barked commands and both sides went back to firing as if nothing happened.

In Vicksburg on July 3 when food supplies ran out, the white flag went up; the Confederate flag came down. Grant had 31,00 prisoners; he paroled most and sent them home. As soon as the surrender ceremonies ended, the men of the two opposing armies mingled together on friendly terms. The Confederates got bacon for supper, instead of mule.

At Vicksburg, Billy's major who had organized Co. E in Union County, Ohio an eternity or so ago, was wounded as was his corporal; two privates like himself were wounded and one was killed. Billy's brother-in-law Ashley (sister Amanda's husband) with the 96th Ohio caught a piece of shell at Vicksburg; Ashley had 4 brothers also in the Union army.

Billy had to leave his father dead in Mississippi to engage in the pursuit of Gen. Johnston to Jackson. Now with Sherman's Army of the Tennessee, the regiment moved on Chattanooga. Billy, just turned 18, engaged in the assault on Missionary Ridge at this place. A couple days before the battle an eerie eclipse of the moon seemed to spell an omen to the troops, but for whom?

The Ridge was a steep rampart angling toward the Tennessee River; Confederate batteries ruled its impregnable crest while the Federals - Grant and Rosecrans, both Ohio men, and Pap Thomas' Cumberlands - held the valley below. The two opposing forces had been in position for two months when Sherman arrived with Billy's regiment in Nov.

The army proceeded to hammer the north end of the Ridge without success as Rebel marksmen from above held every advantate. One from Billy's Co. E was killed in action here.

Pap Thomas attacked the base of the Ridge, on the other side; his Cumberlands took the first line of trenches (did not stop there as commanded by Grant who smoked his cigar while ordering the assault from Orchard Knob in the valley) but continued to surge upward into gunsmoke clouds. Totally surprised by such audacity, Confederate battalions fled their posts and took off for Georgia. One Confederate slain left behind was a mere boy - 15, barefooted in November, his rations' sack containing but a handful of black beans and roasted acorns.

The next 50 years at G.A.R. reunions old soldiers argued what unit or what men had won the Ridge, as the crest was reached at six places simultaneously.

Gen. Pap Thomas ordered a military cemetery laid out on Orchard Knob. When the chaplain in charge of burial services asked if the Union dead - there were many - were to be buried by states, Thomas, tired of the issue of states' rights - said to "mix 'em up".

Washington orders sent Sherman and the 30th of Ohio - and Billy - to Knoxville to relieve Burnsides' ragged and hungry troops, that had they known it would soon be 'amply supplied' with the 10 freight cars of horseshoes! (For this story, read the chapter on the Dodd brothers' military career, for they were located here with their own Co. E of the 107th Illinois Infantry).

In Jan. 1864, Billy's Ohio company re-enlisted and went home for a well deserved rest.

When Private Billy came home to Jerome for a veteran's furlough that winter, his reunion with the Grubb family must have held a strange mixture of rejoicing and sorrow - rejoicing to be back among loved ones, sorrow for the father never more to see Ohio. How much of Benjamin C.'s sad end in the Louisiana swamps did he relate? Baby brother Benjamin F. was only 4 - too young to understand, but John now 15 (the age of the Confederate boy slain at Missionary Ridge) must have been wide-eyed with whatever war tales Billy chose to tell. Had Billy received his war wound (in the hand) by then, or was it yet to come at Kenesaw Mountain, or the Atlanta campaign, or where?

He saw that his mother was being provided for - with the $8.00 monthly widow's pension for herself and the 5 children yet minors. What a welcome change his mother's suppers were from army rations! And there must have been young girls at Sunday School who shyly looked over their hymn books at the at the young soldier home from the war. All too soon it was over. Back to hardtack and bacon and the infernal booming of batteries.

In May Billy Grubb, rested, joined Sherman once again, now in Georgia. During his march into the Atlanta campaign he was almost continously under fire. Three weeks' rain had turned the roads into quagmires. June 19 he reached the foot of Kenesaw Mountain where the Rebs had prepared an impregnable position. June 27 the assault began. Confederate guns blew the assault column all to pieces, inflicting a loss of 3,000. There was no way to get over Kenesaw Mountain, with its crest held by Southern guns. Co E. lost another private.

Crossing the Chattahoochee, Sherman went on to Atlanta with 90,000 strong. While Gen. Pap Thomas did battle at Peachtree Creek (the Dodd brothers in the 107th Illinois Infantry were engaged in this one, too), Sherman drew his net around Atlanta and settled in to put that little city under siege. It fell Sept. 2; Sherman had succeeded in cutting the railroad linking it to the rest of the South but he did not bag Hood's army. Pap Thomas led the Cumberlands back to Nashville, while Sherman laid plans for his notorious march to the sea.

Co. E of the 30th Ohio suffered its worst casualities at Atlanta - 7 of the little company were killed - the sergeant, two corporals and four privates.

One week after Lincoln's re-election in Nov. of 1864, Sherman's army started toward the sea, living on plantation sweet potatoes and smokehouse hams foraged along the way. They walked - no double-quick marching now - along the red roads, methodically wrecking the Southern economy in a 60 mile wide swath to Savannah, destroying factories and railroads, despoiling fields and civilian property. The "scorched earth" policy was successful; never again could this region serve as a base for s supplies for the Rebels. The Army of the Tennessee had become a destroying angel of vengeance. The South received its lesson that a Union army could cross the Confederacy, at will and at leisure.

In Savannah the Army of the Tennessee commandeered 25,000 bales of priceless cotton for Northern factories, and the diet changed to rice,despicable to corn-fed Western tastes. The hated rice diet ended at Fort McAllister where Co. E sufferen another casualty when the army overwhelmed the Confederates, seizing their supply ships. To this place Sherman's army marched at night by moonlight beside a canal. Perhaps it was the light of a full moon mellowing the pines and live oaks that inspired it, for the tramping soldiers burst into the songs of Stephen Foster - "Swanee River" and "Old Kentucky Home".

Billy Grubb was discharged Dec. 29, 1864; a veteran of numerous battles, he had just turned 20. Of the original company of 106, fewer than two dozen would be discharged at a later date, most mustering out at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Had Billy been able to hang on another 21 weeks, he would have marched with his Co. E down Pennsylvania Ave before the White House to receive Pres. Andrew Johnson's salute in the Unions' victorious parade at war's end. Few remained of the original campany to pass in review that June day in Washington; the most battle-scarred had been discharged earlier, 10 had lost their lives in action, 15 had been seriously wounded (Billy's own wound was considered minor), 28 died including Billy's father of disease contracted in the service, 2 were taken prisoner by the enemy, and no one ever knew what happened to some, perhaps they deserted.

Billy went back to Union County, Ohio to his mother, and brothers and sisters. The family was growing up; between 1865 and 1870 its circle widened through marriage and the arrival of his sisters' children. By 1865 the oldest Mary E. was twice married; she would have 7 children, 5 of these dying in infancy.

Amanda, who married in 1858 before Ashley went to war, had one son, born 1864; Ashley Kightlinger's war wound at Vicksburg had not been serious enough to impede his business of teamstering and contracting. Josephine married in 1865, and sister Cynthia in 1866 who was to name her first son for the Northern hero of the Zouaves - Elmer Ellsworth.

Perhaps the greatest change in the Grubb family came when Billy's widowed mother Cynthia Ann remarried on Oct. 29, 1868 to John Fleming. In order for her minor children to continue to receive their father's military benefits, she made Mattie and Florence and little Benjamin F. wards of her capable son-in-law Ashley Kightlinger; he himself had been orphaned young and was the father of only one child himself.

By 1870 Billy Grubb made his matrimonial choice - the eldest daughter of widow Sarah Cole Green of Leesburg Twp. in Union County. Mattie L. (Martha Ludice) was her name; her father Amos H. Green had died only the year before - a highly respected member of his community.

Billy the veteran was 26 and redhaired Mattie L. nearly 18 when they took their marriage vows at Richwood, May 5, 1870. All their lives Billy (born William Henry) and Mattie L. would be called by their nicknames. Mattie L. was born where she had always lived, near Pharisburg, July 30, 1852.

Billy and Mattie L. farmed in Union County. Here the first 5 of their 7 children children were born: Millard Fillmore 18 ; Henry Harrison 18 ; Mary Anna May 1876; Benjamin

18 ; and Maude Bell 1881. The other two would be born in Kansas.

Just which of the Grubbs came to Kansas first can only be conjectured by this writer. Perhaps it was Arabella who had married James South, for their one child was born there in 1881. They lived in Coffey County; sister Mattie (m. to Alonzo Lawrence) also lived nearby at the same time. By 1891, two more sisters - Josephine (m. to Samuel Burge) and Cynthia (m. to Abe Kightlinger) showed up in Coffey County. By 1890 John and his family arrived to Utopia via Illinois and South Dakota. Florence arrived by 1892 and the youngest Benjamin F. in 1899, both to nearby Greenwood County. The Grubb children's own mother, now Cynthia Ann Fleming, came to Kansas some time for she died in 1892 at Utopia, Kansas.

Billy himself and Mattie L. and their 5 children came to Kansas in 1885 to take up farming in Bachelor Twp. of Greenwood County. It is reported by family members that he purchased a farm of 52 acres for $1800 near Utopia. The census of 1900 shows him still there - farming. Two more children were born - Roy F. 18 ; and Lee (Charles Leland) 1895, Jan 2.

All 7 of Billy's and Mattie L.'s children grew to maturity and married and moved about to follow their own dreams. Millard (m. Eva McMullen) moved to Oklahoma in the early days of the oil boom. Harry (Henry, m. Alice Allen) spent all his days as a Kansas farmer, and his only child Beulah Grubb became one of the largest holders of farming land in that part of Kansas. May (Mary Anna May, m. John Edgar Dodd) became the mother of 8 children (May was the writer's grandmother). Benjamin (m. Edith 18 ; and Maude Dell 1861. The other two would be born in Kansas.

Just which of the Grubbs came to Kansas first can only be conjectured by this writer. Perhaps it was Arabella who had married James Dixon, for their one child was born there in 1881. They lived in Coffey County; sister Mattie (m. to Alonzo Lawrence) also lived nearby at the same time. By 1891, two more sisters - Josephine (m. to Samuel Burge) and Cynthia (m. to Abe Kightlinger) showed up in Coffey County. By 1890 John and his family arrived to Utopia via Illinois and South Dakota. Florence arrived by 1902 and the youngest Benjamin F. in 1899, both to nearby Greenwood County. The Grubb children's own mother, now Cynthia Ann Fleming, came to Kansas some time for she died in 1898 at Utopia, Kansas.

Billy himself and Mattie L. and their 5 children came to Kansas in 1885 to take up farming in Bachelor Twp. of Greenwood County. It is reported by family members that he purchased a farm of 58 acres for $1600 near Utopia. The census of 1900 shows him still there - farming. Two more children were born - Roy E. (8) and Lee (Charles Leland) 1879, [illegible]

All 7 of Billy's and Mattie L.'s children grew to maturity and married and moved about to follow their own dreams. Willard (m. Eva McMillen) moved to Oklahoma in the early days of the oil boom. Harry (Henry, m. Alice Allen) spent all his days as a Kansas farmer, and his only child Harlan Grubb became one of the largest holders of farming land in that part of Kansas. May (Mary Anna May, m. John Edgar Dodd) became the mother of 8 children (May was the writer's grandmother). Benjamin (m. Edith Olds) was many years a barber in Eureka, Ks., and perhaps the most like his father Billy. Maude Bell (m. Otto Donaldson) became the mother of 9; she lived the longest, dying in Eureka just 90 days short of her 100th birthday; this Aunt Maude was the one who marshalled forces for our family reunions in Eureka. Roy (m. Blanch Jones) and Lee(m. Mae Glendenning) were both Greenwood County farmers for many years.

Billy and Mattie L. had over 30 grandchildren. One of them was Leonard E. Dodd. But for Billy, Leonard would have been born in a log cabin with a dirt floor in the Cherokee Nation.

Billy's daughter May had married John Edgar Dodd in Kansas in 1898. They had two children (Jesse and Ruby) by 1901. Spring of that year found them in Oklahoma where John Edgar opened a little restaurant among the Indian alotments near Vera, Oklahoma. Timberlands about here had plenty of persimmons and paw paws and rattlers and Indians, but little else in those days. May never saw a white woman for 6 months as she and her aunt Mattie Lawrence (Billy's sister) were the only white females along this section of Caney River. When Aunt Mattie's husband Alonzo died in 1901, May Dodd picked wild flowers in the April woods for the only flowers on his coffin.[3]

When Billy Grubb heard of these primitive conditions, he and his son Benny came down to Oklahoma Territory and took May home to his farm at Utopia for the birth of the baby, her third, a son Leonard E. Dodd (the writer's father), born Jan. 31, 1903. It would be two years before May and John Edgar Dodd would return to Oklahoma - this time to a little cotton farm in Pawnee County farther west.

My father Leonard, of course, did not remember his grandfather who spared him a log-cabin origin for the old soldier died in 1908. For the last year of his life poor health had confined him to his bed as a constant sufferer. He passed away Dec. 21, age 64, at 11 o'clock on a Monday morning at his farm home; his funeral was conducted on Christmas day by Rev. Oliver of Hamilton.

Billy was religious to the end. At the time of his death he was a member of the Free Methodist Church. That conservative denomination had formed back in 1860, partly as a by-product of anti-slavery movement dividing denominations North and South, partly as a protest of growing laxity among Methodists. I have heard Billy spoken of in our family as a "shouting Methodist".

Interment was made in Greenwood Cemetery, Eureka, Kansas. His gravestone still stands - sheltered by one of the ubiquitous cedars in Kansas cemeteries - and on its mossy surface is engraved his loyalty to the Union cause - Co. E, 30th Ohio Infantry. To this day patriots decorate his grave with the American flag as they do all the Union dead on Memorial Day.

My father Leonard came to know his grandmother Mattie L. very well; for many years she lived in the next block north of our home. But before Mattie L. bought the tiny white house at 1115 North Oak in 1928, she sold the Bachelor Twp. farm, and taking her youngest, Lee, went into Utopia to become that village's postmistress.

We often visited Grandma Grubb. She was nearing 80 when I first remembered her - slight, red hair silvered over, spirited in temperment. Her tiny white house in Eureka contained a cookstove, considered old fashioned in Kansas even in 1930. And she used it to cook, for she felt food prepared any other way positively unfit for human consumption. The cooky jar on her table always contained sugar cookies, as I the cooky snitcher can well recall!

There are other early memories about Grandma Grubb - her pride in her membership in the Daughters of Rebekah Lodge, the blue bachelor buttons (we called them ragged robins) that grew alongside the morning glory vine clinging to twine trainers on her front stoop; and, for some reason, a handcrafted rocker she highly prized from her own distant past. I wonder now if it had not been made by Billy's father, the chairmaker.

Mattie L. lived 6 months longer than did my father Leonard, her grandson and neighbor down the street. They were both buried in Greenwood Cemetery, one the day before Thanksgiving, the other the following May. She was laid to rest beside her husband, 68 years and 9 days after she was married to Billy the soldier in Ohio. She was 86.

ENDNOTES AND PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS

1. Personal data was obtained from my aunt Ruby Christopher, Amarillo, Texas; from Ohio Census of 1850 and 1860; from the Civil War service record of Benjamin C. Grubb obtained from Washington D.C. Also from material shared by Sharon Owen, Box 133, Azalea, Oregon, which she assembled Feb. 12, 1983. Mrs. Owen received some her information from Jo Stephens, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Myrtle Williams, Arlington Heights, Illinois; All three are descendants of Benjamin C. Grubb. This packet of materials contained some interesting documentation — some clippings and records concerning these progenitors: Grubb, Green, Gregg, and Goldsberry.

2. Civil War material is gleaned from the Union County of the 30th Ohio Infantry, particularly Co. E; from the historical writings of Pulitzer Prize winner Bruce Catton noted for his moving analysis of the Civil War; from a college text written by one of my history professors at the University of Illinois, Richard N. Current.

3. This story comes from the children of these principals - Walter Lawrence, son of Mattie Lawrence, and from Ruby Christopher, daughter of May Dodd.

company (approx. 120 men and officers) raised in his home community. The company then went to a state training camp where it joined other units. At the conclusion of basic training, ten companies were banded together as a regiment and mustered into service. The regiment then received orders assigning it to duty in the field.

Military records of these former servicemen are available from the National Archives, Washington, D. C. Generally, records will include a photostat copy of his enlistment and discharge papers, plus information about battles he may have been in, wounds, places of imprisonment if he was a captive of the enemy, payments received, and other pertinent information. In most instances, some extremely interesting historical data will be found.

The Bluestem Genealogical Society has a supply of the forms which must be used in applying for records from the Archives, and they are available at the Historical Museum in Eureka. For photocopying the military records, the Archives makes a charge of $5.00.

An Old Soldier Passes Away.

William H. Grubb, old soldier and and old settler, died at his home near Utopia at 11 a. m. Monday, Dec. 21, 1908, of sciatic rheumatism, aged 64 years and two months. He has been ill for the past two years and for the last year has been confined to his bed a constant sufferer. He came to Kansas in 1885 and his family grew up and was educated in Greenwood county. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his death. The children are Millard and Benjamin Grubb and Mrs. May Dodd, of Oklahoma; Harry Grubb, of Burlington, Kas; Roy Grubb, of Emporia; Mrs. Maud Donaldson and Lee Grubb, of Greenwood county. The deceased served during the Civil War in Co. E. 30th Ohio Inf. He was a member of the Free Methodist church and lived a consistent Christian life. Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. J. H. Oliver, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Hamilton, were held at the Utopia school house, Wednesday, Dec. 24 at 11 a. m. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery where the ritual service of the G. A. R. was observed in charge of Dick Yates Post No. 50.

Hello Gladys,

I am Ken Herman and I know George Mills recently contacted you and I am writing in response to his contact.

I began doing research about five years ago and another Kightlinger researcher gave me 69 pages of printed family research...what a great gift.

My mother was Mary Katherine Kightlinger and I always knew I was a Kightlinger. Upon doing research I discovered that my great-grandfather married Cynthia Ann Grubb and here I am a Grubb as well.

You probably know a lot of what I am going to tell you, so sit right down and I'll tell you a story!

- Don Carey was the son of my G-Grandfather's daughter Bertha Gertrude Kightlinger.

- Benjamin C. Grubb married Cynthia Ann Gregg and they had eleven children together, 10 surviving to adulthood. consisting of three boys and seven girls..

- My G-G-Grandfather , Abraham and his wife reared a large family in an adjacent township in Union County, Ohio. Two of his sons married Grubb sisters: Ashley married Amanda Grubb and my G-Grandfather, also Abraham, married Cynthia Grubb. and another boy, Sam Burge- also near-by married Josephine Grubb. Josephine and Sam's daughter, Mary Florence married Charles Knoblock and they lived in/near Coffey County, Kansas. Coffey County is quite near Greenwood County Kansas where so many of the Grubbs lived and that is where Utopia is located.

- Nicholas and Helen Payne Hepner were the parents of my Grandmother Ida Mae Hepner. She married my Grandfather, Elmer Kightlinger in Kansas 27 Nov 1890. Their daughter, Elnora, married Benjamin C. Grubb's youngest son, Benjamin F Grubb in 1895 in Utopia, Greenwood County, Kansas

I have (probably?) attached WAY too much genealogy data but you know how these genealogists are.

1. A letter written to Don Carey by Dorothy E. Stanley Oct 16, 1997

2. A letter written to Don Carey by Art Dwelley Oct 8, 1997.

3. Family History Data:

- My paternal great-grandfather, Nicholas Reynolds Hepner
- Nick's daughter, my grandmother, Ida Mae Hepner (married Elmer Kightlinger)
- My maternal great-great-grandfather, Benjamin C Grubb
- Ben's daughter, my great-grandmother, Cynthia Ann Grubb (mother of Elmer Kightlinger)

I hope for two things:
1. That the information is clearly labeled, and
2. That the information is informative and not TOO boring.

Gladys, I hope I can count on you to notify me of any corrections that I can make in this family tree data.

Nice talking to you in this letter.

ART DWELLEY'S LETTER TO DON CAREY dated Oct 8, 1997

The following letter was written to Donald Meredith Carey b. 5 Jun 1906, Kansas. Don's mother was Bertha Gertrude Kightlinger b. 18 Oct 1875, Illinois. She was a daughter of my GGF Abraham I. Kightlinger which also made her a sister of my grandfather, Elmer Ellsworth Kightlinger b. 8 Jul 1868 OH. Don and I share a GGGFather, Abraham Kightlinger, although there is a generation between Don & me.

The letter was written by Art Dwelley b. 6 Feb 1930, Washington. Art was the son of Helen Lyle Grubb b. 16 Jun 1910, Washington. Helen's mother was Elnora Cecelia (Nora Celia) Hepner Grubb b. 26 Sep 1875, Pennsylvania. One of Elnora's sisters was my grandmother, Ida Mae Hepner Kightlinger b. 13 Jul 1872, Pennsylvania.

Elnora's husband was Benjamin F. 2 Grubbb b. 1 Nov 1860, Ohio. Ben was the youngest member of a large family. One sister, Amanda J. Grubb Kightlinger b. 7 Jul 1840 married Ashley Kightlinger b. 15 Oct 1835, Ohio. Amanda's sister, Cynthia Ann Grubb Kightlinger b. 5 Sep 1851 married Ashley's brother Abraham I. Kightlinger b. 15 May 1841, Ohio. Ashley's brother, Abraham was my Great-great-grandfather.]

So, while it took me a time to embrace the fact that I am a Grubb, I am a Grubb twice- Once via my 1 GGMother Cynthia Grubb Kightlinger and next via 2 Ben F. Grubb's marriage to my Grandmother's sister Elnora Hepner.

OK, here's the letter:

Dear cousin Don,

Received your letter today and am still digesting the information you sent. It was just as well that there was a delay in sending it as my wife and I were back East for a month visiting relatives and traveling around. All told we visited 10 states and four Canadian provinces. We had a great time but were 34 years late in visitng Niagara Falls.

I hope you are feeling better now. I've often wondered about Utopia, Kansas and what it is like. If I read your material correctly, one of your uncles married Ida Hepner, who was my Grandmother's sister. They were both daughters of Nicholas and Helen Hepner who lived in that same general area. Nick was a peddlar who went from farm to farm selling various items and doing some trading down into Indian Territory.
(Note: Indian Territory was the name of Oklahoma prior to statehood on 16 Nov 1907.)

According to my Aunt Marie he was quite a character.

I am sending a descendants chart and pedigree chart of my connection and also some material I received over the internet from a lady in San Diego. (I had her internet address, but lost it when my hard drive crashed.) She seems to think the Grubb family came from Maryland to Ohio and she may be correct. Pinning down Benjamin Srs. parents is the tough part, but it is interesting that the name Abarilla is tied to Maryland families. That is not a common name.

As I said, I'm still haven't been all through the material you sent, but will work on it and feed it into the computer.

Also enclosed are pictures of Benjamin Grubb Jr. and my Grandmother and my Mother (when she was about 20) and of Nicholas and Helen Hepner. I don't know anything about the lady in Oregon or how she fits into the Grubb picture. I was sad to hear that Jo Stephens had passed away. She sent me a lot of good information. I would like Gladys Dodd's address if you have it.

Will close for now. Keep in touch and I'll get back to you later.

Regards,

Art\

Gladys, I received this and the other letter from Don Carey's daughter Pat. I sure was surprised at all the family connections outlined in these letters

Donald M. Carey
5316 South 70th East Place
Tulsa, OK 74145

Dear Donald,

Thank you for your recent letter inquiring about the Grubbs. While it has been a little while since I researched this line, I am definitely still interested in them.

My grandfather's sisters began researching Missouri Amanda Grubb's line back in 1940 in the hope of joining the DAR. They were unable to determine who Missouri's parents were and eventually gave up on making any connection to the Revolutionary War. I took up the research about 5 years ago after finding all their research papers in my grandfather's files after his death. I'm embarrassed to admit that most of their "work" was fabricated and won't even bore you with the details. I attempted to find the documents to back up their work and discovered that not a one checked out. I have been in contact with several Grubb researchers (I have enclosed an address list for you.) and we have come to the conclusion that Benjamin C., Jane H. and Missouri Amanda must have been siblings. They were all born in or near Mechanicsburg, named their children similar names and none of these 3 can be connected to any of the other Grubb families in the area. The ONLY clue anyone has found as to the identity of their parents is a copy of an indenture contact printed in the book "History of Champaign County, Ohio" (copy enclosed). It states that [Missouri] Amanda's father was Abarilla Grubb. Unfortunately, this doesn't make much sense. As far as I have been able to tell, Abarilla has always been a woman's name. It is a variation of Abigail and was very common in Maryland and Virginia around the year 1800. It appears to me based on all the research I did (mounds of paperwork at this point!) that this Grubb family must have run into some serious problems when the children were young. I have also enclosed a copy of a section from the book "History of Mechanicsburg, Ohio" (sorry for the poor quality - it was printed from a microfilm copy of the book) where it mentions the Grubb children in a section on the indenture of children. It says "Among the poor children who were thus bound out we find a family by the name of "Grubb." But on turning to another page of the book it was seen that this family was warned by the authorities to leave town for fear they would become a charge upon it..." I gathered from all this that it was likely the husband died and the mother was unable to raise the children on her own and also Civil War vet. as

was Benj. F.

I doubt this.

John Fleming

was forced to indenture them. (Also enclosed is a copy of a poem written by Jane Grubb describing her sad childhood...) Or she remarried and the new husband did not want to raise her children by another man. (This happened to Benjamin & Cynthia's son, Benjamin F. Cynthia's second husband did not want him around and he was sent to a Civil War orphans home in Xenia, Ohio.) I have tried repeatedly to track down the Goshen Township Clerk's Record Book of 1837 that contains these indentures. Unfortunately, it looks as if it has been relegated to someone's attic or destroyed entirely. I've also researched endless court records, land records, census records, corresponded with the Champaign County Genealogical Society numerous times, written to the current and previous Goshen Township Clerks and kept my fingers crossed until I was afraid they would stay that way. And, still nothing! I know the names of the parents have to be out there somewhere. One clue I found more on recently and which may be our only hope is the name of a family plantation that Missouri Amanda talked about to her children. This name was similar to Ravenswood or Ravensport and was passed down in family stories. I have relatives that have tried over the years to locate a plantation or town with this name, but never found a definite connection. I did find a town in WV and a town in Nodaway Co., Missouri named Ravenwood (could be why she was given the name Missouri...), but found absolutely no evidence of the Grubbs having lived there. I mentioned this to our "cousin", Steve Knoblock (desc. of Josephine Grubb), who told me that there is an area in Fairfax Co., VA named Ravensworth (I have enclosed his message along with the print-out of the descendants of Christian Grub - we suspect that this is our line, but have absolutely no proof). Census records indicate that Missouri's father was born in Virginia, so I'm hoping this may be the connection we've been looking for. Now all I have to do is get back to the Family History Library and see what I can find on the area. I was married several weeks ago, so genealogy has been on the back burner for a little while! Now that things have settled down a little bit (do they ever settle down entirely?) I'm anxious to get back to it with my new laptop that I got as a wedding present.

BENJ. F.

+ Cynthia
Grubb

I'm afraid I can be a little long winded when it comes to this subject, so out of fear of putting you to sleep I will wind down. I did enclose a few things from my Grubb file for you. I don't want to bury you (or the mailman) alive by sending everything right off the bat, so I've enclosed what I think might be of interest to you. I also have pension files and many other misc. records for various members of the family. If you're interested in anything else, just let me know and I will make copies for you. In the meantime, please keep me posted on your research and I will do the same. I know the information must be out there somewhere and no one has run across it yet. I would love to know what happened to the family, so I'll keep on trying. Keep your fingers crossed!

Sincerely,

Dorothy

END OF VOL. I. – GE Grubb JOURNAL.

Geo ~~E~~. Mills noted in letter – Next Vol. II starts on Geo. E. Grubb's 21st birthday & he + his parents (1876) + family have moved to Sedgwick Co. (Ks.) near Greenwich.

MY OBSERVATIONS: from Mills info – printed by Mills + Grubb Journal.
GEORGE EMERSON (29 Mar 1876 B – ILL – 1 Nov 1952 D – WASH.) seldom mentions siblings – i.e. Rose, d. inf.; Della Pearl b. 1880 – ILL, Lena Myrtle b. 1882 – S.D., Wm. b. 1884 – S.D., Frank b. 1886 – S.D., Hattie b. 1888 – S.D., Arthur b. 1891 – KS., Paul b. 1895 – KS. – all children of John Wesley Grubb (1849 – 1910) + SARAH (1854 – 1923) who married Mar 30, 1875 in Ill. & d. Langley Is., Wash. It appears Geo. E. spent much of his time at neighbors + kin, ate meals there, + slept overnight there. GEO. E. GRUBB – m. Jan 1 – 4

George Grubb. Utopia, Ks. 1896.

Jan. 1 Wednesday. — George S. and I are at Mr. Rorks visiting Harry G. In the morning we went boat riding on the Neosho and skating on a pond. After dinner George Harry and I went to Burlington. When we got there Virgil, Pearl and Myrtle were at Aunt Cynthia's. George and I took our horses over to Uncle Sam's. Then us boys went to Uncle Jims for supper. After supper we went to see a play called the "The Tallow Candle" at the Midland Opera House. After the "Opera" we went to a Masquerade Ball at the Hamilton Opera House. George and I stayed all night at Uncle Jim's and Harry went out to Mr Rorks.

Jan. 2. Thursday. — We went over to Uncle Sam's in the morning to water and feed our horses. Then we went over to Aunt Cynthia's. Virgil Pearl, Myrtle and Edith were getting ready to go out to Uncle Lou's. After staying there a little while we went down town, then we we went over after our horses took them over to Aunt Cynthia's, hitched Punch up to the Buggy, went up to Uncle Jims and ate our dinner. After dinner we drove out to Mr. Rorks, stayed there long enough to get warm, then we drove over to Strawn, stayed there a little while, then we went over to Charley's and stayed all night. We arrived a little after dark.

Jan 3 Friday. — We started home about half past nine. Stopped at the Verdigris and fed our horses, built a fire and got warm. Stopped in Madison about half an hour. Arrived at Fan's about half past four. Uncle Lou was there. We stayed all night.

82 Bement dedication - details wrong (1858) not 1948, but 1958 was Doug-Linc debate Centennial. Not at U of I - not plymouth ??? (Rambler) 1958?. Marilyn Monroe - is that a stage name.
Add Lincoln lawsuit re Thos. vandalism in End Note in this chapter. [Have added 1/23/2011 printed note describing this in detail. To be typed] Check Johnson story on this as well. ~~Is~~ / this ~~chapte~~ story spun of Gossamer. Did local news bear out this story? (Debates were Aug-Oct, 1858; agreement made at F.C. Bryant home! no —, 1958?
